Polio Shots Available To Staters Under 20

Students under 20 years old can receive their first polio shot free from Student Health, Dr. B. W. Lafene, head of the hospital, said. However, the student must have written permission from his parents.

The state issued free vaccine to Student Health for 300 first injections. Dr. Lafene stated that when the supply of free vaccine is depleted, the hospital will buy commercial vaccine and students will pay for the vaccine at cost.

After the first shot, a period of one month must elapse before the second injection and a period of one year before the final shot. Second and third shots will come from commercial vaccine and will cost approximately 85 cents.

During the first week of August a total of 364 injections were given at Student Health service. Since September 1, 102 first injections and 126 second injections have been given. This does not include, however, the shots given during enrollment. Dr. Lafene stated that 240 students signified by letter that they planned to receive the first injection during enrollment.

"We consider it the best and cheapest health insurance of its nature that has been available for a long time. We are happy to take part in preventing polio among college students. We encourage everyone to obtain the shots for their own sake. It is illogical to take any chances of having this illness, he said.

Gamma Phi Beta Sorority To Organize Colony Here

Gamma Phi Beta, national women's social sorority, will start colonizing on the K-State campus in October, according to Karla Baur, HE Sr, who was selected by the sorority's national organization to lead the colonization movement.

Gamma Phi Beta will be the first sorority to come to K-State since Alpha Chi Omega started a chapter in 1947.

Colonization by the sorority was made possible when the Faculty Council on Student Affairs recently approved an invitation to the sorority to colonize here. Gamma Phi Beta will be the ninth social sorority to have a chapter here.

The sorority will have interviewing sessions in October to select girls to form the colony. Special permission has been granted to permit the new sorority to rush girls after rush week. This is not ordinarily allowed.

Both freshmen and upperclass women will be interviewed, the girls themselves applying for the interviews.

Collegian Anticipates Top Year for K-State

THE COLLEGIAN wishes to take this opportunity in the first issue to welcome all K-Staters for the 1956-57 school year, a year that promises to be the best in all of K-State's 94 years of existence.

This year K-Staters can point with pride to their new Student Union which is entering its first full year of operation. Groundbreaking for a new men's dormitory to be located on the northern part of the Elliot Courts tract is tentatively scheduled to take place this fall. The All-Faith Memorial chapel is ready for full use, the Animal Industries building at the Northeast corner of the campus is well on the way to completion, the married housing apartments will be ready for occupancy in November barring unforeseen difficulties, and many other new buildings are in the planning stage.

FRATERNITIES and sororities are headed for a top year. One of the largest groups of coeds ever went through rush a week ago and fraternities also entertained large numbers of rushees. The Greeks are doing their share of building with several new houses completed, others under construction, and some planned for future construction. Others have finished building new additions to their present houses and have done extensive remodeling.

The Collegian also will try to do its bit to make this year a good one. We've brought Bibler's "Little Man on the Campus" back again and will be doing our best to aid Pogo's campaign for President. We have started an activities column to provide readers with knowledge of every event of importance on the campus.

We'll be striving to bring complete and objective news coverage to the Collegian pages and will offer a wide variety of feature material and pictures.

OF COURSE we'll need the help of all K-Staters to achieve our goals. We welcome any news items, criticisms, or suggestions that will enable us to put out a better paper. Our letters to the editor column is open to anyone who cares to comment by this method. Just make sure that the letters are not longer than 250 words and are signed. As in the past years we reserve the right to edit all letters to conform to public law and to the standards of decency and taste upheld by most newspapers.

Editorially speaking we feel that the Collegian is a newspaper first and foremost for K-State students. We'll speak up when we feel something is happening that is not in the best interest for the students and applaud when the interests of students are being served.

AS WITH most college newspapers the Collegian always has room for students who desire to work on the paper. We always need more reporters, proof readers, advertising salesmen, etc.

Drop around and see us, anytime.—gfv

McCain Says New Student Union Gives Added Zest to College Life

It is a great pleasure to welcome new students and old to the campus of Kansas State college for the start of another academic year. With your arrival our entire community, which becomes literally a deserted village each August, takes on new life and a bustle of activity which is stimulating to all of us.

This fall in particular our new Student Union building gives added zest to the reopening of College. As we acquire more experience in the operation of the Union, it is certain to become increasingly a major asset to campus life, socially, culturally, and educationally. I have already had the pleasure of greeting numbers of you at the reception for freshmen and their parents and in the hallways and on sidewalks about the campus. As the year progresses, I hope to have the opportunity to make the personal acquaintance of many, many more.

So, welcome back to K-State and may the 1956-57 year prove a most happy and rewarding experience for all of you.

Sincerely yours,

James A. McCain

Rules for '56-'57 Class Attendance

Rules for class attendance, as modified by the K-State Senate and announced by A. L. Pugsley, dean of academic administration, are printed below for the information of new students at K-State. They are:

ABSENCES—Each student is expected to attend all meetings of the classes to which he is assigned.

EXCUSING ABSENCES—Absences may be excused only by the student's dean. A student who misses classes while under the care of student health will be issued an excuse from those classes by his dean on recommendation by the director of Student Health. It is desirable, where possible, that excuses be obtained in advance of the absence. The student's dean will notify the instructor of excused absences. The student is permitted to make up work missed during excused absences.

ABSENCES FOR ACTIVITIES—Each student who will be absent to participate in out-of-town or other College-sponsored activities must submit to his coach or sponsor of the event a complete form for each of his classes (Excuse Absence Notification to Instructor, obtained at the College Post Office). The coach or sponsor will compile a list of students authorized to make the trip on a separate sheet (Absence Notification to Deans) and present a copy of it and the Absence Notification to Instructors to the respective offices of the academic deans concerned at least 24 hours in advance of departure.

EXCESSIVE ABSENCES—A student may be withdrawn from a course by his dean for excessive absences. After due warning to both students and parents, the dean may report persistent absentees to the President with recommendation for suspension from the College.

OPTIONAL ATTENDANCE—Seniors have optional attendance. Juniors with a 2.0 grade point average the preceding semester have optional attendance. Summer school does not enter into this calculation. Instructors are not required to allow students to make up class work missed as a result of the exercise of this privilege. Abuse of the optional attendance privilege may result in loss of the privilege upon the recommendation of the instructor and at the discretion of the student's dean.

ABSENCE THE DAY BEFORE OR AFTER A HOLIDAY OR STUDENT RECESS—A dean's excuse will be granted only in case of emergency. Instructor's will not grant excuses. All classes must convene as usual.

French Claim 79 Rebels Die In Eastern Algeria Skirmish

Algiers, Algeria (U.P.)—French paratroopers caught up with a large rebel band in eastern Algeria yesterday and killed 79 in a savage fire-fight, French officials announced today.

The clash took place near Djebel Bou Arif, about 45 miles south of Constantine. A large amount of guns, ammunition and grenades were recovered.

France, meantime, took its first step toward returning Algeria to civil control. The military commander in the Kabylie area about 200 miles east of Algiers turned over the reins of civil government to the new prefect.

U.S. Airmen's Bodies Released to Britain

Tokyo, (U.P.)—Communist China announced today it had handed over to the British two bodies recovered from the U. S. Navy patrol plane shot down by red fighters off the Chinese mainland August 23.

They were identified as those of William F. Haskins of Westport, Conn., and Jack A. Curtis of Kosse, Tex., both enlisted men previously identified by the U. S. Navy as among the 16 men abroad the American patrol craft.

A red Chinese broadcast said the bodies were handed over to the British charge d'affaires in Shanghai Wednesday.

Altogether, the bodies of four crewmen who served aboard the navy plane have now been recovered.

The body of Albert Perry Matson, aviation electronics technician, Delta, Ohio, was recovered

amid wreckage of the plane by the U. S. destroyer Dennis J. Buckley on August 24, the day after the plane was shot down.

The body of Lieutenant Commander James W. Ponsford, Long Beach, Calif., was recovered by the destroyer Taussig on August 29.

Pilots Doubt Success Of West's Canal Plan

Port Said, Egypt, (U.P.)—Most foreign pilots of the Suez canal were skeptical today of success of the western plan for an international "canal users association."

Veteran pilots pointed out that with Egyptians in control of the waterway they could refuse to make the complicated signaling procedures available to pilots from the outside, and could withhold weather and canal condition reports which are vital for ships passing through the channel.

"This comes as a complete surprise to us," said a senior French official of the old Suez Canal company. "But we're pulling out anyway."

Representatives of the foreign employees said they expected their walkout Saturday to be almost 100 per cent effective, with only Greeks and a handful of Europeans possibly holding out.

Traffic Violators To Receive Tickets Starting Today—Bagley

Tickets will be issued to traffic violators starting today, Professor E. S. Bagley, traffic control committee chairman, said.

Beginning Monday, tickets will be issued for improper display of identification stickers. The parking decals should be placed along the lower edge in the center of the rear window.

In convertibles and other open vehicles, the stickers should be placed on the windshield, in back of the rear-view mirror.

Should a sticker come loose, a new one must be obtained immediately, he said.

Greeks Pledge 79 Per Cent . . .

K-State fraternities and sororities pledged 79 per cent of the men and women who went through rush week this fall.

Twenty-two fraternities pledged a record-breaking 397 men out of the 435 men who were rushed for a percentage of 91. Sororities fell somewhat below this mark with only 67 per cent of the 330 coeds pledging.

Delta Tau Delta led the fraternities with a pledge class of 32. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was a close second pledging 30 and Beta Theta Pi was third with 28 pledges.

Of the eight sororities participating in rush week Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Delta Delta tied for top honors with pledge classes of 32. Alpha Delta Pi was third with 31.

The 222 girls pledged falls short of the 247 girls pledged last year despite a record number of girls who went through rush.

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

Today I begin the third year of writing this column for Philip Morris Cigarettes, and I am merry in my heart.

I am merry for several reasons. First, because I am being paid.

Not, let me hasten to state, that an emolument was necessary. "Sirs," I said a few days ago to the makers of Philip Morris, who underneath their dickeys are as friendly as pups and twice as cute, "Sirs," I said to this winsome assemblage, "there is no need to pay me for writing this column. If I can introduce America's college men and women to Philip Morris's natural tobacco goodness, if I can inaugurate them into the vast sodality of Philip Morris smokers and thus enhance their happiness, heighten their zest, upgrade their gusto, magnify their cheer, broaden their bliss, augment their glee, and increase their PQ—"

"PQ?" said the makers, looking at me askance.

"Pleasure Quotient," I explained.

"Ah!" said the makers, nodding their sweet, shaggy heads.

"If," I continued, "I can do these splendid things for the college population of America, there is no need for money, because I am more than amply repaid."

We wept then. I am not ashamed to say it. WE WEPT! I wish the wiseacres who say big business is cold and heartless could have been there that day. I wish they could have witnessed the deep, croaking sobs that racked the gathering, the great, shimmering tears that splashed on the boardroom table. We wept, every man-jack of us. The makers wept. The secretaries wept. I wept. My agent, Clyde Greedy, wept. We wept all.

"No, no!" cried one of the makers, whose name is Good Sam. "We insist on paying you."

"Oh, all right," I said.

Then we laughed. The gloom passed like a summer shower. We all laughed and chose up sides and played stoop-tag and had steaming mugs of cocoa and lit plump, firm, white cigarettes, brimming full of natural tobacco goodness. I mean Philip Morris, of corris!

Refreshed and exalted, we returned to the business at hand. "Now then," said one of the makers, whose name is Merry Andrew, "what will you write about in your column this year?"

"About students and teachers," I said. "About classes and cutting. About eds and coeds. About Greeks and independents. About the important issues that occupy the supple young minds of college America."

"Like what?" asked one of the makers, whose name is Tol'able David.

"Like how to finance a full social life without a revolver," I replied. "Like how to wear Bermuda shorts though your knees look like brain-coral. Like how to double-date in an MG."

"And will you," asked one of the makers, whose name is Peter-Sit-by-the-Fire, "from time to time say a pleasant word about Philip Morris Cigarettes, which are now available in two sizes—Regular in the familiar Snap-Open Pack, and Long Size in the new Crushproof Box?"

"Crazy kid!" I chuckled, pushing my fist gently against his jaw. "You know I will."

And we all shook hands—silently, firmly, manly—and I left, dabbing at my eyes with my agent, and hurried to the nearest typewriter.

The makers of Philip Morris take pleasure in bringing you this uncensored, free-wheeling column each week during the school year—and also in bringing you today's new Philip Morris, packed with natural tobacco goodness, lip end to lip end.

Cats Work on Defense; Stewart Breaks Finger

With only 31 men able to go full speed, K-State held its final day of double-duty drills Wednesday, paying particular attention to defense.

Coach Bus Mertes surveyed practice casualties as "light but numerous." Junior guard Andy Stewart suffered a broken finger which may hold him out of action when the Wildcats play Oklahoma

A&M September 22. Otherwise, all Wildcats could be back to full strength for the season opener, Mertes said.

Stewart's injury caused a shift in the lineup, moving Don Martin, Clay Center sophomore, back to guard. He was borrowed from that spot only last Friday for use at end.

"We will run a game scrimmage today, work hard both Friday and Saturday, then ease off starting Monday," Mertes explained. "I think we can be ready to play football by the 22nd."

The Wildcat first team lineup now includes ends Don Zadnik and George Laddish, tackles Ellis Rainsberger and Jack Keelan, guards Wally Carlson and Rudy Bletscher, center Chuck Sprinkle, quarterback Keith Wilson, halfbacks Kenny Nesmith and Jerry Hayes, and fullback Ralph Pfeifer.

Returning to duty Wednesday was Jim Luzinski, 6-3, 211-pound sophomore end. A firststringer before being injured early last week, Luzinski will have to beat out George Laddish, junior letterman who is running on the first unit.

Braves Top Bums, Regain First Place

The Milwaukee Braves defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 8-7 Wednesday to recover sole possession of first place in the National league.

The victory saved the Braves from falling out of first place for the first time since they took over June 20.

The Dodgers rocked Milwaukee's ace-right hander, Lew Burdette, for three runs in the first inning but the Braves came back to score four runs in the second inning off Brooklyn starter Don Newcombe, and were never again headed.

The deciding run was scored in the eighth when Bill Bruton's single drove in the winning run. The loss went to Roger Craig, the fourth of the Dodger's six pitchers. The loss gives Craig a 12-10 record. The winning pitcher was Bob Buhl, who worked only two-thirds of an inning to pick up his 17th win of the season. He has only lost eight games this season.

Buhl has beaten Brooklyn eight times this season tying Grover Cleveland Alexander's record of 1916 when he stopped the Cincinnati Reds eight times.

In other major league games Cleveland beat Baltimore 2-1, Detroit beat Washington 3-2, and Boston took over third place in the American league beating Chicago 4-1. Kansas City rocked the Yankees 7-4.

In the senior circuit New York downed Cincinnati 8-0 and Chicago downed Pittsburgh 3-0.

You'll be pleased with a Collegian want ad.

Basilio Defeats Saxton To Regain Welter Title

Carmen Basilio tore into Johnny Saxton, splitting Saxton's lip and racking his body with wicked punches last night to recapture the world welterweight title on a technical knockout in 1:31 of the ninth round in a bloody rout at War Memorial auditorium at Syracuse, N.Y.

Basilio knelt and blessed himself in the center of the ring after referee Al Berl stopped the lopsided struggle with Saxton careening along the ropes near a neutral corner.

Basilio wept as he tasted ample revenge for the loss of his title at Chicago last March 14 when he claimed he was "robbed."

It was an uneven bout with Basilio dominating the action as he drove the out-gunned Saxton from corner to corner.

All three officials scored the fight 7-1 in favor of Basilio after eight rounds, each giving the second to Saxton.

Basilio crumpled Saxton's body with searing punches and shook him up in the fourth. It was the Basilio of old, ever-charging and shifting his fire from body to head as an opening developed.

Basilio's long right to the jaw staggered and almost knocked Saxton down with one minute gone in the ninth. Saxton grabbed weakly at the top strand of the ropes in glassy-eyed retreat. Sensing the kill, the 29-year-old Basilio slammed Saxton to a neutral corner and rocked him with a tremendous flurry of blows.

When Saxton finally escaped from that onslaught, he ran head on into another storm of blows as Basilio chased him into the opposite neutral corner. Saxton gave way and was careening along the ropes in the direction of Basilio's corner when referee Berl stepped between them to stop the fight.

Thus, Basilio joins the ranks of all the others who have won back the welter title after once losing it.

Carmen first won the title by knocking out Tony DeMarco in this same arena, June 10, 1955, defended against DeMarco November 30, 1955, and lost it last March. Saxton had won it from Kid Gavilan at Philadelphia, October 20, 1954, lost it to DeMarco, April 1, 1955, and won it back from Basilio in March.

Ex-Cat Footballer Returns as Coach

Doug Roether, all-Big Seven fullback for K-State last season as a senior, has returned as student coach of the Wildcats.

Roether, who hails from nearby Milford, won a string of honors for his outstanding blocking for the Wildcats. He will work with K-State backs while finishing work for his degree in physical education during the fall semester.

Roether was a near unanimous choice for the Big Seven fullback post last season, being picked on the loop's first team by both the Associated Press and United Press, and named honorable mention All-America by the AP. He played in the Blue-Gray all-star game at Montgomery, Ala., last December, and was voted "most inspirational player" by his K-State teammates at the close of last season.

Hustle, Speed, Desire Key to 1956 KS Wildcat Football Success

Hustle, desire to win ball games, and speed, will be the key to K-State football success this season as one of the smallest Wildcat grid squads since the war grinds toward its season opener against Oklahoma A&M on Saturday, September 22.

Our weakest points right now are lack of depth and experience, Coach Bus Mertes said. This year's team is the lightest I've seen in my four years here, he said.

Right now the team is vulnerable to any minor injury due to lack of replacements, Mertes said. "However, because we're small, we have a strong desire and a good attitude."

Rainsberger has been switched to tackle and is expected to remain there.

Holding down right guard will be Rudy Bletscher, junior letterman who was an honorable mention all-Big Seven and on the AP and UP squads last season.

Mertes has sophomore and junior depth at guard in Bob Schmidt, who won two football letters at Lawrence high; Jaydee Stinson, who earned a trio of grid letters at Lawrence; Andy Stewart; and Bill Pulford, junior from Topeka.

Mertes will have 19 sophomores on the squad which will suit up for the Aggie game. Two star sophomore linemen, right end Jim Luzinski and right tackle Gene Meyer suffered minor injuries and have missed a week of practice.

Craig Jones, sophomore end up from the 1955 Wildcat freshman squad, and Les Krull, sophomore quarterback, are working hard and may be first unit material by the 22nd, Mertes said.

Krull has piloted the first unit in practice sessions during the absence of the injured Dick Corbin. Corbin, a junior and the only letterman at the quarterback slot, was expected to fill the cleats of the graduated Bob Whitehead.

Dick led K-State passing last season throwing left handed. He completed 14 for 42 throws for 156 yards, averaged 2.7 yards a rush and scored a pair of touchdowns.

Turning to the Wildcat opener against Oklahoma A&M, which is less than two weeks away, Mertes said the Aggies will field a much better club this season than the one that the Cats lost to 28-0 last year.

Sixteen Aggie rookies up from an undefeated freshman team are expected to make the trip to Manhattan next Saturday. If one is left unimpressed with an undefeated slate then the fact that A&M frosh tied Oklahoma's yearling squad might serve to illustrate Oklahoma A&M's sophomore power.

The Aggies' starting lineup will also be heavier than K-State's.

Mertes said previous practice sessions haven't produced any injuries serious enough to keep anyone from being ready on the 22nd. However, he said, any injury that keeps a man from practice or from going at full speed cuts down Wildcat chances because of the valuable time lost.

Saturday's full dress scrimmage pointed up a host of defensive errors, Mertes said. "The team as a whole was poor on defense and we're never going to get the ball to score with if we can't stop the opposition defensively."

Recently Big Seven sports writers and a national magazine picked K-State to finish sixth in the Big Seven. This prediction is justified on the basis of the graduates we lost and the smallness of the squad, Mertes said, but the conference race is still wide open from second to seventh place as far as I'm concerned.

If the sophomores come through we will be able to give any team in the Big Seven a good game, he said.

Mertes called the 1956 Wildcat football machine better than that of last season and said he wouldn't trade the group for any other bunch.

Because of the smallness of the squad, this bunch has made more sacrifices than any other I've been associated with.

There were 31 men at practice Wednesday morning but Mertes expects a group of 42 gridgers to be ready for the A&M contest.

"YEH, WE'LL make mincemeat of them, coach," says football captain Ellis Rainsberger (right) to Coach Bus Mertes and alternate captain Kenny Nesmith. Could be the Cats are talking about their first opponent Oklahoma A&M who they will meet September 22.

Thane Baker Training Here For Autumn Olympic Games

Thane Baker, Wildcat track star of 1951-53, is back on the K-State campus training for his second appearance with the U. S. Olympic team.

The 3-time Big Seven sprint champion, now an Air Force second lieutenant, returned here August 13 on temporary duty with the K-State Air Force ROTC department. He will leave here

October 10 for Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Ohio. From there he will leave for the November Olympic games in Melbourne, Australia.

In the 1952 Olympic Baker placed second behind Andy Stanfield of the United States in the 200-meter dash. He will compete in the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes and possibly be a member of the 400-meter relay team.

While at K-State, Baker swept the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes from Big Seven competition for three consecutive seasons—('51, '52, '53)—the only sprinter ever to do so.

Baker holds the American 300-meter record at 29.4 seconds. He also ran the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds this year, tying the world's record. This record is not official because of a more-than-allowable tailwind.

In the June Olympic trials at Los Angeles, Baker finished third in the 100-meter dash and second in the 200-meter dash. Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian won both events.

Baker's time of 20.6 seconds in the 200-meter dash is being considered for approval as tying the standing world record.

Baker set five Big Seven records while at K-State:

440-yd dash, 47.1, 1953
440-yd indoor, 48.6, 1953
60-yd dash, 6.2, 1952-53
mile relay team, 3:15.4, 1953

Baker, who graduated in 1953, married the former Sally Doyle, who graduated last spring. Sally will leave November 16 for Melbourne to watch the Olympic games.

While at K-State, Baker was vice-chairman of the Student Council, K-Club president, and a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Baker says that this year's United States Olympic team is power-packed. He pointed out that Mal Whitefield, U. S. Olympic star of past and present, beat his own times for the last two Olympic tryouts in the 800-meter run this year, but placed fourth against his American competitors.

Hartshorn To Play Far East Football

A former K-State lineman, Larry Hartshorn, has arrived in the Far East and is on temporary duty with the Camp Zama Ramblers football team.

Hartshorn is a clerk-typist with a signal battalion in Japan.

As a right tackle for K-State Larry earned four football letters and three baseball monograms as a first baseman and catcher for the Cat baseball team.

He made honorable mention on the all-Big Seven team for outstanding play in 1954. In July of 1955, he joined the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League, playing until October of that year when he was drafted into the Army.

Hartshorn played defensive linebacker in the Army team's first game recently, an exhibition game in which the Ramblers defeated Seoul, Korea, 45-0.

The Ramblers won the Japan championship last year and are expected to field as strong a team this season.

Hartshorn received his basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. He was sent to clerical school at Fort Knox, Ky., and then assigned to the Receiving and Processing Company of the U.S. Army Training center for Armor at Fort Knox.

Hartshorn expects to leave the Far East in September of next year. He plans to finish his college education at K-State and then further his professional football career.

Flight Training Offered To KS AFROTC Seniors

Flight training will be given at K-State this year as part of the advanced Air Force ROTC program. Actual flying will begin in March or April, according to Colonel C. H. Wilkins, professor of air science.

Twenty-five seniors in advanced AFROTC qualified for the flight training. To qualify, Colonel Wilkins explained, a cadet must be in category one—the pilot category. The program may be open to both juniors and seniors by the fall of '57, he added.

"Our main idea is to give the cadets flight training prior to receiving their commissions," Col. Wilkins explained. "It helps make up the minds of a good number of students who think they want to fly but aren't sure till they actually get in a plane.

The flight program will save the Air Force training money by eliminating the cadet who can't adapt to flying."

Cadets will begin training this semester in a link trainer located in the Military Science building. The trainer, newly installed this summer, teaches the cadet the primary instrument work and gives him the basic principles of flying.

L. Pugsley, dean of administration.

Dr. Louis Binstock, Rabbi of Temple Shalom, the Temple on the Lake in Chicago; and Mundt-Brooks, an outstanding interpretative dance team, will also contribute to the Fall semester programs.

College To Host Radio, TV Men

Kansas radio and television farm directors will attend a two-day session here September 21-22 on the handling of agricultural news.

Ken Thomas, director of Station KSAC and head of the department of extension radio, said the Friday afternoon session will be on radio and the Friday night session on television.

Report forms are now available in the activity center and should be completed and returned before Oct. 15.

Desks in the Activity Center are available to the first 14 organizations applying before Sept. 28. Storage lockers can be rented for the school year for fifty cents.

POST OFFICE BOXES

Boxes are now available for rent at the College Post Office for fifty cents a semester. This rental will insure that the box numbers will appear in the Student Directory.

STUDENT HEALTH

The Student Health service is now open to receive hospital patients 24 hours a day, according to Dr. B. W. Lafene, head of the Student Health.

Alum Leaders To Meet In Union September 22

The first alumni conference this year is scheduled to precede the Kansas State-Oklahoma A&M football game on Saturday, September 22.

"Purpose of the meeting is to bring alumni leaders from across the state together to discuss various problems confronting alumni associations," said Kenney Ford, executive secretary of the KSC association.

"We would like very much for student organizations to send representatives to the conference," Ford said. He pointed out that an individual will be an alumnus longer than he is a student.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m., according to Ford. The program will be climaxed by a luncheon with President McCain as speaker.

Walter Pierce '28, Alumni President from Hutchinson, will conduct the program. There will be five speeches with a ten minute discussion period following each speech.

SCHEDULE OF SPEECHES

10 a.m.: "Our Alma Mater Today"—Mrs. Virginia Adams '44, Prairie Village.

10:20: "Our College and the State Legislature" — Senator Wayne Rogler '26, Matfield Green.

10:40: "The Thomas County Alumni Program for High School Students"—Dean Hess '50, Colby.

11:00: "Our Alumni Association in Dickinson County"—Howard Sparks '50, Abilene.

At 11:20: "We Are Building a Greater Kansas State College"—Major General Glen E. Edgerton '04, Washington, D.C.

All conference activities will be conducted in the K-State Union, with registration in the lobby and the speaking program in the Little Theatre. The luncheon will be held in ballrooms A and B at 12 noon.

Feed Program on TV

The "Industry on Parade" feature to be telecast over WIBW-TV Friday, September 14, at 6:45 p.m., will tell the story of the K-State feed technology program.

"Industry on Parade" won the Peabody award as an outstanding series of educational, non-commercial telecasts.

According to Max W. Milbourn, K-State's director of public service, the film not only will be viewed over WIBW-TV, but eventually will be carried by more than 250 television stations in the United States, and foreign countries.

Activities Jamboree

The first annual activities jamboree held in the Student Union Tuesday from 8 to 10 p.m. gave the freshmen a "panoramic view" of the extracurricular activities offered them.

About 1500 people attended the jamboree where 35 per cent of the campus organizations exhibited religious, honorary and special interest booths.

Matt Betton's band played from 10 to 12 in the main ballroom of the union. The jamboree was sponsored by the student activities board.

Farm Field Day

Six experimental fields and many test plots will be open to the public September 27 at the annual fall Farm Field Day sponsored by Kansas State College on its Ashland bottoms research farm, southwest of Manhattan. Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station crop and soil men will be stationed at various plots to explain the work they have been doing. Tours will start about 1:30 p.m.

4-H Mixer

A mixer sponsored by Collegiate 4-H club for all students will start today at 7 p.m. at the tennis courts.

The program will include a talk by Dean of Students Herbert Wunderlich; a humorous reading by Shirley Hundley, HEA Jr.; and the introduction of Collegiate 4-H officers.

Allen Tilley, AgE Soph, mixer chairman, said club memberships will be sold throughout the evening.

Dancing of all types will complete the evening and will be led by Loren Goven, Riley county 4-H club agent.

All students are invited to join the fun and learn about Collegiate 4-H club, said President Leon Sucht, AH Sr. Collegiate members need not have been 4-H members at home.

Collegiate 4-H club meetings are at 7 p.m. the first and third Thursday of each month. The club, largest student organization on the campus, is a social-service club which publishes the "Who's Who", 4-H yearbook for Kansas.

Music Organizations

The Band, Orchestra, A Cappella Choir, and Chorus are open to any student, according to Luther Leavengood, head of the music department.

He explained that a student does not have to be a music major to join one of these groups; however, they are subject to tryout. Any student interested in participation in one of the musical organizations should inquire in the music office of the college auditorium for a schedule of tryouts this week.

Union Jobs Open

About thirty part-time jobs are still available at the K-State Union.

Loren Kottner, director, said the Union needs cashiers, pin boys, student janitors, and banquet waitresses. Extra help will be needed for football games also, he said.

Students looking for work should go to the placement bureau, dean of women, or come directly to the union, Kottner said. "Nearly 130 students are employed already but we hope to hire 175 to 200," Kottner said.

"We need 15 to 20 banquet waitresses, 3 girls at the information desk, and 2 cashiers," Kottner said.

Endowment Association Awards Staters $13,000

The K-State Endowment association has written 112 checks totaling $13,347.50 in scholarships for K-State students for the fall semester.

Payments ranged as high as $325 for the semester, and averaged just under $120 a student receiving scholarship money. Nearly all students will be eligible for similar amounts for the spring semester, according to Kenneth Heywood, K-State's director of development.

The largest single segment of the Endowment association scholarship program is made up of the Henry J. Putnam Memorial scholarships. Twenty-seven students now receive financial assistance from income from the trust established in 1954 by Dr. L. Irene Putnam. Amounts awarded vary depending upon individual need.

The next largest group of scholarships are those supporting the feed technology curriculum. Various members of the feed manufacturing industry cooperate to supply funds for scholarships to students enrolled in K-State's feed technology curriculum, only one of its kind in the world.

SCHOLARSHIP HOLDERS

Aaron James Lane, Belleville, is the first holder of a $2,000 4-year scholarship in civil engineering just established at K-State by the Kansas Contractors association.

Purpose of the scholarship is to help worthy high school graduates who are interested in a career in civil engineering or construction work.

Raymond Dale Stratton, AgE Soph, of Louisville, has been awarded the $750 J. B. Ehrsam and Sons Manufacturing company scholarship for this fall, according to M. A. Durland, dean of the School of Engineering and Architecture.

The scholarship, which is renewable providing high academic standards are maintained, also carries a guarantee of full-time summer employment with the J. B. Ehrsam and Sons Manufacturing company of Enterprise.

Ten feed technology students have been awarded $400 scholarships provided by firms in the feed industry, Max W. Milbourn, chairman of the general scholarship committee, said.

Winners are Martyn L. Apley, Washington, and Ronald L. Chilcoat, Topeka, from the Ralston-Purina company; John D. Buser, Fairview, from Feeds Illustrated, Inc., a trade journal of the feed industry; James H. Booth, Baldwin, from Allied Mills, Inc., of Chicago; and Robert L. Gardner, Louisville, from Pillsbury Mills, Inc.

Robert J. Pickett, Nevada, Mo., from Staley Milling company of North Kansas City, Mo.; Lee Roy Young, Clifton, from Jacobson company of Minneapolis, Minn.;

Richard L. Stamm, Washington, from Pfizer Foundation of Brooklyn, N.Y.; Joseph C. Nothern, Jr., Salina, from Nutrena Mills, Inc.; and Donald Allan Kesinger, White Hall, Ill., from Archer-Daniels-Midland company of Minneapolis, Minn.

Gary Rea Culberson, Burrton, has been awarded a $200 scholarship in engineering.

In addition to his scholarship award, Culberson will have the opportunity for summer employment with Servis, Van Doren, and Hazard, Topeka engineers who sponsor the scholarship.

Late Enrollees Up Total by 49

Forty-nine late enrollees yesterday afternoon brought the number of students to 6,422, close to the estimated total enrollment of 6,500.

At the end of the regular registration period Wednesday, 6,373 had enrolled. Registration will continue through next week.

"The 6,500 students expected to enroll at Kansas State college this fall represents an increase of 1,500 students over the past three years," President McCain said yesterday.

"Had the college not placed rigorous restrictions on out-of-state applicants for admission this fall, the registration would have approached 7,000. More than 300 non-resident applicants were denied admission," he said.

"Despite this rapid increase in enrollment, the sharp increase in the numbers of youth of college age in the state of Kansas will not take place until the year 1959. In other words, the present rate of enrollment increase will be considerably exceeded in three years.

"These figures challenge the state to make certain that Kansas higher institutions will have adequate academic and housing facilities to accommodate these students and faculty members of sufficient numbers and competence to insure a high quality of education," McCain said.

Record Number Of Staters Are Seeking Jobs

More than 500 K-Staters have applied for part-time employment at the placement bureau and at the dean of women's office since August 1, Placement Bureau Director Chester E. Peters, said.

This is a record number of students registered for assistance in finding part-time jobs. Job openings are being received at the two offices every day and openings will continue to come in throughout the rest of the school year, Peters said.

Average wages range from 75 cents to $1 an hour and more in some cases. Students have been placed in such jobs as salesman, office worker, mechanic, grocery clerk, typist, and service station attendants.

Each year nearly 1,000 students are employed by the different departments on the campus, Peters said.

Men wanting more information or application blanks can stop in at the placement bureau. Women can go to the dean of women's office. Both are located on the main floor of Anderson hall.

"Our motto is 'You name it—a K-Stater can do it,'" Peters said.

WARREN W. SHAW (center), Kansas gubernatorial aspirant, met informally with Pat Wilkerson, student body president, and Deans yesterday afternoon following a discussion session between Shaw and McCain.

Shaw, McCain Discuss KS Educational Needs

President McCain stressed the importance of increasing enrollment and the need for more classroom space at K-State in a discussion session with Kansas Republican gubernatorial candidate Warren Shaw yesterday afternoon.

The President said that college enrollment will begin increasing much more rapidly beginning in 1959. He said he felt it would not be a temporary spurt similar to post World War II increases and that K-State must be ready to accommodate the additional load.

Despite K-State's tremendous building program during the past seven years, there has been no appreciable increase in classroom space. Most buildings constructed during this period were designed to meet a special need and not for class meetings, he said. The Field House, Engineering wing, and Vet hospital were pointed out as examples.

McCain said that future campus construction must meet this critical classroom need.

The President told Shaw that more dormitory and apartment housing is needed. He said that the College has applied to the Federal Housing administration for money to finance 264 married housing apartments in addition to the 196 scheduled to be completed in January.

He stated that architects may begin drawing plans for a new men's dormitory by October with groundbreaking ceremonies taking place in the spring. The dorm would house 600 men with a wing capable of housing another 600 being added at a later date.

Kitchen facilities for 1,200 would be included in the initial building, he said.

Also stressed in the meeting was the urgent need for a new Student Health center. The President said he hoped construction could begin in July with money from the Educational building fund supplemented by $100,000 from the Student Health reserve fund. He said he had high hopes the building could be completed two years from now.

Connie Taylor Is KS 'Miss Football' Entry

Connie Taylor, Eng Jr, from Salina, Saturday will fly to Berkeley, Calif., as K-State's representative in the "Miss Football" contest. There she will compete against 14 other representatives from throughout the country.

Connie was chosen the past spring from seven K-State finalists following receptions and a style show.

While in California, she and the other contestants will receive a week's grand tour, climaxed by a coronation ball in San Francisco next Thursday.

The Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce will be host to the "Miss Football" contestants. Sunday they will visit Disneyland in Los Angeles. Monday's schedule includes a tour of Hollywood movie studios, plus television appearances.

Tuesday the contestants will go to Oakland for a press reception. There will be more television appearances Wednesday, and Thursday includes a harbor tour of San Francisco in addition to the coronation ball.

Connie will attend the California-Baylor football game the following Saturday. It officially opens the national collegiate football season. A "King Football" will be chosen, and the queen contestants will be introduced. A farewell party will end the week's tour.

4-H Mixer Draws 600

"SWING HER ONCE and pop her right through," were the instructions as the record played "Pop Goes the Weasel," at the 4-H mixer last night on the tennis courts.

Campus Landscape Is Much Improved

GONE ARE THE DAYS when birds will roost above the statue of William Alexander Harris in front of Fairchild hall. Workmen have removed the old elm and thus elevated Bill's prominence as a campus landmark.

K-STATERS can truthfully say they returned to "greener pastures" this fall because one look at the campus will verify that statement.

Our thanks go to Thomas Shackelford, K-State's landscape architect, and to his staff who have worked during the summer months to keep the College lawns green.

EVEN THOUGH there has been scant rainfall, the campus is in better shape than we have ever seen it at this time of year.

The new underground sprinkling system was installed this summer on the quadrangle east of Anderson. Its use has changed the normally brown area into a campus beauty spot.

THE REMOVAL of several dead elm trees, killed by a blight that has claimed hundreds of American elms in the Manhattan area, has given a new appearance to many areas on campus.

The statue of William Harris north of Fairchild (pictured above) has returned to prominence in the Lives of K-Stater's now that the dead-elm-bird-haven has been removed.

BIG FEET are bringing back several of the old "cow-paths", but we feel certain students will use the sidewalks and not destroy the work done by Shackelford.

A little prayer for rain would help too.—ghv

Introductions Can Be Important; You Might Win a New Friend

By Mary Beckmeyer

A BIT of welcoming advice::

This applies to those of you who wish to make a great first impression when introduced to strangers.

Here are a few things to keep in mind when wishing to make the new acquaintance feel inferior:

THE INITIAL STEP is to give a fictitious name such as Reginald Tomtom. By the end of the evening many members of the group will be calling you by your first name. (After first having asked the guy next to you who the kid with the duck tail is).

Of course, when you are called Reginald, simply give the name-caller a glazed stare, conveying the impression that you don't know who-the-heck Reginald is, then chuckle and turn around as if you were looking for Reginald.

THIS WILL certainly cause the guy who thought he remembered names well a good deal of embarrassment and he'll lose standing with the group because he has a faulty memory.

If you achieve the desired results, you will have passed the first lesson of how to make an incompetent introducer out of a second Dunninger.

WINNING FRIENDS and influencing people can also be accomplished by making fun of the culinary ability of your host or hostesses (In a subtle way of course.) Conversation can be stilted rapidly when you sit down to a six course luncheon and ask in a sincere tone, "Do you serve your good meal tonight?" An accomplished conversationalist would follow up this statement with "Do you have a lot of trouble with cock roaches here?" If this doesn't stimulate conversation, then ask what that second, smaller fork is for.

Don't be discouraged if this doesn't work the first time just keep trying and sooner or later you'll put the so-called intellectuals in their proper place.

NOTICED IN the initial issue of the University Daily Kansan the following paragraph: "The Repub convention brought to mind a possible nickname for the new Student Union at K-State: Cow Palace."

After reading it, the thought occurred to us that the person who wrote it could well be called the name of the animal which is commonly associated with the Democrat party.

SPEAKIN OF ANIMALS . . . If you're wondering why Pogo hasn't appeared in the Collegian yet, he's busy furthering his campaign for President. We do expect him in town come Monday and we'll do our best to get a couple of pictures of him in the paper then.

LET'S SWITCH from animal animals to human animals . . . There's the case of the fraternity pledge who thought he was Darius Green and tried to fly from a balcony. He had the desire, but he didn't have the wings.

He really had his head up in the clouds for a while though.

Expected Housing Shortage Doesn't Materialize; Only Fifteen Staters in Temporary Housing

FIFTEEN MALE K-Staters are temporarily living in the old hospital annex and appear to be the victims of an expected, non-existent housing shortage.

It was estimated by Thornton Edwards, director of housing, that at least 2,000 single men have found housing through his office this fall.

"Although many students had difficulty in locating suitable housing, everyone who remained in Manhattan seeking lodging has managed to find something," Edwards said.

"However, it is my impression that there are many students not attending K-State this fall because they became discouraged and afraid they would not find a place to live," Edwards added.

THE END of rush week for women resulted in a deluge of upperclass women seeking housing. After the rush had subsided in Dean of Women Helen Moore's office all the girls had been placed in dorms or private homes.

"We have more girls in private homes this year than we have had since the dorms were built," Dean Moore said. "The residence halls are filled and Waltheim hall is housing six more girls than it had prior to this year."

A DISAPPOINTMENT to many married students was the delay in completion of the new married students' housing units that had been scheduled for occupancy by this semester.

The project was slowed down this summer because of a fifteen-day strike and a lack of certain types of labor.

Half of the 192 units are now scheduled for completion by November 15, Edwards said.

Many of the families previously scheduled to occupy the new units are now living in temporary rooms and apartments, or with Manhattan families.

Edwards said there are still good listings in his office for couples without children.

Negroes Attend School, Defy Official's Decision

Clay, Ky., Sept. 14 (U.P.)—Two Negro children returned to Clay elementary school and were joined by a third Negro child today despite a published opinion of the state attorney general that they had no legal right to do so.

The three children arrived at school five minutes before classes opened at 8 a.m., EST.

A detachment of 500 National Guardsmen again formed a cordon at the foot of the hill on which the schoolhouse stands, but the move seemed almost unnecessary as there were only about 35 people gathered there this morning.

Only eight white students arrived on the school buses, and none of them entered the school. As classes began, Mrs. Irene Powell, the principal, and eight teachers of a staff of 17 were present.

Truce Team To Akaba

Jerusalem, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—A team of United Nations officials raced today to the Akaba region to investigate reports Israeli forces had killed "more than a score" of Jordanians in a clash near the southern tip of Jordan.

Jordan reported "heavy loss of life" in an Israeli attack on a police station near Akaba at the head of the gulf of that name. Akaba is where the Egyptian, Israeli and Jordanian borders converge.

Some Israeli sources said they believed the action was an Israeli answer to the killing of three Druse watchmen yesterday by Jordanian marauders.

Another Bulganin Note

Washington, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower today studied new proposals from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin on Germany, disarmament and other key East-West cold war issues.

The State Department relayed a report on a hasty translation to the President at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm late yesterday. The Department expected to have completed a final translation by this morning.

The letter was a reply to the President's letter to Bulganin August 4 calling on him to help create a "new spirit" in East-West relations.

Administration officials were skeptical that the proposals in a new letter from Bulganin to President Eisenhower would clear the way to progress on any major cold war settlement. The U.S. attitude was not to reject the proposals out of hand until they had been carefully checked for any possible ray of hope.

'Grace Brings Hope'

New York, Sept. 13 (U.P.)—Prince Rainier III publicly announced plans for the future of Monaco in a speech in which he pictured his bride, Princess Grace, as bringing to his people "the light of hope with her enchanting smile."

The Prince and Princess attended a lunch in their honor given by the Overseas Press club. The Prince read his 10-minute speech from notes he had hastily scribbled earlier in the day in the Fifth Avenue apartment where he and the former actress, Grace Kelly, had stayed since their arrival here two days ago.

Teen-Age 'War' Fails

Reliance, Wyo., Sept. 14 (U.P.)—A gang of 59 teenagers, including a number of girls, were stripped of an arsenal of dangerous weapons last night at an abandoned mining camp two miles north of Reliance.

The gang, traveling in 12 cars and pickup trucks, were reported en route to Reliance to do battle with a band of local teenagers.

Injuries Slow Cat Gridders; Defensive Work Cancelled

K-State footballers were sent through a comparatively light workout Thursday afternoon as injuries took the spotlight over a scheduled defensive scrimmage.

Head Coach Bus Mertes had called for a full game scrimmage behind closed doors for the session but with the high number of injuries such a scrimmage was impossible.

"Most of the injuries are minor but we just can't take chances," Mertes said. "Chuck Sprinkle was back at full speed Thursday with the only seriously injured Wildcat being Andy Stewart. Stewart, a guard, will miss the opening game of the season with Oklahoma A&M because of a broken hand.

Working together on the number one unit Thursday afternoon were Don Zadnik and Jim Luzinski at the ends; Ellis Rainsberger and Jack Keelan at the tackle positions with the guard spots handled by Wally Carlson and Rudy Bletscher. Sprinkle was in the center slot.

Completing the first team were halfbacks Kenny Nesmith and Jerry Hayes with Ralph Pfeifer working from the fullback position. Keith Wilson was working at the quarterback slot.

The Cats went through some kicking drills and play patterns during the Thursday session. Kicking extra points were Don Zadnik, junior end who booted two extra points in seven attempts last season, Ron Beshk, sophomore halfback, and Gene Keady, a juco transfer playing quarterback.

The practice session, held in Memorial stadium, brought an end to the twice-a-day practices that have been held since the first of September.

KC A's Lose 3-2; Mantle Blasts 48th

The Kansas City Athletics bowed 3-2 before Mickey Mantle and the New York Yankees Thursday to solidify their hold on last place in the junior loop. Mantle blasted his 48th home run of the season to give Whitey Ford the edge he needed to withstand late inning pressure and gain his 18th victory of the '56 campaign.

In Chicago Billy Pierce became the first American League pitcher to win 20 games this season by defeating the Boston Red Sox 4-3 in a 10-inning game. The victory put the Chisox back into third place.

Jim Piersall hit a home run for Boston and Walt Drogo and Jim Rivera blasted circuit blows for the White Sox.

The sixth place Baltimore Orioles stopped second-place Cleveland 4-1 as Connie Johnson held the tribe to five hits. As a result of the win the Orioles managed to salvage at least one game of the 3-game series.

Gus Triandos homered for the winners and Bobby Avila homered for the Indians.

Finishing out American League action, Detroit swept their second series in a row by knocking off the Washington Senators 7-2.

The pennant-hungry Milwaukee Braves tightened their hold on the National League lead by beating Philadelphia twice. 3-2 in 13 innings, 4-3 in 12 frames in the night cap.

Cincinnati's Redlegs came back from the verge of defeat with a two-run rally in the ninth inning Thursday night to down Pittsburgh 5-4.

A double by Cincy outfielder Gus Bell set up the winning tally. Roy McMillan doubled to lead off the inning and send Buc starter Ronnie Kline to the showers.

Ray Face relieved Kline and promptly gave a single to pinch-hitter Ray Jablonski with McMillan scoring the tying run. Bell then doubled Jablonski to third and Frank Robinson singled him home for the winning run. The St. Louis Cardinals used the long ball to shutout the New York Giants 5-0. Whitey Lickman hit a two-run triple and Rip Repulski and Ken Boyer homered to help Vinegar Bend Mizell in his four-hit performance.

It was the Redbirds' sixth straight win.

Thirteen Gridders Top 200 Pounds

Results of K-State's 1956 official football weigh-in showed the Wildcat gridders to be the lightest team in recent years. The Cats averaged 192 pounds.

Only 13 of the 46-man squad tipped the scales above the 200-pound mark.

Heaviest of the Wildcat pack was Jack Keelan, junior letterman tackle, who weighed 228 pounds. Two other tackles were close behind. Len LeGault, senior tackle weighed 227 and another tackle, junior Jon Walker, weighed in at 225 pounds.

Jerry Hayes, 5-4 halfback scooter, got little argument for lightest ranking. He weighed in at 164 pounds, then went out to prove size isn't everything as he scored a trio of touchdowns in K-State's first full-game scrimmage last Saturday.

Make Drives Visible

Lincoln, Neb., (U.P.)—The National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture urge farmers to avoid planting crops too close to driveway entrances to eliminate a traffic menace. They urge farmers to keep driveways clear and "see what you're missing."

Backfield Move 'Quite A Shift' Says Former Halfback Pfeifer

Moving from half to full has been "quite a switch for me," said speedy former halfback Ralph Pfeifer who is currently holding down the fullback spot on K-State's first unit.

A fullback has more blocking to take care of than a halfback, Pfeifer said.

Pfeifer was moved to the rear of the backfield during spring football practice and was kept there when pre-season football practice got underway to give speed and experience to the position vacated by all-Big Seven fullback Doug Roether who graduated.

"Ralph has looked great in drills," Coach Bus Mertes said. "His running has been good as ever and his blocking is improving. I think he will offer a solid threat at full," Mertes said.

Last season Pfeifer led Cat scoring with 36 points averaging 4.7 yards a rush on 54 carries. Pfeifer went 38 yards for a TD against Marquette U. for 1955's longest touchdown run by a Wildcat.

He raced 31 yards to score against Colorado, 13 yards for a tally against KU, and 9 yards for another against Missouri's Tigers.

Pfeifer has experience in the deep position. He was a halfback for Hays high and won all-State honors in that capacity.

Thus far at K-State Pfeifer has earned one grid letter and received a numeral for his freshman football work.

While at Hays he earned two football letters, one basketball letter, and a trio of track monograms. The track letters explain Pfeifer's fleetness of foot.

One of Pfeifer's faults is a fondness for food which causes him to put on excess pounds that he must work off when football season rolls around. A 190-pounder last year, he now weighs 195 and his training table activities indicate he will lose no more this season.

When asked to predict the outcome of the game with Oklahoma A&M September 22, Pfeifer said, "We'll be up for them. The weather is just right for football too," he said.

During the winter months Ralph plays intramural basketball for West Stadium. His major is business administration with a minor in physical education.

Well-Fed Piggy Bank

Belmont, Calif. (U.P.)—Contractor Charles Berger told police to call off search for a $1,000 bill he had reported missing.

He later discovered that his 2-year-old daughter had stuffed the bill into her piggy bank.

UP IN THE AIR, Ralph Pfeifer, Cat fullback, shows the way he intends to evade opposing tacklers.

K-State Fraternities and Sororities Build, Plan, or Remodel Houses

By MARCIA BOYD

Fraternities and sororities have entered an era of building with four chapter houses recently completed, two under construction, four planned, and five remodeled.

Acacia and Farm House fraternities have the two newest houses. The Acacia house, located at Lee and Hunting, and the Farm House at 1830 College Heights, were occupied last spring.

The 44-man Acacia house is a $125,000 contemporary split-level dwelling with a front wall of glass and red brick exterior. The Farm House is a $150,000 ranch style structure of tan brick featuring natural wood paneling and will house 56 men.

Alpha Gamma Rho and Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity houses are now under construction. The AGR house, located on Platt and Quivira, is of native limestone and brick with redwood trimming. Built on the split level design, the $130,000 structure is expected to be completed this fall. It will house 54 men.

Native stone with redwood and green porcelain enamel steel is being used to construct the AKL house which is located between Sunset and Lee on Hunting. It will accommodate 56 men. Completion is expected by January.

Leading this expansion program were Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta fraternities. Sigma Phi Epsilon occupied their new 62-man, $160,000 chapter house at 1015 North Sunset in September, 1954. Delta Tau Delta members moved into a 54-member, $180,000 modern-style structure at 1001 Sunset in October, 1953.

Kappa Delta and Alpha Chi Omega sororities and Phi Kappa and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternities have visions of new homes in the near future. Kappa Delta sorority purchased lots last spring in the 1000 block on north Sunset, according to Mrs. A. A. Holtz, alumni advisor. They are working on building plans but don't have immediate construction plans.

Alpha Chi Omega has purchased lots between Denison and Jarvis Drive on Todd Road and hope to begin construction within the next two years, according to Mrs. John Helm, Jr., president of the Alpha Chi corporation. An architect is working on the building plans, she said.

Phi Kappa fraternity is making arrangements for buying lots and planning to begin construction on their new house next year. Pi Kappa Alpha lots are on West College Heights Road. They have set 1957 as their construction date.

Delta Sigma Phi purchased and remodeled the Saint Mary Parkview hospital annex in 1955. Four other fraternities have done extensive remodeling of their present chapter houses during the past two years.

Alpha Tau Omega, 1730 Clafin, recently finished a $75,000 three-story addition to their house, and they hope to be able to move into the 39-member wing this fall. Their original house was also remodeled and redecorated.

Sigma Chi's remodeled their house at 1224 Fremont during the last school year. Tau Kappa Epsilon remodeled and enlarged their living quarters at 1606 Fairchild, adding a second story to the original structure. The Theta Xi's remodeled inside and out during the past school term, converting their house at 1614 Fairchild to a Gregorian Colonial style.

The total properties of the 31 Greek living organizations at K-State are valued at almost $2,600,000 against a debt of $560,000, according to the twenty-sixth annual report on fraternities and sororities released by President James A. McCain.

Real estate of K-State's 22 fraternities are valued at $1,424,000 and other holdings are worth about $400,000. Real estate evaluation of the sororities is $487,000 and $248,000 of other property. The average fraternity real estate is valued at $64,000 and the average sorority at $54,000.

Only three of the nine sororities have any indebtedness. Many of them are building up large cash and bond reserves for future construction of new houses. Total sorority debt is about $39,000, a drop of nearly $19,000 from the previous year.

The fraternity debt rose from $349,000 to $521,000 in this same period as remodeling or building has taken place in almost all of the houses.

Jewish Group To Lead Special Services Today

At sunset today, one of the most important Jewish holidays, The Day of Atonement, begins.

Since neither Manhattan nor Fort Riley has a rabbi, Jewish student members of B'nai B'rith Hillel have volunteered to conduct the services for both groups. They plan to hold the complete service in All-Faith Chapel auditorium.

One of the best known of all Jewish prayers, Kol Nidre, will open the services at sunset today. This prayer, which is for forgiveness for Jews who have been forced to profess faiths they did not believe, originated during the Spanish Inquisition.

Services for the Day of Atonement will continue until sunset Saturday. All orthodox Jewish students will observe a fast from sunset today until sunset Saturday, not even drinking water. Jewish holidays always begin and end at sunset, Gordon Grosh, B'nai B'rith Hillel member, said.

The holiday season, known as the Days of Awe, began with the Jewish New Year, a week ago last Wednesday.

The Days of Awe are completely spiritual holidays, Grosh said. Many Jews believe that during this time performances for the past year are judged and fate for the coming year decided. Orthodox Jews fast on the Day of Atonement because only spiritual matters are to be considered on this day, Grosh said.

President of the small but active B'nai B'rith Hillel foundation is Bernie Schleicher, Bac Gr. Faculty adviser is Max Milner.

The group holds Friday night services at Fort Riley, and meetings every other Sunday evening at the Jewish Community Center at 1970 Hunting.

Activities

Union Will Go Hillbilly For Saturday Program

"Doin' What Comes Naturally" will be the background music of a skit today in the Union Dive, by Connie Benjamin, HEN Soph, and Lowell Novy, PrV. The skit, given as a preview to the Student Union open house, will be from 3 to 4 p.m.

Following a theme of "Old Home Folks" with an Ozark atmosphere, the open house, sponsored by the Union programs council, will be Saturday from 8 to 12 p.m., according to Karen Skiver, Soc Jr, chairman.

Bill Heptig's band will play in the main and west ballrooms, from 9 to 12 p.m., and a small combo will be in the Dive from 8 to 10 p.m. Games will be going continuously, with prizes given for highest scores.

Each of the ten Union Committees will have a decorated booth. These booths will introduce students to the committees, and give those interested an opportunity to register for committee membership. Every student has an equal chance for membership. Members will be chosen on the basis of interviews. Persons holding membership last year do not have first priority.

Applications may be filled out from Monday at 8 a.m. until Friday at 5 p.m. at the activities center in the Union.

'Older' Staters Can Buy Shots Against Polio

Students more than 20 years old can receive polio shots if they care to pay for the vaccine, Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health, said.

The state can give free polio shots only to those persons 6 months to 20 years old, he said.

The vaccine is to be given in three separate injections. The second shot will be given after a month elapses and the final shot a year later, he said.

Dr. Lafene said that the polio shots are for students only and are not for staff members. They will cost about 85 cents.

Senior Job Prospects Brighter, Salaries Higher—Peters Says

Job prospects for college seniors have never been brighter than they are this fall, Chester E. Peters, placement director, said today.

More firms will be seeking to hire larger numbers of graduates at the highest starting salaries in history.

And to make offers even more enticing some firms apparently are picking up the tab for transporting new employees, their families, and household goods to the job.

Peters, just back from an annual meeting of midwest college placement directors at Cleveland, said a recent survey by this group revealed nearly half of the firms recruiting will be seeking to hire more technically-trained graduates than last year. And one firm in four wants to hire more non-technical graduates.

Adding to this pressure is the fact that only one firm in four was able to hire the technically-trained graduates they needed from the 1956 graduating class, he said.

What will happen to the runaway salary situation is not clear. Peters anticipates that salaries for 1957 graduates will follow the trend of recent years and be up four to five per cent. Last fall nearly half of the firms adjusted starting salaries after the recruiting season was underway.

Students will find that military experience, high grades, and participation in cooperative and summer work programs also will mean better starting salaries.

The battle to hire this year's senior crop already is shaping up on campuses across the nation. At K-State the recruiting season for the 1957 graduate opens October 15, and Peters says more than 300 firms already have scheduled interviewing dates on campus during the year.

"All in all, it looks like 1957 will be an even brighter year for both the technical and non-technical graduate," Peters said.

Registration Up To 6,473 Mark

Fifty-one late enrollees Friday and today brought the number of students registered to 6,473, just 27 short of the estimated total enrollment of 6,500.

"We had 139 late enrollees a year ago, and if we have only 125 this fall, we will reach our estimated goal," E. M. Gerritz, director of admissions and registrar said.

At the end of the regular registration period Wednesday, 6,373 students had enrolled, and 49 late enrollees brought the number to 6,422 Friday. Registration will continue through next week, Gerritz said.

Contract Let For New Barn

A $79,232 contract for a new animal husbandry barn was awarded Thursday to Hunter & Lundberg, a Manhattan contracting firm.

The new barn will replace one destroyed by fire more than a year ago. The 1956 Kansas legislature authorized $190,811 for the new barn, to provide feed mixing and storage facilities, and equipment destroyed by the fire. Bids have yet to be called for feed mixing and storage facilities which will require most of the remaining funds.

The T-shaped barn is to be built northwest of the veterinary research laboratory and a mile north of the main campus. The structure will house 28 holding pens, have living quarters for boys working with the animals, space for storing show and experimental equipment, and a class room.

A FRIENDLY WELCOME met all who entered the Student Union open house Saturday night (above). Larry Foulke and an unidentified onlooker admire Kay Eplee's interpretation of hillbilly ballets on her uke. The two were part of the hospitality booth. "SWING AND SWAY to a modern ballet" could have been the theme of Judy Yarlick's dancing Saturday night (right). Miss Yarlick, Wichita, held the audience captivated with her daring modern style.

Bob Alexander, director of the Union, estimated the crowd to be "probably 700 altogether," with about 200 in the movie and 500 taking part in the dance. "It was a successful event, and with a year's experience behind us, we are looking forward to a bigger and better '57 school year," Alexander said.

Same Smiling, Kindly Profs Greet 6,500-Odd Students

Isn't it grand to see again all the bright and shining faces at K-State?

Isn't it wonderful to be part of a group of 6,500-odd (just an expression) persons all banded together by the desire to gain sufficient knowledge and then go into that great world out yonder and make their mark on same?

Anyway, it's good to be back.

You are greeted by the same kindly professors, you walk down the same cowpaths that you wore in the grass last spring, you drink too much coffee and go without breakfast, and you hear the same old tunes on the jukebox in the Union.

Ah, the nostalgia of it all. Sometimes you would like to live forever.

And there are other advantages. Coffee at the Union sells for a nickel, the grass is a little greener, and the courses are easier.

But you find that you spend too much time in the Union, which is a fine place and full of interesting persons, but you must remain steadfast in your first purpose—to make your mark. If you can't make it on the world, something else will have to do.

And you read that some fellow down at KU has nicknamed the Union the "Cow Palace." Right away you agree that that is a fine name indeed, and exceptionally apropos, and you are relieved to see that those KU fellows are the same saave men and deep thinkers whom you've always admired.

Then, after more research, you discover that there ARE some new records on the Union jukeboxes. You discover that the Hydramatic Hillybilly has contributed a few of his grunt and groan specialties to add pleasure to your cup of coffee or your coke.

Those rock 'n' roll tunes, while admittedly not hard to write, are great stuff for college-type dancing, and eliminate the need for a floor show in the dive.

One coed got so wound up while dancing to a rock 'n' roll tune that she danced right out of her crinolines. She was sly about it, though. She just ignored them and acted as if they weren't hers.

Although there have been many changes at K-State, perhaps the most astonishing one and the greatest boon to students here is the recently renovated and amazingly simple parking lot (which I notice is too much for the mentality of a few students). Oh well, it does get confusing—there's a lane marked "in" and another marked "out," where a person previously could gayly drive in anywhere.

But enough of superficialities, as I must get back to my logarithms. May the good professors smile upon you, one and all.

—Darrel Miller.

Kefauver Reaffirms Demo Promise of Full Parity

Jamesville, Wis. —(U.P.)— Vice-presidential candidate Estes Kefauver today reaffirmed the Democrat party's promise to get farmers 100 per cent of parity for their crops.

"OUR PARTY is committed to achieving 100 per cent of parity farm prices," he said in a speech prepared for delivery here. "That is what our platform promises, and we Democrats intend to keep our promises when we make them."

The Democrat platform calls for federal price support loans at 90 per cent of parity and supplementary measures, such as subsidy payments, to guarantee the farmer a fully parity income.

"Under our program, co-operatives will be protected, soil conservation will be encouraged, and research, long neglected, will be invigorated," he added.

WISCONSIN was the third state Kefauver hit in a 160-day campaign swing by plane and auto through 15 states from Florida to Washington.

He started the intensive campaigning with a day and a half of folksy speaking and tireless hand-shaking in Florida in an all-out bid for a solid Democrat vote by the South on November 6.

He spoke at Cleveland yesterday before an old-fashioned outdoor Democrat ox roast attended by a crowd estimated from 15,000 to upwards of 30,000. He charged that President Eisenhower's foreign policy is based on "the diplomacy of dollars, and the pressure of force."

Segregation Wins In Clay, Kentucky

By United Press

PARENTS of four Negro children, whose efforts to get them into a white school in Clay, Ky., brought out the national guard, gave up today and decided to put them into a school for their own race.

The decision, announced in a dramatic hand-shaking on the steps of the school, brought cheers from a crowd of 50 to 60 white persons standing behind a line of Kentucky national guardsmen drawn up at the building.

THE NEGROES, accompanied by their mothers, were turned back at the school door by the principal, Mrs. Irene Powell. She read them a resolution adopted by the county board of education. It was an order barring them from the white school.

Mrs. James Gordon, mother of two of the children, shook hands with Mrs. Powell and said she will take her children to a Negro school at Providence, Ky.

Mrs. Catherine Copeland, mother of the other two Negroes, said she will also enroll them at Providence.

Mayor Herman Clark who has denounced Gov. A. B. Chandler for sending the national guard to Clay commended Mrs. Powell and the county school board for their action.

"I have the greatest admiration for Mrs. Powell for reading the notice to the national guard and the Negro children," Clark said.

Pogo Supporters in Favor of Making 'Ground-Hog Day' a National Holiday

Prairie Dog, Wyo., Augtember 97 (Special Dispatch)—Labor leaders here expressed themselves today as being in favor of the plank to make "Ground-Hog Day" a national holiday, a move endorsed by Pogo supporters. "If the possum becalms the President of the United States, it will be our bounden duty to see to it that animals everywhere come into their own," said an operator of seventy five prairie-dog hills, employing an estimated 346 workers.

Asked if he had not meant "becomes" instead of "becalms", the Prairie Dog Operator said, "No comment."

An undercurrent of revolt, however, was seen by some observers in the fact that the working prairie dog had not been consulted on the matter. "We work all year long," said one who was incapable of identifying himself, "and the Ground-Hogs sleep. They get up and do one day's work, which most of the time scares them half to death, and they get a day named after them. In fact they are now being told that they can have THAT day off. When we ask for a day off all we get is the Mary Haha. We are told we can go whistle."

On the other hand, Pogo Poll Takers have reported that Ground-Hog enthusiasts maintain the labor problem, which the new move for a National Holiday brings up, is a formidable one.

"We don't get paid for holidays," explained one. "We sleep through Christmas and January First, both usually considered holidays. We don't get them off. We work right on through. Then at the end of our hitch, we get up to round up the winter's work."

"If it's a nice bright day and we see a shadow, boom, we get another six weeks work. If it's raining, we get laid off with two weeks notice. Do you call that fair? And now they want to take our last day's pay away, besides rigging it so that the layoff comes about automatically.

"If we need a holiday, we'll take Christmas at double time."

Essentially this protest has been drafted and is being sent to Pogo headquarters. The Presidential hopeful said that the whole thing certainly made a man think. Pressed on what he was thinking about, the Possum candidate referred the matter to an alligator friend.

Whites Win, 20-7

Mertes To Examine Lineup After Reserves Beat Varsity

K-State football practice this week will probably consist of looking for a lineup to start against Oklahoma A&M next Saturday, as a result of last Saturday's closed, game-condition scrimmage.

"I think it would be safe to say that we will have some lineup changes," Coach Bus Mertes said after his first unit Purples dropped a 20-7 decision to the second unit Whites.

"The movies will reveal where these changes are needed," he said. "We are a long way from being ready for Oklahoma A&M next Saturday afternoon."

Mertes said the most encouraging thing about the scrimmage was the play of the second unit. However, he said "offside penalties show we need a lot more work before the 22nd."

The first unit Purple team moved to a touchdown early in the second quarter to take the lead but the Whites scored once in the third quarter and then twice in the final period to gain the victory.

Gene Keady, Garden City junior college transfer, quarterbacked the White team throughout the contest and capped off a 74 yard drive with a touchdown from 19 yards out to open the scoring for the White team in the third quarter. He also added the extra point.

The number one team got its only touchdown in the second period with all first string backs getting into the picture. Quarterback Keith Wilson spearheaded the drive with fullback Ralph Reifer plunging over from the two. Kenny Nesmith added the extra point.

The Purple unit gained possession shortly after scoring the touchdown and marched 72 yards before losing the ball on downs at the two-yard line.

With the score knotted at 7-7 going into the fourth period, the Whites recovered a fumble at the midfield stripe and moved to a touchdown in four plays with Bill Carrington carrying the ball over from 18 yards out.

During the drive, end Dan O'Brien caught a pass from quarterback Keady that covered 35 yards to set up the touchdown.

The final points in the game came midway in the final period when Oree Banks, a tackle, recovered a Purple fumble on the 10 and on the next play Carrington rambled into the end zone. Keady converted for the extra point giving the white team a 20-7 edge.

Mertes praised the work of halfback Mike Kinsella as the afternoon's best performer. Don Zadnik also drew praise by the coaching staff for his performance.

Yanks Cinch A.L. Tie; As Mantle Hits 49th

The New York Yankees cinched at least a tie for their 22nd American League pennant yesterday as they split a double-header with the Cleveland Indians, winning the first game 10-3 and losing the second 4-3. Mickey Mantle hit his 49th home run in the nightcap.

Chicago's White Sox beat Washington twice on Sunday, 7-5 and 7-2, and by virtue of their double coup still have a chance to tie the Yanks.

The Detroit Tigers put Boston out of pennant contention by beating the Red Sox twice, 5-4 and 8-4.

The Kansas City Athletics split a double header with the Baltimore Orioles, losing the first game 3-2. The A's came back to take the nightcap 10-1 behind the 4-hit pitching of Art Ditmar. Ditmar faced only 30 batters in winning his 11th game of the season.

In the National League Brooklyn beat Cincinnati 3-2 and, St. Louis and Pittsburgh split. St. Louis winning the opener 3-2 and the Pirates coming back to take the second game 9-3.

Chicago and Philadelphia split their doubleheader. The Cubs won the first game 7-4 and the Phillies took the second game 4-1. Milwaukee and New York were rained out.

U.S., Britain Want To 'Test' Egyptians

Compiled from the Wires of United Press by LANCE GILMORE

London, Sept. 17 (U.P.)—The United States and Britain will ask the 18-nation second Suez conference Wednesday to agree to an immediate "test trip" into the Suez Canal as a direct challenge to Egypt, informed sources said today.

The two main sponsors of the "canal users association," according to the informants, are agreed that the challenge should be made quickly before accidents or pilot fatigue choke off traffic in the canal.

Top Fashions Missing

New York, Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Couturiers whispered of fashion piracy today in the disappearance of high-fashion originals here and in Kansas City, Mo.

New York designer Pauline Trigere revealed yesterday that almost her entire fall collection, valued at $250,000 had disappeared from the Municipal airport in Kansas City last Wednesday.

Branell, a New York dress house, also reported that four Christian Dior Paris originals valued at more than $4,000 had disappeared enroute to them from the custom house.

Miss Trigere said she believed the costumes might have been stolen by copyists or fashion pirates, but the FBI, which has taken over the case, refused to comment on the piracy theory.

Soviet Pilots To Suez

Port Said, Egypt, Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Soviet pilots newly-arrived from Russia sailed down the Suez canal zone today as trainees under Egyptian and Greek instructors.

Fyodor Pankov, 52, leader of the Soviet pilots, blithely announced that they expected to master in two days the complicated job of guiding shipping through the canal.

Egyptian authorities said more pilot trainees from Communist and other "friendly" countries were expected to arrive shortly to replace the Europeans who walked out Friday.

New Russian Missiles?

There may be headline news from Copenhagen this week on those mysterious "objects" which are streaking over the Baltic sea by night. As reported last week, allied intelligence agents believe they are Russian guided missiles. The firings have been stepped up in the last few days. New radar equipment in top-secret stations on Denmark's Bornholm island shows they are streaking over the sea at altitudes of more than 18 miles at speeds of up to 2,500 miles an hour.

36 High School Bands In Saturday Band Day

Bands from 36 Kansas high schools have indicated they will participate in K-State's annual band day Saturday, preceeding the Cat grid opener with Oklahoma A&M.

Jean Hedlund, band director, said the more than 2,000 high school musicians will parade up Poyntz avenue, beginning at 10 a.m., will be in Memorial stadium at 12:15 p.m. for short marching exhibitions by six of the visiting bands, and will mass on the playing field at 1:45 for pre-game ceremonies, including the playing of the national anthem.

Twirlers of the visiting bands will line the field at halftime while the College band marches. Hedlund plans a "band" formation in honor of the high school organizations; a salute to H. B. "Bebe" Lee, athletics director; a novelty on "Three Blind Mice," and a "K" formation.

High school bands who will appear in five minute marching demonstrations before teams take the field for their pre-game warmup are Clay County Community high of Clay Center, Herington, Lebo, Manhattan, Salina, and Wamego.

Saturday's game is family day as well as band day. Entire families may attend and sit in a special section upon purchase of two adult tickets (at $2 each). Visiting bandmen will be treated to refreshments at the City Park following the morning parade, with the Manhattan chamber of commerce as host.

Busset To Join Staff in India

Glenn Busset, assistant club leader, has been appointed an extension training officer on the K-State staff in India, Dean Arthur D. Weber announced today.

Busset, his wife, and two children, will leave Manhattan September 24 and plan to arrive in Hyderabad, Deccan, India, September 30.

Busset is to help Indian leaders set up an agricultural extension program under the International Cooperation Administration-India-K-State contract.

He recently was in India and visited K-State staff members. He said there was real acceptance of Americans in India and that K-State staff members reported being warmly welcomed to the educational institutions where they are working.

Kirton placed second in individual judging honors and Armstrong placed third.

Council To Pay City For Aggieville Riot

The Student Council voted last night to pay the city of Manhattan approximately $400 for damages inflicted by "K-State students on city property after last semester's basketball victory over KU.

The motion to reimburse Manhattan for the Aggieville "demonstration" also included a clause to the effect that the Council must publicize the expense and ill will caused by the rioting. It was hoped by the Council that this clause might lessen chances of future demonstrations.

The Council also decided to hold a school contest to pick a queen candidate for American Royal queen.

"The queen of the American Royal is quite a celebrity for several months, and I think it would be to K-State's advantage to have an entry in this contest," Ann Soelter said.

A campus contest to pick such an entry will be implemented by the Council sometime before the American Royal, October 17-20 in Kansas City.

For the first time, the Student Council will pick SGA committee members by personal interview. The Council will initiate the system this week when they interview applicants for the traffic control board, committee coordinating staff, and athletics council.

"The Council plans to use the interviewing system for choosing all SGA committees if it appears successful with these three," according to Ron Bryant, Council president.

The Council voted to remind the school administration that all department heads are responsible for seeing that names of instructors and the sections they will teach are posted prior to enrollment. Several Council members asserted that while some departments put out this information before last enrollment, results were far from 100 per cent.

It was decided that the SGA office in Anderson hall should have a hanging-type sign above the door, similar to those on other offices in the building. Jerry Holliday was appointed to look into possible plans to give the entire SGA office a "new look," at the suggestion of Dean Wunderlich.

Among minor legislation acted upon by the Council was a motion to press the physical plant for left-handed desks; a motion to set up a committee designed to "put more teeth into" the KU-K-State peace pact; and a motion to appoint a committee to plan an SGA assembly (annual student gripe and suggestion session).

The Council also decided to investigate the ban imposed by the city on parking along certain sections of Manhattan and Anderson avenues. All Council members were present.

Crash Through Glass Entry Seriously Cuts Freshman

A freshman student received severe cuts yesterday afternoon when he crashed through a pane of glass in the east entrance to Eisenhower hall.

The student, Earl Duane Kjellberg, PEM Fr, Vermillion, evidently tripped when coming down the stairs and crashed through the glass, according to Dr. Charles F. Haughey, Student Health doctor. Several stitches were required to close cuts on Kjellberg's left forearm and two cuts on the right side of his face, Dr. Haughey said.

"He lost a minor amount of blood and his condition appears very satisfactory. However, he will be kept in Student Health at least overnight for observation," he said.

Assistant Dean Orval Ebberts of the School of Arts and Sciences said he was just at the bottom of the stairs when he heard the crash.

A few boys at the scene of the accident and Dean Ebberts applied a tourniquet to the boy's arm and cold presses to his face before he was taken to the emergency room at the student hospital for treatment.

"WAS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?" asked Earl D. Kjellberg yesterday, after he tripped and fell through a glass panel of Eisenhower Hall. Kjellberg, PEM Fr, is in Student Health for observation.

An Editorial

Parking Violations Occur Despite New Parking Lot

ROUND and round she goes and where she stops nobody knows. This seems to be the tune hummed by K-Staters as they drive through the renovated Student Union parking lot.

The parking lot was oiled at considerable expense this summer and laid out in such a way that each car has an individual parking stall. This was done to cut down on the number of cars illegally parked and blocking traffic.

DESPITE the individual stalls, signs clearly designating which lanes are to be used for entering and leaving the lot, and signs showing which portion of the lot is for faculty parking only, students persist in ignoring the "in" and "out" signs. They park where there is no stall, and fill up the faculty section.

We realize that the parking system in the lot is new, but now that students have been here for at least a week, we can no longer feel there is any excuse for not obeying the rules.

MANY students have already found out that the campus enforcement officers feel the same way. Patrolmen issued 400 "reminder" tickets last week for offenses and between 8 and 9 a.m. yesterday gave 25 tickets to cars parked in the Union lot alone. By noon the total had climbed to 75.

Case Bonebrake, engineer at the physical plant, said patrolmen report that most offenses have been cars with no registration sticker. He pointed out that several cars have been found parked in an illegal spot, in the faculty lot, and without a sticker. The Tribunal considers this three offenses and can revoke a driver's privilege to drive on the campus even though only one ticket is issued.

THE USUAL number of hot rods, no mufflers, and burning around the corners is going on but will be stopped, Bonebrake said.

Herbert J. Wunderlich, Dean of Students, has recently approved a recommendation by the patrolmen that students arrested for misdemeanors or as public nuisances be taken before the Justice of the Peace. Court costs alone would cost an offender $9.25, plus a fine, according to Bonebrake.

At least one student has already been fined $15 for speeding and running a stop sign on the campus last week.

The Manhattan police force is also cooperating in the attempt to rid the city of noisy mufflers and to slow down drivers.

Police Chief Leo Osborne said yesterday that he would like the cooperation of all students. The force is on the lookout and will arrest all speeders and drivers who have illegal mufflers on their cars, he said.

THE CHIEF said the city ordinance on mufflers states that it shall be unlawful for drivers of any vehicle to operate such vehicle on the streets of the city without having attached thereto a muffler in good order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise, annoying smoke, and exhaust fire.

Osborne noted that the penalty for misdemeanors of this sort in the city is a fine of not more than $100 and/or 30 days in jail for the first offense. If a second offense occurs within a year the penalty is $100 and confinement of not less than 10 days or more than 3 months.

THE CAMPUS patrol will continue to concentrate their efforts toward correcting the illegal parking in the Union lot. With 3,601 student cars registered to date, it looks like the patrol will have no trouble topping the estimated 4,000 tickets issued last year unless students begin to observe regulations.—gtv

New Class Scheduling Plan May Halt Student Migration

By BILL WHISTLER

A NEW class scheduling plan will probably keep K-State students from going home this year as often as they have in previous years.

One of the new requirements of the Administrative Council is that no full-time student shall schedule more than half his classes on Monday-Wednesday-Friday mornings. As a result, more students will find themselves attending afternoon and Saturday morning classes, with less time for weekend jaunts.

ADDED TO this is the requirement of the council that the departments are to offer more than half of their courses at times other than the Monday-Wednesday-Friday morning sequence.

"These steps were taken in order to make the fullest use of existing college facilities and the faculty," said A. L. Pugsley, dean of academic administration. "The existing rooms will only accommodate classes up to a certain limit and the new scheduling is designed to spread out these classes," he added.

The expanded schedule also should bring out better study habits, said Pugsley. A beginning student carrying a full load from 8-12 in the mornings will not do nearly as efficient work as he could if he were to have breaks between classes.

Pugsley cited as examples the coffee breaks of office workers and the recreation periods offered by big concerns in order for their employees to be more efficient.

BEGINNING students seldom make efficient use of large blocks of unassigned time, Pugsley said. The student, with a complete afternoon without classes will find something else to do (sleep, go to a movie, etc.) besides sit for four hours studying for the next day's lessons.

"It is only human nature for students to do those things," Pugsley added.

Under the new system of scheduling every student will have a chance at the favored morning hours. "There will be some that will get all the favored hours, but everybody will get a chance at the preferred time."

SOME STUDENTS will be getting up earlier and staying up later as the result of other schedule changes.

For the first time in years there is a regular class scheduled to start at 7 a.m. This is a farm power laboratory, offered by the agricultural engineering department from 7-10 Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

And the department of education, partly as a convenience to teachers in the field, is offering their course in "general school administration," from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday.

ANOTHER night class is a seminar on college teaching, set for 7-9 on Wednesday.

"As college enrollment increases more and more courses will be offered at night," Pugsley said, "with some courses scheduled during the noon hour."

Oklahoma Orients Freshmen As School Days Start Again

By Mary Beckmeyer

ENROLLMENT BLUES have ended and students all over the nation have settled down to the regular grind for the remainder of the fall.

The Oklahoma Daily of the University of Oklahoma oriented OU freshmen by running the following historical account of their rivals, Oklahoma A&M.

"It was largely Montgomery R. Sheepdip's great vision and constructive programs that A&M became the reknowned institution it is today—tough in basketball and more than rugged in animal husbandry."

"The rest of the story is well-known. Since Sheepdip's day A&M has become a school famous in agriculture arts, sporting an enrollment close to OU's in number, and perennially demonstrating its good sportsmanship by lending the Big Red its so-called football team for a practice game before our bowl games.

"The best part of it, if you enroll at Stillwater, is that you don't have to worry about a flashy wardrobe. Boys anyway. All you wear, day in and out, is blue jeans. Of course, no one should walk through a barnyard wearing buckle-in-the-back, Ivy-League slacks."

AT THE University of California, women have formed an anti-male citizens committee. This organization made its debut as the result of the male citizens' council enforcement of segregation in the men's rooting section. To be eligible for membership, the student must definitely come within the realm of the female gender. No references or dues are required. No sign-ups will be taken. However, in order to identify herself as an aspirant of this ultra-subversive organization, each member must carry a worn-out typewriter ribbon. (Was it not Shakespeare who said, "Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow, creeps in these pretty women to the last bleacher of abolished men's rooting section?")

Jon Walker To First Unit In Monday Scrimmage

Coach Bus Mertes made only one major lineup change over the weekend as he moved Jon Walker into the left tackle position replacing Gene Meler. Walker's performance in Saturday's scrimmage warranted the switch.

Working on both offense and defense during Monday's practice, the team still lacked full strength due to injuries. Jim Luzinski, Gene Meler, Dick Corbin, and Wally Carlson were not able to go full speed with Carlson working without pads. Kerry Clifford, center, was also sidelined after being sick over the weekend.

Other changes saw George Laddish moving into the right end spot. Don Martin replaced Carlson at guard.

The rest of the lineup remained the same with Don Zadnik at left end, Ellis Rainsberger, tackle, and Rudy Bletscher working at the guard slot. Chuck Sprinkle was over the ball.

The backfield began the afternoon session without changes but Tony Addeo replaced Jerry Hayes midway through the practice when the speedy halfback pulled a muscle in his leg.

Completing the backfield was Kenny Nesmith at the other halfback position and Ralph Pfeifer at fullback. Keith Wilson did the quarterbacking.

Two Cats are sure to miss the opening contest. Andy Stewart, second string guard, and Ray Glaze, reserve fullback, will miss the A&M tussle. Stewart fractured a bone in his hand last week and Glaze is out with a severe side bruise.

NL Still Tight As Bums Win, Braves Split

The National League pennant race remained as tight as ever as the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 5-4 and the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants split a double header.

The Giants won the opener, 7-2, and Milwaukee came back to win the nightcap, 4-1.

It took 10 innings for the Dodgers to beat the fading Redlegs and they did it with veteran Carl Furillo's 20th homerun of the season.

The Redlegs had tied the score in the bottom of the ninth on back-to-back homeruns by Ed Bailey and Ray Jablonski with two out.

The Braves are now one game back of the leading Dodgers and Cincinnati is four games behind.

Duke Snider, Dodger center fielder, climbed back into the lead for the National League home run crown with his 39th circuit clout.

Warren Spahn pitched the Braves' win registering his 18th win of the season and his 201st of his career. Spahn gave up nine hits and was aided by home runs by Billy Bruton, Jack Dittmer, and Ed Mathews.

Daily Suez Traffic Off 25% Since Canal Nationalization

Compiled from the United Press
By Lance Gilmore

Port Said, Egypt—Suez Canal traffic dropped sharply to the lowest number since Egypt nationalized the Suez Company July 26.

Only 31 ships began the 101-mile voyage between the Red and Mediterranean seas—a 25 per cent slash in the average of 41 ships daily before the takeover.

The drop began last week. European canal pilots staged a mass walkout Friday, and Egyptian and Greek pilots have been working hard since to keep traffic moving through the canal.

Egypt formally asked the United Nations Security Council to keep "vigilant eyes" on the Western Users association for the Suez canal.

The Egyptian message branded the association as a threat to Egyptian sovereignty and world peace.

It was disclosed after President Gamal Abdel Nasser had discussed the Suez crisis with both India's roving "peacemaker" V. K. Krishna Menon and Soviet Ambassador Evgueny Kisselev.

Jewish Fraternity To Colonize Here

Alpha Epsilon Pi, national Jewish social fraternity, is colonizing on campus after a period of four years inactivity, according to Charles Hahn, fraternity president.

K-State's chapter was officially recognized by the national organization in 1949, but went inactive in October of 1951. The present colony started in April of 1955. However, no actual pledging took place until this fall.

The colony has 13 members, 6 of whom were recently pledged. Members meet at 910 Lee street on Tuesday evenings, but hope to have a chapter house by September of 1957, according to Max Milner, faculty advisor.

Little Royal's Future Home To Be in New Lab

BY MARCIA BOYD

K-State's Little American Royal will have a new home next year in the oval-shaped arena of the new animal industries building now under construction. The arena, with a capacity of 3,500 will be K-State's stock judging pavilion.

The newest building under construction, it will be located north of relocated Claflin road. $1,350,000 was appropriated by the state legislature from the educational building fund for the structure and a portion of its equipment.

The building has been under construction since July, 1955, and completion is expected in June, 1957.

The two-story structure, which is being constructed of native and Bedford limestone and reinforced concrete, will house meat investigation, metabolism, animal, wool, and genetics laboratories.

These modern laboratories will be completely equipped with holding pens, cutting rooms, refrigeration lockers, and other essential equipment.

The laboratories will supply the facilities for study of all phases of production of animal products, and processing of these products can be studied scientifically. By having such complete laboratory equipment and personnel near an animal disease lab, K-State will be able to supply federal animal disease men much prerequisite information for disease investigations and save using similar federal labs and personnel.

Conference, meeting rooms, and classrooms will also be located in the building including a lecture hall which will seat approximately 250 persons.

The animal industries building is just a part of Kansas State's expansion program. Appropriations from the educational building fund for an agricultural engineering addition to Seaton Hall total $500,000. As soon as specifications are completed, bids will be let. The building will be located north of the new wing of the engineering hall.

A $1,500,000 home economics building, which will be located east of the formal gardens, has been approved. Plans are being designed by state architects at K-State and by Wolfenbarger and Associates.

K-State has received a tentative approval on a $1,200,000 loan from the Home and Housing Finance association for a men's residence hall and dining facilities. The hall, which will house 600 men, will be constructed on the Elliott tract which is the present site of married students housing. Preliminary plans and specifications were submitted with the request for the loan.

Jardine Terrace is the official name for the new married students apartments on the west end of the Linn tract. One hundred and ninety-two apartments are now under construction. November 15 is the completion date for the first 96 homes. The remainder are scheduled to be finished by February 1.

Jardine Terrace will consist of eight 24-apartment units. One-third are two bedroom apartments, and two-thirds have single bedrooms. All are completely furnished, and rental will include utilities.

Money has also been appropriated for paving behind Van Zile residence hall, Claflin road and the Union parking lot, partial remodeling of Thompson hall for use by the geology department, and a poultry range.

The new Animal Industries building, located on the northeast edge of the campus.

'Solid' Glass Could Avert More Serious Accidents

WHY NOT have some type of shatter-proof glass installed in entrances to Eisenhower hall, the Student Union, the addition to Seaton hall, and other campus buildings where glass-paneled doorways are the fashion?

The injury Monday afternoon to Earl Kjellberg, PEM Fr, who stumbled down the steps and crashed through the east entry to Eisenhower hall, points out a need for action to prevent any more accidents.

If this were the only incident of this type that has happened, it could be considered a rarity and unlikely to happen again. However, this is the second accident involving glass doors in a three-month period.

A SIMILAR incident occurred this summer when a woman student was injured in the Student Union by flying glass from a door that literally exploded due to wind pressure. She was fortunate and received only minor cuts on her legs.

One of these accidents would have been avoided and the other certainly minimized if there had been shatter-proof glass in the entrances. The woman couldn't have been hurt by flying glass and Kjellberg probably would not have been cut so severely.

ANOTHER safety hazard which bears mentioning is the student habit of gathering in groups between classes and blocking stairs and doorways. This causes students trying to get to their next class to run an obstacle course of students, books, purses, etc., and could easily be the direct cause of an accident.—gfv.

Dick Says Ike Administration Won't Rest on 'Flat Plateau'

By UNITED PRESS

Enroute with Nixon, (U.P.)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that the "Eisenhower administration is not content to rest on any flat plateau" in the nation's economic prosperity.

IN HIS first direct swipe at Adlai E. Stevenson, the barnstorming vice president belittled the Democrat presidential nominee's claim that Democrat administrations lifted the nation to a "new plateau of abundance."

Nixon said in remarks prepared for a Reno, Nev., audience that westerners know "a plateau" is a tableland.

"It doesn't reach upward. It might even run downhill," Nixon said. "The Eisenhower administration is not content to rest on any flat plateau."

The 43-year-old vice-president, carrying the main load of this year's Eisenhower-Nixon campaign, concentrated on the far western states of Nevada and Oregon in the second day of his intense, 32-state campaign swing.

NIXON wound up his first 17-hour day of campaigning with a rousing ovation last night from a hometown audience in Whittier, Calif., where he buried his father only 10 days ago. Earlier, he had launched the whirlwind tour at a Washington breakfast with the personal blessing of President Eisenhower and spoke to a noontime crowd of more than 10,000 in downtown Indianapolis.

Throughout his first day speeches,

Nixon romped hard on the GOP campaign theme of "peace and prosperity" and the new GOP slogan of "One good term deserves another." But he created more interest by in effect eliminating the Alger Hiss question as a campaign issue if Stevenson will stick to his position that he does not quarrel with the verdict finding Hiss guilty of perjury.

HE ALSO told a news conference at the Long Beach airport last night that "I don't think Communists in government should be an issue that should divide us on party lines."

In news conferences at Indianapolis and Long Beach, he noted the differences of opinion between Mr. Truman and Stevenson on the Hiss case. And, Nixon added, "I imagine it is rather difficult for (Stevenson) to also say that (Mr. Truman) has helped him."

California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, who fueded with Nixon over control of the state's delegation at the recent GOP convention in San Francisco, introduced Nixon last night in Whittier. Knight told the crowd of 2,500 which overflowed the Whittier high school auditorium that he wanted "no misapprehension that the governor of California is first, last and always for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket."

Nixon told newsmen earlier, "I don't know of any time when California Republicans have been more united."

Pre-Enrollment is Good Idea, Gets Faculty, Student Okay

By ORVAL JACKSON

AT LONG last it seems as if Kansas State finally has come up with a suitable system of pre-enrollment, one that pleases not only the faculty but also the students.

So far the system has been used only for the freshmen and transfer students who entered K-State this year. However, full scale pre-enrollment is scheduled to begin for the spring semester.

The biggest asset in pre-enrolling seems to be the lessening of confusion among new students. According to the students interviewed, pre-enrollment gives them a better idea of what they will have to take and, if there is any misunderstanding, they will have time to straighten out the difficulty.

ALL INTERVIEWED students who pre-enrolled thought they had received better schedules and that they were able to get into classes that would otherwise have been closed.

The time element is another factor in favor of pre-enrollment. Those students who had pre-enrolled took approximately an hour to enroll, while those who didn't pre-enroll used a minimum of 2 1/2 hours.

BILL BICKFORD, CE Fr, El Dorado, said he thought pre-enrollment was a great help. "When I got here to enroll I was already familiar with the surroundings because I had pre-enrolled."

PAT McHUGH, Eed Fr, Osborn, "I think that pre-enrollment was very worthwhile. It helped in familiarizing new students with the campus."

PHYLLIS DOLECEK, BA Fr, Ellsworth, "The businessmen of Ellsworth were very much in favor of students coming up during the summer for pre-enrollment. I think that I got a better schedule than I would have gotten had I waited.

GARY ALBRIGHT, BA Fr, Pretty Prairie, "I didn't pre-enroll but I wish I had. I would have been able to get a better schedule. When I arrived I didn't know my way around the campus and this could have been avoided had I pre-enrolled."

SHARON ANTHONY, Sed Fr, Smith Center, "Some of the classes were closed as early as the middle of July but by pre-enrolling I was able to get the schedule I wanted."

BEVERLY BASS, HE Fr, Joplin, Mo., "I didn't pre-enroll but I knew what I wanted to take and luckily I got the courses I wanted. However, I did get a Saturday class that I might not have gotten had I pre-enrolled. Being from out of state, it would have been quite an inconvenience for me to come here just for pre-enrollment."

SANDRA MAYS, MT Fr, Smith Center, "When I pre-enrolled I got to talk to a counselor and he explained what I would need to take. I think it was a good idea and if I had it to do again I would still come up and pre-enroll."

ALAN JOHNSON, Age Jr, Troy, "My classes filled fast, but by pre-enrolling I was able to get the classes I needed before they were closed."

GARY MADDOX, Ec Jr, Hutchinson, "I didn't get to pre-enroll and I found it very confusing here the first day. I would have been able to eliminate some of the time that it took to enroll if I had pre-enrolled. I was lucky because I did get all the classes I wanted when I wanted them, but I know of quite a few fellows who didn't pre-enroll who weren't as lucky as I was."

Quotes from the News

By UNITED PRESS

Chicago—Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson on the nation's farm prospects: "You can go broke with high prices if you don't have enough to sell."

Washington—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles before leaving for a new London conference on the Suez crisis: "We are not trying to organize any boycott of the canal, but we cannot be blind to the fact that conditions might become such that transit through the canal is impractical or greatly diminished."

Washington—Adlai E. Stevenson commenting on a remark by former President

Truman that Alger Hiss was not a Communist spy:

"I have never doubted the verdict of the jury which convicted him (Hiss)."

Harstad, Norway—Seaman Lawrence T. Redies of Central City, Colo., complaining of the poor life-saving equipment on the sunken freighter Pelagia:

"There weren't even matches in the lifeboat."

Blackstone, Mass.—Mrs. Kornelia Zariczny vowing to resume her rifle-toting road blockade if a town land dispute is not settled:

"The land the town took illegally is for sale. They can buy it or not. If they don't, I'll set up my blockade next week."

This is Cheap?

Have trouble finding a parking place before class?

One ingenious coed, after driving up and down the lanes of the parking lot for 15 minutes with no success, found a solution. Driving into a near-by filling station at 2 minutes until 1, she jumped out and shouted "wash it" as she ran off toward class.

She said later, "It only cost me $1.75 to park for 2 hours."

Crowd Cheers While School Turns Away Negro Students

Sturgis, Ky., Sept. 19 (U.P.)—Nearly two weeks of racial integration at Sturgis high school ended today when Principal Earl Evans, acting on orders from the Union County school board, turned back eight Negro students at the door of the school.

The action followed a pattern set at nearby Clay, Ky., last Monday when four Negro children were barred from the Clay consolidated school, which they had attended for a week under the protection of National Guard troops and state police.

As the eight Negro children turned back down the steps of the school this morning a tumultuous burst of applause and cheering broke out from a crowd of more than 200 persons which had gathered in spite of a cold drizzling rain.

The letter instructed Evans to inform any pupil attempting to transfer from the all-Negro Dunbar school at Morganfield, Ky., to the Sturgis school that the "action of the board of education prevents all such transfers."

The Negro children returned to their automobile and drove slowly through the crowd away from the building.

As the car moved down the street, one middle-aged woman ran close behind it beating on the trunk with both fists.

Another woman shouted from the crowd, "Don't you ever try that no more."

"That's right, just take them right back," another cried.

Another Suez Proposal

London, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Secretary of State Dulles asked the second London Suez conference today to appoint a Western shipping "czar" with powers to divert traf-fics from the Suez canal if this proves "necessary."

Dulles put the new Suez users union proposal before the 18-nation conference after British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd warned there would be "no compromise" on international control of the waterway.

But Lloyd, elected chairman of the conference, said "we want to proceed by peaceful means."

Gov. Shivers for Ike

Austin, Texas, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today he will "vote for and support President Eisenhower for re-election."

He called Mr. Eisenhower, whom Shivers supported in 1952, the "best Democrat in the race."

"Four years ago I supported him because he promised to return our tidelands, and because I felt that he would find a way to stop the Korean war and restore integrity in the Washington government," the governor said.

"If for no other reason, a sense of gratitude would compel me to vote for President Eisenhower again."

'Oldest Man Alive' 167?

Miami, Sept. 19 (U.P.)—A pint-sized Colombian Indian left for New York today to allow medical authorities to determine if he is really 167 years old.

Whether 167, 150, or 120, authorities believe Javier Periera, of Monteria, Colombia, is the world's oldest living man.

Periera, four-feet, four inches tall and weighing 75 pounds, spoofed with reporters and photographers here when he ate his first ice cream cone.

He arrived in Miami last night on the first leg of his long journey to the Cornell Medical center where experts will try to determine Periera's secret of longevity.

The "old man" already has undergone exhaustive medical examinations in South America which indicated he is at least 150 and possibly 167.

Periera was met here by Douglas Storer, member of a syndicate which distributes a cartoon on oddities (Believe It or Not).

Storer said an 86-year-old woman in his native village remembers that when she was a child, Periera was an "old, old man."

Periera himself relates events of the early 1800's in a manner which indicates he was a young adult at the time.

Riot by Rock 'n Roll

Newport, R.I., Sept. 19 (U.P.)—A "rock 'n roll" riot hospitalized 15 sailors and marines last night when 100 fist fights suddenly broke out at a dance at a newly renovated enlisted men's club.

Beer bottles, beer cans, and beer pitchers were thrown through the windows of the club which was recently remodeled at a cost of more than $40,000.

Police and navy and marine shore patrols quelled the fighting. Some 1,500 sailors and marines and their wives and women companions were involved in the melee which erupted when the couples were dancing to the music of "Fats" Domino's orchestra.

Sailors said the lights went out suddenly and fist fights broke out "all over the place."

"It was murder," one sailor said. There must have been a thousand bottles and chairs flying around a second or two after the lights went off.

The wild flurry of separate fights eventually moved out into the street before being broken up.

Dames' Main Goal Is 'Pushing Hubby Thru'

Getting their husbands through college is the main goal of a group of student wives known as the Dames club. At a graduation program each year, a PHT (Pushing Hubby Thru) diploma is presented to wives whose husbands are graduating.

The group is composed of students wives who meet the last Thursday of each month and take part in various activities including bridge, swimming, knitting, and bowling. Last spring, the club's bowling team won first in the College Women's Bowling League.

The first general meeting of Dames club will be held Thursday, September 17, at 8 p.m., in rec center. All students' wives are invited to attend. New interest groups will be formed if sufficient member interest is shown. Instructions in these programs will be offered to beginners.

The trophy was presented to Lance Gilmore, TJ Jr, at the Lambda Chi national convention in Glenwood Springs, Colorado. He has been the editor of the "Gamma Ray," winning publication for three semesters. Last year, the K-State chapter received the first place trophy in Indiana. A committee of professional journalists rate the chapter newspapers. The "Gamma Ray" is published once a semester and is sent to parents, alumni, national officers, and other chapters.

Scholastic Award To Cat Trackman

Terry Turner, Wildcat distance runner, has been named 1956 winner of the "Athletes' Scholastic Honor Roll" award. The award is made each year to the outstanding student among K-State sports lettermen.

A junior from Waterville, Turner compiled a perfect 3.0 grade point average in agriculture during the past two semesters to win over five other Wildcat lettermen athletes with averages of 2.25 or better.

Turner lettered in the two-mile run last season and was a regular member of the K-State cross-country team. He is the son of W. E. (Scrubby) Turner, a former Wildcat track man.

Turner will receive a certificate of his achievement from President McCain, and will have his name cast in bronze to be attached to the "Athletes' Scholastic Honor Roll" plaque in Ahearn Field House.

Other K-State athletes with outstanding grade averages for the last school year, and who were contestants for the award, are William Hicks, track, 2:30; Dick Corbin, Stafford, football, 2.33; Arlen Stackley, El Dorado, track, 2.46; Andy Stewart, Davenport, Iowa, football, 2.48; and Ray Russell, Mesa, Ariz., track, 2.58.

The honor roll award was established in 1954 to honor the K-State athlete attaining the highest scholastic average among varsity lettermen during the regular school year in which the athlete won his letter.

The award is made only to those whose two-semester average exceeds 2.25. Responsible for establishing the award and donors of the bronze plaque were Dr. and Mrs. Paul Koefod, former K-State staff members. It was established as a memorial to Dr. Koefod's brother, James, who died in World War II service.

First annual winner of the award was Charles Zickefoose, football end, who received the honor a year ago.

During the 1955 fall semester 25 K-State varsity athletes had averages of "B" or better. During the spring term 22 had averages of "B" or better.

Mick Hits 50th, Bags A.L. Flag For Yankees

Mickey Mantle blasted his 50th home run of the season to beat the Chicago White Sox yesterday 3-2 and clinch their seventh American League pennant in eight years.

Mantle's blow came with two out in the 11th inning and broke up a 2-2 ball game.

Whitey Ford gained his 19th victory of the campaign against 5 losses but needed help from Bob Grim in the 11th.

Chicago scored both their runs on homers; one by Larry Doby in the second inning and another by Walt Dropo in the eighth.

The Mick is now eight games behind Babe Ruth's record-setting pace of 1927.

In the National League the Milwaukee Braves moved to within one percentage point of the Brooklyn Dodgers by coming from behind with two runs in the eighth inning to down Pittsburgh 6-4. Brooklyn dropped a 6-5 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The big blow of the Braves-Buc game was a 2-run single by Johnny Logan. Hank Aaron opened the Braves' eighth with a single. Ed Mathews then singled sending Aaron to second. Bobby Thomson advanced both runners with a sacrifice and set things up for Logan's game-winning single.

Milwaukee used their fine pitching depth to advantage sending five hurlers against the Pirates. Sleather pitched a scoreless seventh inning to receive credit for the win. Bob Trowbridge came on in the eighth, but was relieved by Spahn in the ninth.

Brooklyn's league lead was trimmed to one percentage point when the St. Louis Cardinals came back in the ninth inning on Ken Boyer's 2-out 2-run home run to win 6-5.

The Philadelphia Phillies virtually ruined Cincinnati's chances for a National League pennant yesterday when they beat the Red Legs twice, 4-3 and 7-4.

The third place Red Legs are 4½ games off the pace and still have nine games left to play. While still mathematically in contention, it would take a near miracle for Birdie Tebbetts' power hitters to come out on top.

Kansas City beat the Boston Red Sox 6-5 a 2-out home run by Lou Skizas.

The A's went into the seventh inning with a 4-0 lead but Ted Williams hit his 23rd home run of the season and the Sox added another run on two singles and a throwing error by Vic Power.

In the eighth the Red Sox went ahead 5-4 but Kansas City bounced back to tie the score at 5-5 in their half of the eighth. This set the stage for Skeizas' ninth inning blast.

Don Faurot May Retire At End of 1956 Season

Kansas City, Mo., (U.P.)—Don Faurot of Missouri, the inventor of modern split-T football and one of the nation's veteran coaches, apparently is going to call it quits after this season, whether or not his Tigers rise to new heights as expected.

Reports have circulated for almost a year that the greying 54-year-old inventor of the sliding T was going to retire to only one job—that of being athletic director.

Now the word in Big Seven athletic circles is that Faurot plans to announce his retirement from coaching in the near future—maybe as early as this coming Saturday when the Tigers open at home against Oregon State.

Faurot would not comment on the reports. But he said last fall that he would step down as head man if he ever felt he "lost his touch." Last fall, however, he still felt he had it and wanted one more year to prove it.

The consensus is that Faurot and his Tigers will have the touch this season and go to the Orange Bowl. All that is required to do so is to beat the other five "little" members of the Big Seven since mighty Oklahoma can't return.

Faurot doesn't have a contract as a coach although he's been guiding Missouri for 18 years and has a 97-74-9 record, winning the conference championship in 1939, 1941, and 1942. His teams made four bowl trips, the Orange in 1939, Sugar in 1941, and the Gator in 1948 and 1949.

A star himself at Missouri in undergraduate days, Faurot was called back to Missouri in 1935 only 10 years after graduation and has coached there ever since—except for a three-year navy tour from 1943 to 1945.

He made his famous contribution to football at the navy's Iowa Pre-Flight school when he smoothed out the sliding T pattern from a play he was experimenting with at Missouri.

DON FAUROT

The idea was to keep the quarterback on the line of scrimmage, sliding to either right or left, instead of spinning or backing up as in the straight T formation attack then gaining popularity.

Faurot passed the idea on to a pair of aides at Iowa Pre-Flight, Jim Tatum and Bud Wilkinson. Wilkinson, coach of the national champion Oklahoma Sooners, said in his book, "Oklahoma Split-T Football," that "it is my opinion that through his split-T developments Don has made the most original contribution to football in the past 20 years."

At any rate it is the most common attack in use today and will be widely used in football this Saturday. Besides Oregon State at Missouri, Texas Christian is at Kansas, Oklahoma A&M at Kansas State, South Dakota at Nebraska and Oregon at Colorado in the Big Seven.

Injuries Take Toll Of Buffalo Gridders

(U.P.)—Coach Dal Ward faced the prospect of patched-up first string to throw against Oregon Saturday, after injuries benched center Jim Uhler and junior half-back Dick Harkins dropped out of Colorado university.

Bus Mertes has the same problem with a full injury list.

Harkins left the campus Tuesday, keeping his own counsel. Then Uhler, who had missed most of fall practice because of an old back injury, was idled by the same complaint at practice Tuesday. He was a doubtful starter against Oregon.

Ward said Harkins' withdrawal "doesn't help us any, but the right-half picture has been so jumbled that I honestly don't know how much it will hurt, if any." Ward moved Charlie Brown up to center to replace Uhler.

Hayes Shows Speed, Fulfills Mertes' Need

By ED KOCHER

Jerry Hayes, a small man with big ideas about how to score touchdowns, is carving himself a solid spot at starting right halfback this season.

Although temporarily unable to go full speed because of a pulled leg muscle, Hayes is expected to be ready to go against Oklahoma A&M on Saturday.

The speedy, 5-4½, 161 pound giant not only runs well, but blocks as hard as any man in the league for his size, according to coach Bus Mertes.

"Jerry has good football speed and is a vicious tackler as well," Mertes said. "He is typical of this year's team, showing hustle, good attitude, and a tremendous desire to win."

In the Wildcats first intra-squad game, Hayes proved his ability by scoring three touchdowns and setting up another with a 59-yard run.

While attending El Dorado high school Hayes earned a total of seven letters. He got three in football, three in baseball, and one in tumbling. He explained the tumbling experience has taught him to be more relaxed when taking spills in other sports.

Hayes is a transfer to K-State from El Dorado junior college where he made the junior college all-conference team for two years. He plans on going on to dental school after graduation from K-State.

"This year's squad might not have the size and depth of last year, but the difference would be more than made up by its added speed, tremendous hustle, and fighting spirit," Hayes said. "All the boys are good leaders, and they are the best batch of fellows I've ever known."

Hayes said he would like to see the Wildcats take first or second in the Big Seven. "We'll do our best but it would really help if the student body would turn out and back us to the finish. If we get that kind of support we can beat Oklahoma A&M."

'Round And Around

Lineup Shifts Continue As Injuries Plague Cats

Coach Bus Mertes continued to make personnel changes in the Cats forward wall Tuesday afternoon as injuries continued to play an important role in K-State's football situation.

Biggest switch in the lineup was at the tackle position where just Monday Jon Walker had been moved up to the first unit. During the Tuesday session, however, Len Legault was moved to the first string tackle position replacing Ellis Rainsberger who moved over to left guard. Don Martin was dropped to the second team to make way for Rainsberger.

Sophomores Gene Meier and Howard Hodge, tackle and end respectively, both ran at part-time duty during the Tuesday session. Meier had been laid up with a side injury while Hodge suffered a severe leg bruise.

Halfback Jerry Hayes was held out of scrimmage work yesterday after pulling a muscle in the Monday afternoon practice. He is expected to be ready to go by Saturday although.

Drills continued to be loaded with heavy contact work as the coaching staff ran two complete units in offensive and defensive scrimmage during yesterday's session. Mertes termed the Tuesday afternoon work as "just fair."

The first unit Tuesday were: ends, Don Zadnik and George Ladish; tackles, Len Legault and Jon Walker; guards, Ellis Rainsberger and Rudy Bletscher; center, Chuck Sprinkle; quarterback, Keith Wilson; halfbacks, Kenny Nesmith and Tony Addeo; and fullback, Ralph Pfeifer.

Working on the second team were ends, Craig Jones and Jim Luzinski; tackles, Bill Lindsey and Jack Keelan; guards, Don Martin and Jaydee Stinson; center, Jerry Sand; quarterback, Gene Keady; halfbacks, Ron Beshk and Ben Grosse; and fullback, Bill Carrington.

The freshmen ran plays against the varsity.

Andy Stewart, Chuck Norris and Ray Glaze will miss the Oklahoma A&M game this week with Stewart and Glaze not expected to return until after the Colorado game a week from Saturday. Stewart is out with a broken hand while Glaze is recovering from an operation. Norris is out with a leg injury.

Fall Grid Drills Rugged

Football drills at Kansas State this fall were designed for ruggedness. During the Wildcats' two-a-day drills—from August 31 through September 12—they worked from 7 to 8:30 a.m.; met with coaches from 11 to 12; had more meetings between 1 and 3 p.m.; ran afternoon drills from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and attended night "chalktalks" at 7:30 p.m.

Pre-Enrollment Is Scheduled For December

Pre-enrollment of all students is scheduled to begin December 3 and continue through December 21. E. M. Gerritz, director of admissions and registrar announced yesterday.

Seniors will pre-enroll and pull cards on December 3, 4, and 5. Junior are scheduled for December 6, 7, and 10. Proof tickets are to be completed on Saturday morning, December 8, but the course cards will not be available for pulling at that time. From December 11 to 21, any student may pre-enroll, including juniors and seniors who did not do so during their scheduled period. Pre-advisement will still precede pre-enrollment.

Students failing at mid-semester will not be permitted to pre-enroll, as a failure at the end of the semester would require a change in courses.

Further details of the pre-enrollment plan will be published at a later date.

Traditional Aggie Tank Will Lose Prominence

"The traditional aggie horse tank will not hold its usual prominence in Ag Week this year, as the aggies plan to stress agriculture and the Ag School," according to Ray Zimmerman, Ag Week manager.

In the past the aggie horse tank has been used all week, and all non-conforming aggies were dunked. In an effort to make Ag Week more constructive each departmental club will sponsor a booth to advertise their club and department.

Last year the Ag association changed their queen's title from Barnwarmer Queen to Ag Queen, and this year she will be the Ag School Queen. Throughout the coming school year the queen will have a complimentary ticket to attend all department or co-educational banquets in the Ag School.

Selection of the final queen candidates from a group of coeds nominated from each sorority and girls dorm will be accomplished at the Ag Seminar September 27.

The queen chores contest, for the final candidates, will be in the north campus parking lot October 5, at 7 p.m.

This year's celebration of Ag Week during October 1 to 6, will be climaxed by the crowning of the Queen at the Barnwarmer in the main ballroom of the Student Union October 6.

Tickets for the Barnwarmer will be on sale during Ag Week and at the dance. Final voting for the Queen will be at the dance.

Jimmy Pierson's orchestra will furnish the music for both modern and square dancing. All college students are invited to attend, Paul Faidley, Barnwarmer manager, said.

During Ag Week all Ag students will wear the traditional blue jeans, red bandanas, and plaid shirts.

Each departmental club will have booths on the main floor of Waters hall by October 5.

Pledges 'Yelled-In' At Tri-Delt House

Delta Delta Delta sorority pledges were officially "yelled-in" yesterday afternoon in a ceremony at the Tri-Delt house.

The "yell-in," introduced on the K-State social scene last year by the same sorority, is a tradition on many campuses. New pledges are introduced to fraternity men for the first time or "yelled-in" at a special ceremony.

As Tri-Delt president Sharon Diamond introduced each new pledge, she stepped through a delta of pine boughs and gave her name, hometown, and major. Thirty-two girls were introduced in this manner.

President Says a True Peace Is Prosperity, Tolerance

"PEACE is not a prize but a quest," President Eisenhower said last night in his nationally televised initial campaign speech.

He explained that a true peace would mean not only a world free from war, but also an abundant life for all peoples, a prosperous economy, and a tolerance of every race and creed.

IKE said that in a world confronted with "grave problems" America is ready to dedicate itself "to serving the needs, rather than the fears of the world."

The President's address was built upon one word—peace. He said that "out task is far from done and that the people of the world including the Soviet leaders, "must never be deceived—or delighted—by any myth of American weakness."

EISENHOWER started his campaign kickoff by saying that he has a personal kind of peace "granted to me by the Almighty."

He then said, "It is this firm conviction: I am confident of my own physical strength to meet all the responsibilities of the presidency, today and in the years just ahead. If I were not so convinced, I would never have accepted re-nomination to this office."

"I HOPE this conviction—this peace of mind—may bring assurance to many others, as I stand ready to serve as your President for another four years, if this be your will."

That was his only reference to the illness which he suffered in the past years—a heart attack and a major intestinal disorder.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower continued to say that we cannot waste time congratulating ourselves for our high standard of living and extensive progress in the area of human welfare "so long as any family in this land unjustly suffers need."

"Peace has a special meaning for our nation's industry," said the President. "We have made real progress toward industrial peace, and the reward, for our country has been two-fold. Industry has smashed all records of production and expansion.

THE PRESIDENT, mentioning our agricultural community, spoke of the special meaning of peace for the farmer. He said, "We must develop and live by policies that are truly constructive—we must never, in a spirit of partisan warfare, treat the farmer as a kind of political prize to be fought for and captured."

Bringing out the concept of equality of men, the President insisted that "each group in our nation may have special problems, but none has special rights. And the supreme concern, equal for all, is the justice, the opportunity, and the unity shared by 168 million Americans."

PRESIDENT Eisenhower made the pledge on inauguration in January, 1953, that "in our quest for an honorable peace, we shall neither compromise, nor tire, nor ever cease," indicating the facts that have upheld this pledge, he compared life today with life in 1952. Fighting in Korea has ended in "peace with honor." The threat of communism was met in Iran, and the country is now free. West Germany, following military occupation, is now sovereign and joined with the West. Trieste is now at peace, and Austria is unoccupied and free.

He said these examples testify to our even greater goal, "to ease, for all men everywhere, the burden of arms and of fears."

THE PRESIDENT continued to say that we have declared a new kind of war, not upon a human enemy, but against the devastating forces of need and deprivation. He said, "We have done this with our offer of nuclear material for world use . . . with that I might call an open minds spirit in our diplomacy."

He listed four serious problems of the world that we must face: a struggle for freedom over the world, the power of nuclear weapons, the threat of Communism, and the industrial challenge of the Soviet Union.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower concluded with suggestions for meeting these threats. He said we must maintain our military strength, act with the knowledge that peace can be found only with wider markets and rising living standards, and put our effort and skill in diplomacy to prevent a World War III.

Nasser Wants Suez Peace, Egyptian Grad Student Says

By BOB PATTERSON

"President Nasser of Egypt doesn't want trouble with other powers of the world," says Ahmed El-Sibale, K-State graduate student from Egypt. Ahmed says, "Nasser did the only thing that was possible for him to do in nationalizing the Suez Waterway."

Ahmed said "Egypt is very fertile and to keep it fertile Nasser has nationalized the Suez to bring in funds for the building of the Aswan Dam. Nasser's proposal of nationalizing the canal was for the good of the country, Ahmed said.

"Nationalizing the canal would have come about in 1968, but funds were needed at this time to build Aswan Dam. The population of Egypt would have grown out of proportion before the dam would have been able to help keep the soil fertile.

"Nasser asked England and the United States to support him and finance the building of the dam. When England and the United States withdrew their offers, Nasser had nothing else to do but open the canal to nationalization.

"Nasser is using this nationalization to bring in money for the building of the dam through the income of the canal.

"Nasser's decision was of the sovereign kind and he has cause to believe that there will be no major outbreak of war. Nasser thinks that the United States, England, or both will support him and that Russia will not interfere since this would only be a portion of what she would need to gain by taking over the running of the canal.

"England and France were both hurt in the nationalization of the canal in that they used it for transportation of oil and industry. France has been hurt because most of her income was gained by using the canal. Now that she has to use her own pilots to run the ships, she loses money in that the pilots are incapable of piloting ships through the canal.

"England had occupied Egypt for seventy years and then left, giving Nasser complete command so that he could nationalize the canal and it would be his privilege. Nasser is looking for international supervision, but since they can't come to an agreement, there has to be some other way in which to draw funds to build Aswan Dam.

The international committee wasn't successful because it feared Egypt would close the Suez. Nasser has said that he would not block the canal, but needs the funds as soon as possible to build the dam. Nationalization will bring the needed income for the financing.

"The final conclusion of whether England or the United States will support the financing of the dam will soon come. If it doesn't come soon, Nasser has no choice but to keep the canal in its nationalized state. Everything depends on the decision of Secretary of State John Dulles or Prime Minister Anthony Eden of England. Nasser would like to have the support of the western powers rather than to give way to Russia.

Don't Say 'Hot Rod' Call it A Jalopy

Opinions expressed in letters are those of the writers and do not necessarily reflect the policy of the Collegian. The Editor reserves the right to edit the letters to conform to public law and to the standards of decency and good taste upheld by most newspapers, and to fit space limitations. No letter may exceed 250 words. Unsigned letters will not be published.

Dear Editor:

YESTERDAY'S Collegian had this quote from Mr. Case Bonebrake, an engineer at the physical plant. "The usual number of hot rods, no mufflers, and burning around corners is going on but will be stopped."

I am sure Mr. Bonebrake's misuse of the word hot rod is unintentional, but I have noticed that this word is misused often in newspapers. The word "hot rod" has a meaning. It is in Webster's dictionary. There is nothing illegal about a hot rod. A hot rod is a specialized high performance automobile, much the same as a sports car.

Mr. Bonebrake could have used jalopies, junky cars, or one of many other terms to describe the vehicles in question, but never HOT ROD.

Supply of Free Polio Vaccine Now Is Limited

Only a limited supply of state-furnished polio vaccine is available for students under 20, Dr. B. W. Lafene, Student Health director, announced.

"Students who haven't received their free shots should get theirs as soon as possible," he said.

"Another supply of vaccine arrived recently for students over 21. Commercially available vaccine may be obtained at actual cost," he said.

Lafene said the National Polio foundation announced recently that polio vaccinations do not always prevent polio but do prevent its paralyzing effects.

"A child in Manhattan was stricken with polio last week, after having received two vaccinations. She was not paralyzed, however, and was able to return to school within a few days," Lafene said.

Adlai To Counterattack GOP 'Truth Squads'

Compiled from the Wires of the United Press by Lance Gilmore

Washington, Sept. 20 (U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson mapped a counterattack today against the Republican project of following up Democratic campaigners with "truth squads."

Stevenson's press secretary, Clayton Fritchey, said the Democratic presidential nominee would have "a few well-chosen remarks" to make on the subject in a speech tonight at nearby Silver Springs, Md.

He said Stevenson remarked to his staff that "It is significant the Republicans can make page one headlines by promising to tell the truth."

Boone Awaits Mamie

Boone, Iowa, Sept. 20 (U.P.)—Mamie Eisenhower's hometown buzzed excitedly today awaiting the arrival of the President and his first lady but it was just a visit by "the folks" for the Joel Carlsons.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower were scheduled to arrive here late this afternoon for an overnight stay with Mrs. Eisenhower's uncle and his wife, Joel and Caroline Carlson.

They'll stay in the two-story white frame home at 420 Monona street which was built in 1870 by Mrs. Eisenhower's maternal grandparents.

It is the house where Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, was born. Mamie herself was born just 3 1/2 blocks away.

Banners and flags marked the route the Eisenhowers would take through this central Iowa community of 12,500 when they arrive about 5:45 p.m.

Mrs. Carlson, however, was taking the impending visit in stride. "Yes, the folks are coming," she said when the news first came.

He was Robert L. King, a 49-year-old negro who had been the object of a police search since last February.

FOOTBALL: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

At next Saturday's football game, while you are sitting in your choice student's seat on the ten-yard line, won't you give a thought to Alaric Sigafos?

Who, you ask, is Alaric Sigafos? Come closer, sit down, light a Philip Morris, savor that natural tobacco goodness, sigh contentedly, cross your fat little legs, and listen.

Alaric Sigafos (1868-1934) started life humbly on a farm near Thud, Kansas. His mother and father, both named Ralph, were bean-gleaners, and Alaric became a bean-gleaner too. But he soon tired of the work and went to Memphis where he got a job with a logging firm. Here the ex-bean-gleaner worked as a stump-thumper. Then he drifted to Texas where he tidied up oil fields (pipe-wiper). Then to Arizona where he strung dried fruit (fig-rigger). Then to Virginia where he was a research assistant (book-looker). Then to Long Island where he dressed poultry (duck-plucker). Then to California where he lectured young women who were about to get married (bride-chider). Then to Minnesota where he cut up frozen lakes (ice-slicer). Then to Nevada where he determined the odds in a gambling house (dice-pricer). Then to Milwaukee where he pasted camera lenses together (Zeiss-splicer).

Finally he went to Omaha where he got a job in a tannery, beating pig-hides until they were soft and supple (hog-flogger). Here he found happiness at last.

He found happiness at last...

Why, you ask, did he find happiness at last as a hog-flogger? Light another firm and fragrant Philip Morris, taste that true tobacco flavor, puff, relax, let sweet lassitude possess your limbs, and listen.

Next door to the hog-floggery was an almond grove owned by a girl named Chimera Emrick. Chimera was pink and white and marvelously hinged, and Alaric was hopelessly in love the moment he clapped eyes on her. Each day he came to the almond grove to woo Chimera, but to no avail. He tried with all his vigor and guile, but she, alas, stayed cool.

Then one day Alaric got a brilliant idea. It was the day before the annual Omaha Almond Festival. On this day, as we all know, every almond grower in Omaha enters a float in the big parade. The floats always consist of large cardboard almonds hanging from large cardboard almond trees.

Alaric's inspiration was to stitch pieces of pigskin together and inflate them until they looked like big, plump almonds. "These sure beat skinny old cardboard almonds," said Alaric to himself. "Tomorrow they will surely take first prize for Chimera, and she will be mine!"

Early the next morning Alaric came running to Chimera with his inflated pigskin almonds, but she, alas, told him she was not entering a float that year. In fact, she had just sold her almond grove and was moving East to try out with the Boston Red Sox.

Alaric, upon hearing these glum tidings, flew into a violent rage. He started kicking his pigskin almonds all over the place. And who should be walking by at that very instant but Abner Doubleday!

Mr. Doubleday, who had invented baseball some years earlier, was now trying to invent football, but without success. The trouble was, he couldn't figure out what kind of ball to use. Now, seeing Alaric kick the pigskin spheroids, his problem was suddenly solved. "Eureka!" he cried, and ran to his drawing board, and the rest is history!

Crafts Display Is Second In Free Fair Competition

A silver and gold wedding crown, silver cufflinks, and an evening stole were included in K-State's second-place crafts exhibit at the Topeka Free Fair September 8-13.

This exhibit may now be viewed in the Student Union State Room and the Dive.

KU took top ranking in the crafts division, but according to Kurt J. Matzdorf, art professor, KU is able to work with their students several years in crafts while we work with most of our students only one semester.

Displays included items made in the courses of metal crafts and jewelry, ceramics I, design and crafts I, and weaving I.

One of the highlights of the K-State exhibit was an engraved silver wedding crown made by Greta Kolterman Anderson, HEA Sr. A pure gold cross sits at the front and twelve cultured pearls stand on points around the crown. Greta wore the crown in her wedding September 1.

Silver cufflinks with green malachite sets and a copper bowl made by Rosa Lee Urban Nelson, HEA Jr, was also displayed.

Frances Russell, HE Sr, wore a navy blue, yellow, and white patterned stole. It is made of nylon and cashmere and can be worn either as a head stole or an evening stole. A walnut serving tray, a silver ring, and a hand wrought copper bowl made by Frances were also exhibited.

A copper candy dish with a silver trim was made by Joyce Simpson, MEI Sr.

Patricia Hibbs, HT Sr, made a large copper and sterling lapel pin and a sterling bowl.

Helen Bartz, HEA Gr, made a silver candy dish, and Delaine Smith Stalker, HEA Gr, offered a sterling cream pitcher, a large walnut bowl, copper and silver cufflinks, and orange and blue table mats.

A mahogany relish dish, red and white enameled ear rings, and a leather jewel box were Katherine Takahashi's, HT Sr, addition to the exhibit, while Gaye Fryer, HEJ Sr, displayed a leather waste basket and a wooden candy dish.

Ann Folsche, HT Sr, designed a thin mahogany bowl and cufflinks and Carol Cooper, HEA Soph, made a walnut salad bowl.

Pieces of pottery made by Ben Ireland, Art grad, Joyce Knepper, HEA Jr, Ilse Reiling, Art Jr, Carole Fox, HEA Jr and Greta Kolterman Anderson, were displayed.

Everything was handmade, according to Matzdorf, and no machinery was used except the buffing machine.

The craft courses are offered to "any one who is talented in art and who is willing to work," he said. "The purpose is to develop a sense of design and to develop student creativeness, he added.

Six Cats Will Not Play Against Oklahoma A&M

Six Wildcats have definitely been counted out of action for Saturday's opener with Oklahoma A&M as injuries continue to play an important part in the Cats' football plans.

The six counted out of Saturday's action include Andy Stewart, second string guard, with a broken hand; Bob Potoski, reserve end, pulled shoulder muscle; Chuck Norris, reserve halfback, leg bruise; Mike Kinsella, second string halfback, twisted knee; Ray Glaze, reserve fullback, side bruise; and Arlan Dettmer, reserve halfback, shoulder bruise.

Wally Carlson moved up to the first unit in Wednesday's practice session after being lifted from the injured list. Carlson replaced Ellis Rainsberger at the left guard position with Rainsberger moved back to his original tackle spot.

Len LeGault was dropped to the second string to make way for Rainsberger at the starting tackle position. Jon Walker is playing the other tackle spot.

Don Zadnik and George Laddish continued to hold down the first unit end positions with Rudy Bletscher working at the right guard spot. Chuck Sprinkle was the center.

Ralph Pfeifer, fullback, and Kenny Nesmith, halfback, are the only likely starters in the backfield. Keith Wilson and Dick Corbin will battle for the quarterback position with either Jerry Hayes or Tony Addeo scheduled to open at the other halfback spot.

Practice tapered off at the Wednesday session with the Cats working on play patterns and defense during the two and a half hour workout.

Profs To Bowl October 2nd

The faculty men's bowling league will begin play October 2 and 3, Philip Wright, chairman of the Union games committee, said. Each team will play four round-robin matches for a 30-week period.

The tentative schedule allows room for 24 teams, enough to form three separate leagues which will bowl on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The early leagues will roll at 6 p.m., and the late leagues at 8 p.m. Teams will alternate their starting time regularly from week to week, that is, one week a team will begin bowling at 7 p.m., and the following week at 8 p.m.

Rates for bowling will be announced within the next week as well as a decision regarding the sanctioning of the leagues by the American Bowling Congress. Half of the total fee must be paid before October 2, with the balance due on or before February 6. Two leagues will bowl on Wednesday night and one on Tuesday.

Entry forms can be filled out in the Union activities center, until 5 p.m. Friday, September 28. Because of the problem of getting the correct number of teams necessary to form leagues, entries will be placed in leagues on a first-come and first-serve basis.

Rainsberger Survives Shifts For Probable Starting Spot

WILDCAT GRID captain Ellis Rainsberger will probably start left tackle Saturday against Oklahoma A&M. The Cat lineman has been shifted several times in pre-season workouts.

By BILL WHISTLER
Despite a series of position changes in pre-season football practice it's almost a cinch that Wildcat football captain Ellis Rainsberger will start at left tackle in Saturday's game with Oklahoma A&M.
The junior letterman is equally versatile at the guard or tackle spot, but due to a combination of injuries Rainsberger's position has been in doubt.

"The guy is capable of playing anywhere," said Head Coach Bus Mertes, "and with his determination and great heart for the game I have the utmost confidence in him."
Ellis earned a starting berth on the Cat squad last season after his 1955 spring drill showing. He broke into the guard spot last year after the Colorado game where he was playing tackle.

He then went on to show he was one of the mainstays of the squad when he made Player of the Week, along with Jim Rusher, for his fine defensive showing against Iowa State.
Rainsberger gained added laurels when he was named to Missouri university's all-Big Seven team in 1955. Prior to entering the army in 1952 Ellis played college football as a freshman at Missouri U.
Ellis has alternated at the tackle and guard spots in scrimmage this fall, but will probably get the nod to go at left tackle, according to Bus Mertes.
"Ellis is a valuable player and K-State is fortunate to have a boy of his caliber on it's team," Mertes said. "The players and coaches all have the highest respect for him."
"Guts can describe Rainsberger better than anything else I can add," said Paul DeWeese, sports publicity director, who has equal respect for Ellis.
Asked about what he thought of his series of position changes, Rainsberger's only comment was, "I'll do my best wherever they put me."
Ellis, whose home is in East St. Louis, Ill., lettered in football, track and baseball in high school at Christian Brothers college of Memphis, Tenn.
Also a heavyweight on the Cat varsity wrestling team, Ellis "often takes on men almost twice his size," and is an inspiration to his fellow wrestlers.
Rainsberger worked as a laborer for the Socony Vacuum company this summer to keep in shape. He is married and is the father of a two-year-old girl and a boy eight months old. He majors in physical education.

Bums Back in First, Braves Play Today

Brooklyn's Dodgers moved back into first place in the frantic National League pennant scramble yesterday as the Bums trounced the St. Louis Cardinals 17-2. The win put the Dodgers half a game ahead of the idle Milwaukee Braves who play today.
Don Newcombe got credit for the win, his 25th this season, and became the first Dodger hurler in 32 years to reach the quarter century mark.
Big Newk also hit a pair of home runs, not unusual for him, to contribute to the highest run total of the year by any club.

double header from the Phils, 6-3 and 6-0.
The double wins moved the Red Legs to within four games of the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. Cincinnati coupled the long ball with fine 3-hit pitching by Tom Acker in the nightcap, with Johnny Klippstein winning the opener.

Newcombe, who hasn't lost a game since July, was taken out in the seventh inning by Manager Walter Alston to rest up for the grind ahead.
In Philadelphia, the Cincinnati Red Legs refused to throw in the towel in the dash for the flag by sweeping both ends of a two-night

(The Pigskin Prognostications contest has been set up for the benefit of the many Saturday morning experts at K-State. Clip this, write your predictions, and put it into the wooden box near the Collegian distribution point in Anderson hall. All entries must be in by Saturday at noon. The K-State football expert of the week will be announced Monday.)

Grid Contest To Be Featured

Arise, all Saturday morning experts on K-State football! The Collegian sports department, as last year, will feature the person who guesses closest to the actual score, first downs, rushing yardage, and passing yardage in each Saturday's K-State football contest this season (September 22-November 24).
Any K-State student may clip the above Pigskin Prognostications entry blank, fill it out, and drop it in the box provided at the Collegian distribution point in Anderson hall.
The winner may then sit back and wait for a phone call from the Collegian sports department. We will interview the winner and publish a feature article about him. Entries must be in the box by noon Saturday.
In his long career in football as player and coach, Bus Mertes, Kansas State grid boss, has picked up his share of nicknames and colorful titles. But strangest by far was the tag given him this fall by Sol Kampf, Wildcat assistant coach. Sol, who is equally good at puns and scouting K-State opponents, refers to Mertes as "the man in the gray flannel sweat suit."

Jamboree and Rally Set for Aggieville

Aggieville will be jumping tonight as K-Staters attend the Aggieville jamboree and hold a pep rally in front of the Campus theater.

The jamboree from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. will have prizes, free refreshments, and dancing. Matt Betton and his band will play, and this year's jamboree will feature the addition of a square-dance band.

Businessmen are sponsoring guessing games and drawings. Most of the Aggieville stores will be open during the jamboree.

At 9 p.m., an all-College pep rally will begin. Matt Betton will act as master of ceremonies. Ernie Barrett of the Alumni association will give a pep talk, and assistant coach Herb Cormack and two football players will be present.

The eight cheerleaders will be introduced, and members of Purple Pepsters will be present as a part of their initiation.

Future evening rallies are being planned and will be on the south lawn of the Student Union, according to head cheerleader Larry Youngdoff, BA Jr.

Students are looking forward eagerly to this year's jamboree.

"I thought it was a lot of fun last year, and I think this year's jamboree will be even better," Kathy Schultis, HEJ Soph, said. "The jamboree is a wonderful idea and is a good kickoff for the school year."

"I think it's a great mixer, especially for freshmen, and a lot of fun for everyone," was the comment of Carol Cilek, Sp Soph.

Pastels To Play For All-College Dance in Union

The Pastels, who played for last spring's Military Ball, will be featured at the first all-College dance of the year Saturday night in the Union.

This nine-piece band, under the direction of Marshall McNutt, will play in the Union's main ballroom from 9 to 12 p.m. Tickets are on sale in the Union today and Saturday.

In keeping with the "Aggie Kickoff Time" theme, K-State's Wildcat and Oklahoma A&M's Pistol Pete mascot will be vying for top honors on a football-be-decked ceiling.

Couples only will be admitted for 50 cents and dress will be casual, according to Tom Bowman, ChE Jr, chairman of the dance committee.

BY ROGER MYERS

A young, speedy, thin-ranked K-State football squad will open its 1956 football season tomorrow afternoon against an equally young and an aerial-minded Oklahoma A&M team.

The Wildcat lineup will include only two men who squared off for the season opener last season. The other nine probably will include three sophomores and six members of the 1955 reserves.

Cat coach Bus Mertes admits that sophomores are a calculated risk in early season games. But he still sees Wildcat rookies as adding strength.

"I think we have more spirit and hustle than last year," Mertes said. "Of course, you never know what will happen in game action until it comes. You always look good playing yourself."

Because the Wildcats' thin 43-man squad had suffered numerous minor injuries, Mertes vetoed heavy scrimmage work most of this week even though "It is the time we should have been hitting hardest. We just didn't feel we could risk any more bruises."

Thursday workouts were limited to handoff practice and running. Today's session will consist of running and exercises.

"Right now we're about as prepared as we can be," Mertes said. "I know we'll get a 100 per cent effort from our boys; they'll give it everything they have."

MAKE WAY FOR KING FOOTBALL—Three trumpeters strike a happy note—beat Oklahoma A&M—as they practice on their 4½-foot herald trumpets for tomorrow's game. The three, (left to right) Louis Burmeister, ME Sr, Stanley Harris, PrV Jr, and Terry Fanning, AEd Jr, plus Bill Brethour, AEd Jr, will be playing these trumpets throughout the football season.

New Trumpets Herald Coming of Grid Season

Four bandmen will herald the 1956 football season tomorrow afternoon with 4½-foot trumpets that will be used throughout the season for fanfares.

Louis Burmeister, ME Sr; Terry Fanning, AEd Jr; Stanley Harris, PrV Jr; and Bill Brethour, AEd Jr, will play the trumpets which resemble a regular horn with the tubing stretched out.

Purple and white satin "K" banners, made by Mrs. Jean Hedlund, will be attached to the trumpets in true medieval fashion.

The herald or "Aida" trumpet sounds much like the familiar trumpet but has a richer tone. The four men will be used only as trumpeters, according to Jean Hedlund, bandleader.

K-State's six cheerleaders will also be doing their bit to cheer the Purple and White to victory tomorrow. Head cheerleader Larry Youngdoff, BA Jr, said that he and his assistant, Marilyn Adams, EEd Jr, have been working on new yells and have been working out for the past two weeks getting ready for tomorrow's game.

The six cheerleaders completing the octette are Jack Hill, ArE Soph; Ted Denescha, BAA Soph; Larry Karlen, PrV Jr; Judy Gladish, BMT Soph; Adelia Johnson, HE Soph; and Sandy Culver, BA Soph.

The football crowd will have a special welcome at the Student Union tomorrow, according to Loren V. Kottner, Union director.

"Special plans, including music and decorations, are being made. We hope the Union will be the 'living room of the campus' for the game," he said.

Motorcyclist from Mexico Roars After an Education

BY PAUL BOCQUIN

A new K-Stater roared into Manhattan last week from his home in Mexico, making a motorcycle trip of about 3,000 miles.

"I just love the sport of motorcycling and thought a motorcycle would come in handy at school," said Malcolm Gehrke, Agr Fr.

"A motorcycle is cheaper than most forms of transportation and I enjoy riding mine," Malcolm added. "My mother drove behind in our car to bring along my things."

Malcolm has made four other long motorcycle trips, but this was the longest. He rode 2,000 miles from border to border in Mexico four years ago at the age of 14. He also made three other trips in Mexico of about 1,000 miles each.

Malcolm lives about 100 miles from the Guatemalan border on a coffee plantation owned by his father.

"I'm going to Costa Rica to specialize in coffee-making after I graduate," he said.

University of California Pair Go on Genuine 'Big Blast'

By Mary Beckmeyer

AT THE University of California, a University graduate student and a recent graduate threw a real "blast" at Edwards field and as a result ended up in the Berkeley jail.

The two set off a homemade cannon loaded with 400 grains of black powder. The resulting blast startled Berkeleyites out of their chairs for blocks around and put the two noise makers in jail on charges of feloniously setting off an explosion.

A COLORADO University assistant professor of journalism was fined $100 for shooting to death the dog of Frank C. Potts, track coach at the university. Chris J. Burns, assistant professor of journalism, admitted he shot Pott's collie-police dog after seeing it attack his own dachshund last July 29.

"I lost my temper," Burns testified. "I felt bad about it and I still do. I took the law into my own hands and I don't think that's defensible."

And what does Potts think about Burns? Well as Elvis would say, "Burns ain't nothin but a hound dog."

A SOPHOMORE student at the University of Oklahoma has been suspended from the university for one semester. The action was taken as a result of the student's (1) drinking in a fraternity house, (2) unauthorized entry into another fraternity house, (3) unauthorized removal of private property from that house and (4) damage to private property within the other fraternity house.

AT THE University of California, a new on-campus party, called the Turf-Burners, has been formed to combat the Northern California Male Citizens' Council, and the Subcommittee to Save the World.

The purpose of the new organization is "to prevent unnecessary bloodshed and civil strife on campus," which has threatened, due to the current agitation to segregate the sexes in the rooting section, and its counter-movement, integration of the sexes.

THE TURF-BURNERS hope to achieve their goal through abolition of the sport of football which, according to Turf spokesmen, "has caused all the trouble." The Turfers plan to replace football with "compromise, liberty, equality, fraternity, sorority, social justice and weekly soccer festivals."

The Turf-Burners pointed out that they are "all for sex, whether integrated or segregated." They will carry out their campaign "through clear and logical thinking."

Stevenson Charges Eisenhower Tells 'Only Half the Facts' of Peace Outlook

By UNITED PRESS

Washington (U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson packed his bags today for another campaign tour, charging President Eisenhower told "only half the facts" about the outlook for peace and progress.

THE Democrat presidential nominee, winding up a week of staff planning here, motored to suburban Silver Springs, Md., last night to reply sharply to the President's Wednesday night television talk.

Stevenson accused the President of

POGO HEADQUARTERS — Pogo's continued absence from this convention city has convinced his 456 unseated delegates that there is a possibility he has taken a few weeks off until the present political situation "blows over," according to party spokesman Walt Kelly, a cartoonist. "We have a feeling that the candidate believes he has every chance to gain the nomination hands down and that his natural-born modesty prevents him from making an appearance at this time."

PRESSED on the question of Pogo's continued availability in the face of his undeniable non-presence Mr. Kelly assured a group of delegates that Pogo was just as ready now as he was four years ago when he first heard the clarion call of duty. "It is not that Pogo is afraid to show up here as many allegators have said," explained Press Secretary Tom Brophy.

"It is just that he wants to give everybody a fair chance. For him to making "misleading implications" when he talked about "and dismissed curtly" two Stevenson proposals.

ONE was that the United States explore ways of halting hydrogen bomb tests. The other was that this country consider whether the military draft might be ended.

Stevenson also said in his speech last night that "If the President intends to foreclose debate on these proposals, I think he does the nation a disservice and I must dissent and persist in my efforts to invite public attentions to matters of such grave concern as the hydrogen horror and national security."

STEVENSON said "The President gave us a reassuring picture of progress and peace in the world today. I think it is unfortunate that he chose again to state only half the facts."

He said the President talked of defending Formosa but "must have forgotten" that former President Truman sent the seventh fleet to defend the Chinese Nationalist island.

"WHEN he said 'we have seen an end to the old pattern of tragedy', he left out any reference to the ominous tensions which today mark Africa and the Middle East," Stevenson said.

"I do not believe that a political campaign excuses the President from a more objective candor about the state of affairs in the world," he said.

STEVENSON chided Mr. Eisenhower for telling Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and GOP campaign orators this week to go out and tell the truth.

"I hope that the new Republican emphasis on truth will start with the treatment of the crucial, sensitive issues of war and peace," he said.

sweep into the convention hall and take the nomination by storm would be undemocratic. He does not feel that he should dictate the nomination. Neither will he say who is for vice. He feels that the best man for the job would be the best man; whoever was for vice last time, unless he is shilly shallower, should be for vice again."

Asked if he might be quoted Mr. Brophy said, "No."

"We want no weasel words whatsoever. If a man was for vice in 1952 and can't be for vice in 1956, we feel he has swifched his position. He is using weasel words."

SHORTLY after this a weasel delegation from upper Michigan left in a huff, accompanied by an unidentified stranger. Significance was seep in this.

REMINDED that his delegates cannot vote if they are not seated, Kelly replied, "It may take some time to seat our delegates, not all of them bend in the right places for one thing, and considering some of the other delegates I've seen on display around here, I think that this is somewhat of a distinction." Kelly also refused to be quoted.

Castel Gondolfo, Italy—Pope Pius XII telling some 400 scientists from 22 countries their efforts to conquer space are legitimate:

"When God told man: Conquer the earth, he did not intend to limit the efforts of mankind to our planet, but to extend them to the whole created universe."

Boston—Confessed Brinks bandit Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe testifying how he and eight other defendants studied plans of the Brinks alarm system:

"Even Pino Anthony looked them over and he usually confines himself to comic books."

Little Rock, Ark.—A tombstone mysteriously appeared behind the house of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Key, recently. They decided it must have been delivered to the wrong address and proceeded to ignore it on the old theory that if you close your eyes to something long enough it will go away.

A few days later the tombstone did just that, vanishing as mysteriously as it had appeared.

Campus Water Program Tough Foe; Those Sprinklers Move When You Do

TALK about a blaze of glory! There we were in the basement of Anderson hall drinking from our jug of cider when up a Lucifer.

Actually, that has nothing to do with what I'm going to write about. (Especially since I have no idea what it will be.) But I've always wanted to write a column and I've always thought that a column should have a real different beginning.

WHILE dredging across the camp yesterday (I say dredging because that's what it is since they've started watering the grass.) I was accosted by a sprinkler. It seemed when I moved, it moved, and when I stood still, it did. I finally put on my Charles Atlas type swim suit and paddled across the grass (cow paths are back) to Kedzie hall, otherwise known as the journalists' death bed.

SPEAKING of grass—let's don't yet. An atomic rocket landed on the moon yesterday. The pilot alighted from the rocket, said "Cheese," got back in the rocket, and came home. I don't fully understand it, but so far I've figured out that he must have had his picture taken.

NOW let's speak of grass. I was walking—again, across the camp—again, and spied a son (about 3) and his pop (male type human) watching workmen laying sod. (They really were.) The little feller said, "Pop. I thought they planted it. I didn't know they just laid it on the ground." Pop took the little shaver to the Union and bought him a rum and Coca-Cola. Guess pop figured the kid wouldn't be any worse off intoxicated.

SO NOW we see that Elvis Presley (who causes female hearts to palpitate at the slightest quiver of his sideburns) has switched from "Heartbreak Hotel" to "Blue Moon." Believe me, the moon wasn't the only thing that was blue after I heard the record. I'll take Little Richard.—Don Marker

Mile-High Skyscraper Plans Told by Wright

Spring Green, Wis., Sept. 21 (U.P.)—Architect Frank Lloyd Wright today disclosed details of his proposed mile-high skyscraper, which would "rise like a rapier in the sky" above Chicago's lakefront. "It would be the eighth wonder of the world," he said. "But it would be as simple as ABC."

Wright said his skyscraper would be built of stainless steel and glass. Elevators would have their own individual motors powered by nuclear energy. They would rise on cogged tracks at a mile a minute.

The building would be a cantilever structure with a "taproot" foundation extending 1,000 feet beneath the surface. The floors would extend outward from a steel and concrete core, like limbs from a tree trunk.

Expect Cypriot Attack

Nicosia, Cyprus, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—British authorities hanged three Greek Cypriots early today for armed attacks on British servicemen and immediately prepared for retaliation raids by the anti-British Eoka underground.

Nicosia was quiet, but tense, British authorities said they expected the Eoka to strike at almost any time.

Town's Bottom Dropping

Elk Point, S.D., Sept. 21 (U.P.)—A glacial drift was dropping the bottom of this town of 1,367 today and officials considered emergency measures aimed at saving the community.

Foundations and walls of community buildings and homes were cracking by movement of the drift reported 90 feet underground. About three quarters of the high school rooms have been evacuated and it was feared the grade school addition to the structure also would be lost. A Catholic church has settled and its floor was separated from the walls by four to eight inches.

Young, Thin Cat Grid Squad Faces 'Sophmoric' Cowpokes

Howard Keys Johnny Allen

with accent on speed, the A&M Cowpokes still have enough old hands for a nucleus of experience.

The probable starting unit lists two seniors, two juniors, and seven sophomores, causing A&M Coach Cliff Speegle to call his first string "sophmoric."

Twenty-two Oklahoma sophomores are expected to make the trip to Manhattan. K-State will probably have 19 sophomores suited up.

The Aggie coach said "we will have inexperience to overcome, but we feel that added speed as a team, more depth in position, and impressive desire may be factors in offsetting our lack of experience."

"To rebound from a disastrous 2-8 1955 campaign with only 14 returning lettermen and come up with an 8-2 record is improbable, but what I do expect is an increase of two or three in the victory column," Speegle said.

One of last year's Cowpoke wins was a 28-0 victory over K-State in the Wildcats' season finale. That evened the series between the two schools at 6-all.

Of the seven Aggie sophomore starters the most outstanding is Johnny Allen, sophomore quarterback and a grand-nephew of the immortal Jim Thorpe. Allen helped steer last season's A&M frosh to an unbeaten season with wins over Wichita, Tulsa, and Arkansas. They tied mighty Oklahoma's freshman squad.

Another Aggie rookie with great promise is Howard Keys, 6-3, 207-pound guard on the first unit. The other five sophomores slated to start are ends Roland Butler and Jack Motley, center Fred Latham, right tackle Jim Howard, and left halfback Duane Wood.

While the Wildcats plan to open with a trio of sophomores—all in the line—they list seven first-year men on the second unit, totalling 10 yearlings among the first 22 men.

K-State's first-string backfield of experienced hands will include quarterback Keith Wilson, minute-sized converted half-back, who fought off three other pilot hopefuls through fall practice to hold the spot. The 5-8, 165-pounder had one game's experience at quarterback in high school play, but picked up most of his savvy at the spot in last spring's drills. He adds important running strength to the post.

"We lack experience at the quarterback spot," Mertes said.

Dick Corbin, only Cat letterman at quarterback, has been limited by bruises most of the way this fall, but figures to be ready for the opener. Should he get the starting assignment there is a strong possibility that Wilson might move to halfback.

Mertes said his biggest worry at present is whether the second unit will be able to keep the momentum going after the first unit gets going. However, the fellows who were injured but are back again can help us a great deal, he said.

Both coaches have described this opener as "all-important" since it would bolster the spirits of young players.

Oklahoma A&M will run the majority of their plays from the split T formation. The Aggies have a fine passer in Allen and Mertes said A&M will probably throw more passes than K-State.

"Of course we will pass every-time the situation calls for it," Mertes said.

The game figures to have all the flash and color traditional with openers. It has been designated "Band Day" at K-State with more than 40 Kansas high school bands expected, including 2,000 prep school musicians.

The band program includes a morning parade, pre-game marching demonstrations in Memorial Stadium, and pre-game music en masse. The K-State band, 100-strong, will perform at halftime with a massed twirling exhibition of high school majorettes.

The game also will offer a special family admission price—admitting entire families on a special $4 ticket.

Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

Mizzou Tigers Open Against Oregon State

The Missouri Tigers wound up drills for the opener against Oregon State with practice on specialties—punt returns, blocking punts and defense against the quick kick, yesterday.

The Tigers get a day of rest today before meeting the Oregon State Beavers, second in the Pacific Coast conference last year, at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Coach Don Faurot has listed his probable starting backfield as quarterback Jimmy Hunter, halfbacks Sonny Stringer and Charley James, and fullback George Cramer.

In the line it will be Bill Craig and Larry Plumb at ends, Melvin Johnson and Guy Barriejman at tackles, Jim Martin and Pete Jensen at guards and Pete Osterloh at center.

Joe Wynn, fullback from Raytown, Mo., who has been nursing an injured ankle, reported he would stay with football this season, even though his ankle causes trouble occasionally. He had been considering dropping football this year.

Big Seven Gridders Will Seek 'Vengeance'

The Kansas State Wildcat football squad and four other Big Seven teams open their 1956 campaign Saturday in what is expected to be a determined effort to improve on the conference's unsuccessful interconference, first game record of last season.

Last season the Big Seven teams were beaten in five of seven openers, only the National champion Oklahoma Sooners and Colorado's Buffaloes coming up with victories.

The eager Wildcats, upset 38-20 by Wyoming a year ago, start against Oklahoma A&M Saturday at Memorial stadium in what should prove one of the most interesting battles of the day.

The vastly improved Iowa State Cyclones got the loop off to a good start last Saturday by beating Denver, 13-10, avenging an opening loss (7-19) to the same team last year.

Kansas will go against Texas Christian university, voted the nation's number six team in pre-season balloting of experts, at Lawrence. TCU won, 47-14, at Fort Worth last year, and the Jayhawks again will be faced with the task of dealing with all-America halfback Jim Swink.

Missouri, edged, 13-12, by Maryland in its 1955 start, hopes to make a successful comeback against Oregon State, second in the Pacific Coast conference last fall, at Columbia.

Colorado takes on Oregon university at Boulder. The Buffs dropped Arizona university 14-0, in their first game last season.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers with new coach Pete Elliott, start with South Dakota university at Lincoln. Last season, Nebraska was stunned, 6-0, by Little Hawaii university, then came on to finish second in the conference.

Oklahoma has an open date this week before going against University of North Carolina at Norman September 29.

Rainsberger, Nesmith Will Lead '56 Gridders

Ellis Rainsberger

Kenny Nesmith

BY JIM BELL

Captain Ellis Rainsberger and co-captain Kenny Nesmith will lead Coach Bus Mertes' 1956 State football squad.

Rainsberger will probably start tomorrow's game at left tackle. He holds two varsity letters, both earned at a guard slot.

Rainsberger, admitted the '56 Cat football team lacked power and weight, enumerated speed, hustle, and desire at K-State as strong points.

Nesmith expressed faith in his teammates and praised the squad's high spirit.

Last season, Rainsberger was named to Missouri university's all-Big Seven team. Coach Bus Mertes named Ellis player-of-the-week for his line play against Iowa State last season.

Rainsberger is 22, six foot tall, and weighs 200 pounds. "Quick and rugged" describes his brand of football.

East St. Louis, Ill., is Ellis' home. In high school, he lettered in football, track, and baseball. Rainsberger doubles as a heavyweight wrestler on the Wildcat squad, after football season.

Ellis is married and the father of two children. He is also an army veteran.

Nesmith is a probable starter at left halfback tomorrow afternoon. Kenny is a six-footer, weighing 180 pounds. He averaged three yards a carry last season in spite of being hampered by injuries.

Nesmith ranked sixth in punt returns in the Big Seven in 1955 with an average of 13.7 yards. He scored two touchdowns before being sidelined.

Nesmith figures to do some punting for Coach Bus Mertes this season. In 1955, he averaged 33.5 yards a kick. Kenny also passes to complete the triple-threat cycle. His favorite is the running pass.

A third varsity letter is Nesmith's goal this year. The 21-year-old is rated as a quick thinker and fast starter. He is capable of digging for the vital yard under pressure, or sweeping for sizeable gains.

Kenny makes his home in Manhattan with his mother, Mrs. W. C. Nesmith, although he played his high school football at Osborne.

Wildcats' Guest

Polio Victim, 9, To See First College Grid Game

A 9-year-old polio victim from Randolph will be on the Wildcat bench Saturday to see his first college football game, thanks to the generosity of the K-State football squad.

Larry Sloan, a fourth-grader crippled by polio 6 years ago, has been invited as the special guest of the Wildcat football squad to see the season opener against Oklahoma A&M.

"It was strictly their own idea," explained Coach Bus Mertes about the Cat squad's action. "The first I knew of it was Wednesday when they came to me and said they had taken up a collection to bring a handicapped child to the game."

The Wildcat squad will pay expenses for Larry and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sloan, covering their transportation, lunch, game tickets, and entertainment. The parents will view the game from stadium seats, while Larry sits on the bench.

Arrangements for Larry to see the game were made with the cooperation of the Riley County Health department.

Larry, who wears a body cast but is able to walk, is one of eight children. His father is a Riley county highway maintenance employee.

Andy Stewart, Wildcat lineman who will miss Saturday's game action because of a broken hand, will act as K-State ambassador for Larry and his parents, escorting them to lunch and the game.

Elvis Becomes Actor

Hollywood (U.P.)—Elvis Presley will be unleashed in his first movie with his usual sideburns, wiggles and guitar—but his teen-age followers will see him also as a serious actor who gets killed in the end.

Presley's picture debut in "Love Me Tender" is not a rock 'n' roll movie.

Individual Honors In Majors Cinched

BY UNITED PRESS

Regardless of which team wins the National League pennant race, individual honors in both leagues seem sewed up today as far as most valuable player and rookie of the year honors are concerned.

From this corner it looks like this:

L. most valuable—Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees.
N. L. most valuable—Don Newcombe, Brooklyn Dodgers.
A. L. rookie of year—Luis Aparicio, Chicago White Sox.
N. L. rookie of year—Frank Robinson, Cincinnati Redlegs.

Maybe you can quarrel with these selections, but it's doubtful if you can beat 'em. The only one which may receive a tussle is Newcombe, and it is possible that he could be bested by Hank Aaron, the probable league batting champion from Milwaukee. But "Big Newk" looks like a winner.

Mantle is shaded in the batting averages by Ted Williams, with .355 to .350, but still may wind up with the batting crown if Williams doesn't get the necessary 400 times at bat. But it was Mickey's homerun hitting, as he made an assault on Babe Ruth's record, which was the main feature of the American League season.

There can be no argument with the fact that Mantle was the league's most valuable player as he sparked a Yankee dash to the pennant that left the opposition far behind. He also more than doubled Williams' homerun output and leads the mighty Ted in all-important runs-batted-in, 123 to 75.

You can build a big case for Aaron. As well as leading the league's hitters was a .328 average, he is top man in hits and triples, second in doubles, and has splattered 26 homeruns.

ROTC Training Plane Due To Arrive Soon

The Air Force ROTC detachment soon will be the owner of a four-place Navion aircraft to be used in giving flight experience to AFROTC cadets, according to Col. C. H. Wilkins, professor of air science.

Orientation flights will be conducted by pilots of the Air Force detachment at K-State. This also will aid the pilots of the detachment in maintaining flying proficiency.

The Navion assigned to the K-State air force detachment will be operated from the Manhattan municipal airport.

The flight program is being initiated at 109 colleges and universities in the U.S. The planes have been adapted for college use. After rigid inspection, the planes will be turned over to pilots from the staffs of the participating institutions.

Kiddie Car Is Best

New York, (U.P.)—The kiddie-car method of steering an auto is superior to the conventional wheel method if power steering is used, scientists discovered in designing a "safety automobile."

They found it was a "must" to eliminate both the wheel and the steering column.

Girls' Travel Permits Being Sent to Parents

Travel permits for undergraduate girls now are being sent to parents of all girls, except those living in Manhattan, by the dean of women's office.

The permits, when signed, give the girls permission to go out of town for the day and/or for overnight visits. On the permits, parents indicate whether their daughters are allowed to travel by car, bus, train, and airplane.

Before leaving town, the girl is required to check with her house-mother. Her permit will indicate whether she must have parental permission.

Degrees To 1,250, KS Survey Shows

K-State will grant approximately 1,250 degrees during 1957, according to a recent survey of potential graduates by the placement bureau.

Potential graduates are listed by curriculums, degrees, and date of graduation in a placement brochure prepared as a guide for business and industrial personnel in the United States who may be interested in hiring '57 grads.

Present indications are that graduating seniors will be courted more vigorously than ever before. K-State already has scheduled more than 300 interviewing dates on campus with the recruiting season opening October 15.

The placement bureau survey shows that of the 1,250 graduates, there will be approximately 250 qualified to teach, 250 in engineering, and 200 in agriculture. The remainder will have degrees in Veterinary Medicine, Arts and Sciences, Home Economics, or from the Graduate school.

You'll be pleased with a Collegian want ad.

Religion Forseen As KS Subject

Non-sectarian courses in religion eventually will be taught by K-State's new director of student religious activities, Dr. William C. Tremmel.

But Dr. Tremmel's main objective now is "to continue and strengthen all the existing religious organizations" at K-State. He plans only gradual changes in the religious program during the fall semester.

Courses that eventually will be taught by Dr. Tremmel include religions of mankind, philosophies of religion, and the church in history. He taught philosophy and religion at College of Emporia before his appointment here.

An ordained minister, Dr. Tremmel worked with Wesley Foundation at the University of Colorado for three years. Following this he was chaplain at the University of Chicago until 1950, when he began teaching at C of E.

Dr. Tremmel, a native of Colorado, received his bachelor's degree from the University of Denver and his master's from Iliff School of Theology. He now is a candidate for a doctorate from the University of Chicago.

The doctor plans to have each religious organization at K-State depict a special event of its religion for students of other faiths.

"For example, the Lutheran organization will present a Reformation program and the Jewish will depict the Passover," he said. "In this way, groups will understand each other better."

Applicants Sought For New Sorority

Gamma Phi Beta, new social sorority colonizing on campus, will begin registering interested coeds October 1 through 7.

Coeds who sign up will be interviewed sometime between October 15 and 23. Formal pledging of the candidates selected to form the colony will be October 28, according to Pat McDermott, Gamma Phi organizer from Washington State college.

Gamma Phi Beta was founded in Syracuse, N.Y., in 1874. Total membership is more than 31,000. When the K-State chapter is installed there will be 62 chapters at colleges and universities in the U.S.

The sorority supports two camps for underprivileged children with Gamma members as counselors. The organization also has a student aid plan to help members financially.

Over 100 positions, as well as four sub-chairmanships, are open, according to Bob Alexander, director of the Union activities center.

YWCA

Today is the last day the YWCA membership booth on the main floor of Anderson hall will be open. All interested women are invited to join.

Starting next week, memberships will be available in the YMCA office, room 216 on the second floor of Anderson. Membership dues are $2 for the year.

Royal Purple Staff

Staff members for the Royal Purple have been announced by Gaye Fryer, editor. They are Royanne McMullen, associate editor; Marcia Boyd and Laura Lyons, photographic editors; and Roger Myers, sports writer.

Staff members helping to layout the Royal Purple are Charlotte Chastain, Peggy Tillotson, Janie Seitz, Cardine Hawkins, and Charlene Strah.

Union Now Planning Dances, Art Exhibits

All-College dances and art exhibits are taking the planning spotlight at the Student Union.

Two big-name bands will be booked for the all-College dances, as in the past, according to Bob Alexander, chairman of the Union Activities center.

The first dance will be after the K-StateKU game November 3; the second dance will commemorate the first birthday of the Union on March 9.

"Our problem in getting big-name attractions is that only 5 to 9 per cent of the student body has attended concerts and dances in the past," Alexander said. "To spend $2,000 of the $5,000 allotted for national attractions for that percentage of student is not fair."

An exhibit of prints and techniques of print-making now occupies the Union art gallery. Twenty examples of lithographs and wood cuts are on exhibition. They were loaned to K-State by William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art in Kansas City.

A wood cut of Abraham Lincoln and lithographs and wood cuts of pastoral scenes are shown.

The lithographs are designs etched in copper and then transferred to paper; the wood cuts are designs in wood that are transferred to paper.

Beginning October 8, when this display is removed, the art exhibit will be changed every two weeks, said Janis Broman, Chm Jr, chairman of the arts display committee.

Welcome Back, Friend

Los Angeles, (U.P.)—Judge Leo Freund welcomed back to municipal court yesterday two old acquaintances, Phillip Fitzpatrick and George Foehlman, and sentenced them each to 90 days on charges of drunkenness. Fitzpatrick's police record listed 160 previous arrests for drunkenness; Foehlman's listed 107.

WATER, WATER WHERE? Swimming isn't too good at the Nichols girls' pool these days, mainly because workmen are cleaning the pool for a paint job. The workmen are there working away... see? It seems that Judy Gladish, BMT Soph, (left) and Sandra Culver, BA Soph, distracted our intrepid photographer. At any rate, the workmen went on working just out of camera range, except for an occasional glance toward the diving board.

Regents Approve $2 Million For 264 Student Apartments

The College was given permission Friday by the Board of Regents to seek a $2,100,000 loan to finance 264 apartments for married students.

The loan would bring K-State's married housing program to 456 apartments. Ninety-six apartments were recently completed and are now occupied and another 96 are scheduled to be ready in January.

The Regents also approved the name Jardine Terrace for the married housing project in honor of William J. Jardine, K-State President from 1918 to 1925.

The loan will be sought by the College from the Federal Housing and Home Finance agency to finance the much-needed housing.

The new apartments will be expected to take up the slack when the College tears down part of the Elliott courts housing to make way for a new men's dormitory. Ground-breaking for the dorm is tentatively scheduled for next year.

With enrollment topping the 6,500 mark this semester and predictions of more to come next year and in future years, the housing situation was critical. The 264 more apartments will help offset this need.

The Regents also approved a University of Kansas application to the FHHFA for $1,065,000 for married student housing at Lawrence. This will finance 120 apartments at KU.

Another KU request was approved for $2,400,000 to pay part of the cost of two additional dormitories. One of the dorms will be for men and it has not been decided whether the other will be for men or women.

The Board, acting on two requests of the Manhattan city government, granted permission for an easement across College land for extension of water and sewer lines and gave an okay for taking into the city a strip of College land between the city limits and the new College Park addition.

It was necessary to take the College land into the city in order to comply with annexation statutes pertaining to the College Park addition which has a potential of more than 600 homes, to be developed by Kenneth Phelps, local builder.

Aggieville Rocks 'n Rolls To Bands and Jamboree

Aggieville rocked and rolled Friday and Saturday as the Aggieville jamboree Friday night and band day parade Saturday morning combined to entertain K-Staters.

Saturday was band day at K-State and 35 Kansas high school bands along with the K-State marching band took part in pre-game ceremonies.

A milling throng estimated at 2,500 students braved a strong wind to enjoy a gala jamboree and pep rally Friday night.

Besides giving away more than $700 in prizes at various drawings in the stores, businessmen treated the students to a night of square and social dancing and free refreshments.

The pep rally, with Matt Betton acting as master of ceremonies, included short pep talks by Ernie Barrett, alumni secretary, Herb Cormack, assistant football coach, and several football players.

The eight cheerleaders were introduced and led the crowd in a few cheers, with the Matt Betton orchestra providing pep music.

Some of the winners and their prizes were Gloria Fruechting, a 1917 Dodge; Gary S. Blum, hi-fi record player; Oscar Toppass and Bill Blume, portable typewriters.

Sam Uribe, sportcoat; Dixie Warnick, sweater; Sue Wildgen, electric iron; Earnest L. Carter, record player; Ruby Swanson, pen and pencil set.

Dick Spaulding, tackle box; Pat Owen, flashlight; and Ellsworth E. Mayer, coping saw kit.

KS Highway Lab Site Approved by Regents

A 2.8-acre site lying between the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house and the dairy barn, northwest of the campus, was approved by the State Board of Regents Friday as the location for a state highway testing laboratory.

The Regent's approval is subject to final review by the state attorney general.

Under the lease agreement, which will run for 99 years, the state highway department will stand the cost of relocating dairy pens presently standing on the site.

The cost of the project, consolidating all testing and research laboratories of the highway department, is estimated at between $600,000 and $750,000. The structure will have a floor space of approximately 50,000 square feet.

The two-story building will face west on the street leading north to the new married student housing area, according to Ivan Wassberg, first district highway commissioner. It will be built of limestone to conform with College construction regulations.

The laboratory will be completely air conditioned and will include other humidity and temperature controls essential to accurate testing of materials used in highway construction.

The lab when completed will employ approximately 75 men. It will also provide an additional supply of part-time jobs for K-State students.

The highway department's research facilities are presently housed in College-owned buildings in Manhattan and at several locations in Topeka. These facilities have proved inadequate to carry on the department's testing operations.

Several months ago a survey of the number of tests being run revealed a big increase in the last 15 years without any material increase in space for the research program. It was pointed out that with the accelerated highway program research has become of paramount importance as a means of being sure that lasting materials are being used in road projects.

Wassberg said plans and specifications for the building are now being prepared by F. O. Wolfenbarger and Associates of Manhattan. He said it is hoped that contracts for the structure can be let in December.

May Have 'Teeth'

Council To Revise KS-KU Peace Pact

An attempt to put "teeth" into the KU-K-State Peace Pact will occupy much of the time at the Student Council meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the Student Union.

A Council committee has rewritten the Pact to include a dismissal clause to the effect that any student identified as having participated in an act of vandalism this year or in future years will be automatically dismissed.

The new Peace Pact must be passed by both Councils before it can be put into effect. (See page 2.)

The Council will also discuss plans for entering a coed in the American Royal queen contest. Tentative plans call for candidates from sororities, the four dorms, and an independent to participate in a style show October 2. Four or five judges will select the queen.

Other Council discussion will include plans for the Student Government. (Continued on page 4)

Proposed Peace Pact

The proposed Kansas State-Kansas University peace pact is herewith printed in full.

PREAMBLE: We, the students of Kansas State college of Agriculture and Applied Science and of the University of Kansas, in order to further increase peaceful relations between our institutions, do hereby establish this pact between Kansas State college and the University of Kansas.

JOINT AGREEMENT

I. We, the duly elected All Student Council of the University of Kansas and the Student Governing Association of the Kansas State college of Agriculture and Applied Science, representing our respective student bodies, hereby officially condemn all manner of undesirable and unfriendly activities between our two schools.

II. TO SHOW our good faith, we agree to do all in our power to keep all members of our institution from attempting to carry on, or carrying on any undesirable and unfriendly activity against the other school. If any member of our student body does carry on such activity and if committed WE AGREE that (1) the student council of the offending school shall repay the damage and (2) the president of the student council of the offending school shall convey all information concerning the offense to the head of the school who said on November 3, 1955, after such unfriendly and undesirable activity between our two schools:

"A continuation of this vandalism simply cannot be tolerated. Any student identified as having participated in such action on his own or any other campus this year or in future years will be automatically dismissed."

The extent of the damage shall be decided by a joint committee composed of three members from each school and one administrative official of each school.

III. A TROPHY commemorating this pact, the KU-KSC Peace Pact trophy, shall be presented to the winner of the annual KU-KSC football game at the half-time of the winning team's home KU-KSC football game.

IV. IT IS further agreed that the entire bodies of both councils will meet jointly at the beginning of each school year, at least ten days before any athletic competition between our schools, to reconsider this pact. The meeting will alternate between schools and will be one of complete good will. If the Peace Pact is renewed, it is to be published in the official newspapers of our schools. The councils will set a date for the meeting each year.

Eisenhower Is 'More Popular,' GOP Is Stronger, Nixon Says

BY UNITED PRESS

En route with Nixon—(U.P.)—Vice president Richard M. Nixon said today that "the most obvious conclusion I have drawn" from his campaign tour "is that President Eisenhower is more popular today than he was in 1952."

NIXON said he also is "greatly" encouraged to find that GOP senatorial and congressional campaigns in the first 11 states he visited "are gaining strength."

He said, "If this trend continues we stand a good chance of winning the seats in those states which might be decisive in giving the President what he deserves and needs—a Republican house and senate."

NIXON made the observations in a statement issued as he left Colorado Springs, Colo., after a one-day weekend breather for the second lap of his 16-day, 32-state campaign tour. He was scheduled for speeches in Phoenix, Ariz., today and Salt Lake City, tonight.

The 43-year-old vice president said he has found that "the three most compelling issues" in the campaign to date are:

1. "The fact of peace-in-being—and the bright promise of continuing peace in the future."

2. The fact of prosperity-in-being—and the solid promise of a dynamic and ever-expanding economy under an Eisenhower

Most Collegians Don't Use Right to Vote, Survey Says

New York—Only two out of five college students eligible to vote for the first time in the coming presidential election, plan to do so, a survey of 1300 students at 24 colleges revealed today.

THE survey, reported in the new issue of Look magazine, disclosed that 24 per cent of the students queried hadn't made up their minds toward which party they leaned, while "a shattering 34 per cent of the test group indicated zero interest in who should be or would be our next vice-president."

Also noting that three out of ten students interviewed had no idea whom they favored for the presidency, Eugene Gilbert, president of the Gilbert Youth Research organization, declared:

"THE sobering fact of the matter is that a very large number of our your voters plainly don't care one way or another about the coming presidential election, or are so confused that it amounts to the same thing."

The survey also came up with these findings:

MOST first voters—71 per cent—admitted that their choice of a candidate would be "strongly influenced" by the candidate's personality and appearance.

The student's views were "nebulous" on the political effectiveness of television and radio—22 per cent of them were "completely in the dark" as to whether television and radio influenced them or not.

WHEN queried on their chief complaint with the Democrat and Republican parties, almost 50 per cent of the students "found this too remote or complicated, or plain political" to express an opinion.

Thirty-eight per cent of those polled, didn't seem to know, or care, what there was to admire about either the Democrats or Republicans.

Stepped-Up Campaign Marks Kansas Politics

Topeka, (U.P.)—The Kansas political campaigns swung into the final six weeks today in fast tempo as the Democrats planned a "hat day" for the women and the Republican "bus stop" stumping caravan toured the second congressional district.

Vice President Richard Nixon will highlight the GOP efforts in a Wednesday night speech at Kansas City, while the state bus caravan will tour in heavily-populated Wyandotte and Johnson counties during the week.

DEMOCRAT presidential hopeful Adlai Stevenson will appear in Kansas City, Mo., this week. George Docking, Democratic nominee for governor, continued to concentrate his vote-wooing efforts in drought-hit Western Kansas.

Mrs. Georgia Neese Gray, national Kansas Democrat committeewoman, said the theme of the Democratic women's day for Kansas this Friday will be hat auctions. The former U.S. treasurer said a "toss your hat in the ring" party for each of the state's 105 counties will be a fund raising affair—a dollar a hat for the donated headwear.

MEANTIME, the Republican campaign caravan, headed by nominee for governor Warren Shaw and U.S. Sen. Frank Carlson, announced the following itinerary for the week in Eastern Kansas:

Monday: Baldwin, Ottawa, Osawatimie, Paola, Olathe. Tuesday: Johnson county. Wednesday: Wyandotte county. Thursday: Pleasanton, Fort Scott, Moran, Iola, and Garnett. Friday: Topeka.

Work Cut Out For Cats After Losing to Aggies

K-State's Wildcats will have a lot of work to do before they will be ready to meet Colorado at Boulder next Saturday, said Cat Coach Bus Mertes after K-State dropped their season opener to Oklahoma A&M, 27-7.

Coach Mertes is far from happy about the loss, but is optimistic about the improvement of the Wildcat squad.

He recalled the fact that Nebraska lost to Hawaii in its first game last year, then came back to take second place in the Big Seven. If Oklahoma takes first place and K-State takes second, the Wildcats will be Orange Bowl bound, for the Sooners are ineligible to compete in the Bowl this year.

The Wildcats got breaks in Saturday's contest that they didn't capitalize on. On the second play of the game, Tony Addeo, Cat halfback, recovered an Aggie fumble on the A&M 30-yard line. Four Wildcat plays put them inches short of a first down. Seventeen Aggie plays and 80 yards later, Oklahoma scored.

The teams played give-and-take ball for the remainder of the first half.

Duane Wood, Aggie halfback, and probably the most outstanding player of the game, scored A&M's second touchdown with 2:37 remaining in the third period, then converted to increase the Aggie lead to 14-0.

Braves Back In NL Lead Again

By UNITED PRESS

The Milwaukee Braves took a temporary lead in the National league yesterday by beating the Chicago Cubs 7-4 while the Brooklyn Dodgers fell half a game back in a game with Pittsburgh which was called because of a curfew law.

The Dodgers were leading 8-3 with but three putouts left to complete the game. The Bucs and Dodgers will resume where they left off this evening.

Clem Labine is expected to start for the Dodgers tonight in the regularly scheduled game against the Pirates' Bob Friend. If Brooklyn wins the suspended game, Don Newcombe will rack up his 26th victory and the Dodgers will go half a game in front.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, refusing to give up in the face of overwhelming odds, moved within a game and a half of first place when they beat St. Louis 3-2 and 5-4.

Philadelphia beat New York 6-2 to round out National League action.

In the American League the New York Yankees beat Boston 7-4, Detroit downed Cleveland 11-1, and Kansas City and Chicago split; the A's winning the opener 3-2, and the Chisox winning the second 5-1. The Baltimore Orioles clinched sixth place with a 6-0 verdict over the Washington Senators.

Plans for Homecoming, Parents' Day Announced

Committees are making plans for activities for the Homecoming game between K-State and Iowa State November 17, and Parents' Day October 20 at the K-State-Missouri game.

A famous slogan or proverb will be the theme for the house decorations and floats during Homecoming Week, the Homecoming committee has announced.

The father and mother of a K-Stater will be selected as honorary parents for Parents' Day. The couple, to be selected at an October 4 drawing, will be honored before the kickoff and will sit in President McCain's box.

Students may register their parents either in Anderson hall or in the organized houses on September 27 and 28. In addition to the honorary parents, first and second alternate couples will be chosen.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson of Salina, parents of Tom Wilson, ArE Soph, were last year's honored couple.

The Parents' Day committee is sponsoring a contest for the best organized-house decoration in honor of the day. First-place cups will be awarded to an organized men's and an organized women's house.

Any house that is planning a buffet or other festivities before or following the game has been asked to notify Darlene Beeman, EED Jr.

Blue Key, senior men's honorary, is in charge of the Homecoming queen's activities, and Purple Pepsters are in charge of the Homecoming parade. MEMBER DIAMOND COUNCIL OF AMERICA

Kansas State Collegian

VOLUME LXIII Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, Tuesday, September 25, 1956 NUMBER 9

Committees Appointed By Council Last Night

The Student Council last night appointed three permanent SGA committees for the coming year.

Named to the athletic council were Gene O'Connor and Merle Nay, PEM Jrs.

New committee coordinating staff members are Betty Britton, EEd Soph; Richard Hotz, MT Soph; Dave Horton, ME Jr; and Jean Taylor, MGS Soph.

Traffic Control board appointments are Bill Schick-tanz, Psy Jr; Laura Langford, EEd Jr; and Phil Young, AgE Jr.

A long-sought improvement is finally in view, according to Manhattan's city manager. He reported to Council President Ron Bryant that the city council has approved a project of blacktopping the road to Blue-mont hill.

The Peace Pact committee plans to seek the advice of a lawyer to help make necessary changes in the pact which would hold a student guilty of acts of vandalism personally responsible.

Karen Milner and Gary Haynes, recent delegates to the National Student congress in Chicago, reported on that convention. They had been sent to determine if it was advisable for K-State to become a member of the National Students association.

Action on K-State's possible entry was tabled until a later date.

Nancy Howard informed the Council that plans are underway for a contest to pick a K-State entry in the American Royal queen contest.

Plans for the annual SGA assembly were discussed. Haynes noted that the idea of a student gripe session brought a favorable reaction from the NSA.

"This type of assembly, where the Student Council faces the students head on, seems to be a rare thing on college campuses," Haynes said, "and K-State's system received high commendation from many schools at the convention."

The Council accepted a report by Jerry Holliday designed to promote the Artist Series and to offer it to students at "reasonable" prices. Season ticket prices adopted by the Council represented a reduction of one-half from last year's fees.

Additional applications are still being taken for the student drives, senior honors, campus beautification, friends of art, Top of the World, and alumni relations committees.

Applications are to be made at the Dean of Students' office and the deadline will be announced later, according to Darold Barb.

McCain Says

Cost of Education May Double by '65

"Kansas State's appropriation of six million dollars for 1956 probably will double by 1965 in order to maintain the same quality of instruction for an expected enrollment increase," President McCain said in assembly this morning.

He said that the cost of educating a student at K-State for 9 months has increased from $350 to $900 in the past 26 years.

"The student paid in fees and tuition approximately 20 percent of the cost of his education in 1930 as opposed to 15 percent at the present time."

Proposals are being made to reduce College costs which could destroy our American democratic system of higher education. Some people "insist that restrictions" be placed on college enrollments, and others propose raising student fees and tuition, he said.

"Through the College newspaper, assembly programs, and student organizations, I hope that every student will exploit the opportunities afforded him to learn more about his school and the system of which he is a part," President McCain said.

However, a far more important obligation of college students is to strive for the highest possible academic achievement, he said.

"The student has obligations in the realm of campus life and activities, related to both the academic program and the public reputation of college and universities," the President said.

A student must accept his responsibilities with faculty members in self-government and democratic participation.

McCain commended the student body for demonstrating their increasing sense of campus responsibility by citing such examples as the fraternity substitution of "help week" for "hell week," and the efforts of the Religious Coordinating council to eliminate racial intolerance.

SU Losses Are $13,809 In 6 Months

During the first six months that the Student Union has been in operation, it has lost $13,809, according to Loren Kottner, Union director.

Kottner made his report to the Union governing board last night at its first meeting of the year. "There is nothing to be alarmed about in the size of the loss. It is actually less than I expected it to be."

The major part of the loss was incurred during the summer months.

"The small number of students, the extreme summer heat, and the lack of air conditioning were reasons for the (Continued on Page 4)

Orpheum Revisers Plan Mixed Skits

Men and women will appear together in skits if proposed revisions in the rules for Y-Orpheum are accepted by Interfraternity council and Panhellenic.

The proposed revisions were introduced at a meeting of Panhellenic and IFC last night by Bob Alexander, Union activities director, and Bruce Wilson, Y-Orpheum student chairman.

Other proposed changes are:

1. Finalists will be selected on the basis of stage tryouts rather than written scripts.
2. A general theme will be established for each year's show.

3. A printed program will be made larger, more colorful, and attractive. It will include pictures and writeups of each act and paid advertisements.

4. A Y-Orpheum executive committee will become a permanent Union committee and thus a member in the Union program council.

Fifteen secondary revisions propose to reduce the length of the show, require formal attire be worn by Y-Orpheum personnel, increase the admission price, tighten the judging system, hire a technical director, a lighting director, and a dramatics director.

Reduce the status of the master of ceremonies to his proper role, discontinue giving complimentary tickets to all members of houses participating in the finals, allow an increase in executive committee's expenditures, provide a bookkeeping system, and establish maximum costs for scenery and other props.

Provide duplicate trophies for the first three winners, have a penalty for readaption of old scripts, change the name of the show while retaining Y-Orpheum for publicity purposes, have a series of meetings with the dramatics and student directors before and after tryouts, and set up a series of deadlines.

Though single entries would still be permitted to enter, introducers of the revisions contend that by combining men's and women's houses for skits, it will improve the general quality of each act and the entire show.

Women's dorms will be allowed to enter the show in an (Continued on Page 4)

Miss Taylor, 'Miss Football' Runner-Up

By MARCIA BOYD

Connie Taylor, EEd Jr, is the runner-up to "Miss Football" of 1956.

Miss Donna Cason from the University of Oklahoma was crowned queen at a Coronation ball September 20, in Berkeley, Calif.

"Words cannot express the feeling I have about the trip," said Connie, "and I cannot explain how great a privilege it was to represent Kansas State at this festival."

Connie's first day in California included a tour of Disneyland in Los Angeles.

Fourteen queen contestants appeared on television Monday where they held an informal discussion about the girls' respective schools. "We toured Warner Brothers and Paramount Studios in the afternoon," recalled Connie, "and talked to Jerry Lewis while he was working on the movie lot."

Following Tuesday breakfast, contestants were flown to Oakland where they were met by 24 photographers and a convertible for each girl with her name on the side of the car.

"Tuesday evening we dined at the Villa de La Paix, a French and Italian restaurant which had violinists who serenaded us at our tables," Connie said.

"K-State received a tremendous amount of publicity in California. At a Rotary luncheon in Berkeley, Wednesday, I sat at a K-State table which was decorated in purple and white with a K-State banner. All the people who were present at my table had either lived in Kansas or attended school here," she said.

Wednesday's and Thursday's activities included dinner in Chinatown, an appearance on the Don Sherwood television show, a harbor tour of Fisherman's Wharf, and a riverboat cruise around Alcatraz and under the Golden Gate bridge.

At the Coronation ball September 20, each contestant was presented. Connie's escort of the evening was a student from the University of California.

Friday the girls attended a Bear-Backer luncheon given by promoters of the California Bears, professional football team. The evening schedule included a Parade of Lights which some 50,000 spectators attended.

The contestants were presented at the California-Baylor game Saturday. The Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce, hosts to the contestants, presented the girls with jewelry boxes at a farewell party Saturday evening.

CONNIE TAYLOR, "Miss Football" runner-up, chats with Clint Walker, a Warner Brothers television star, on the Warner Brothers lot in Burbank, Calif. Connie was in California representing K-State in the "Miss Football" contest at Berkeley.

University of Kansas Students To Receive Singing Lessons

By Mary Beckmeyer

Kansas University has compiled a list of songs to be sung by all students at home games. This four-page booklet containing the words of songs has been printed and distributed by pep clubs. Sing practices have been scheduled for the stadium. However, it may be several games before the song schedule can be put into effect.

Included in the program will be the "Star Spangled Banner," "Song of the Jayhawker," "The Alma Mater," "The Kansas Song," and "Onward Kansas."

THIS IS AN excellent idea. However, with 18 Ohioans on the roster, it might be more appropriate and inspiring if they would sing "The Ohio Song" and "Onward Massillon High."

GREAT INCREASES in enrollment have caused many problems in American colleges and universities. First and foremost among these problems is housing. At most schools, dorms are erupting out of the ground with the thundering vigor of newborn volcanoes.

Buildings and grounds workers have unloaded boxcar-loads of furniture and set up third beds in rooms with closet space for two persons. In women's dormitories, this means many explosive situations. Whose formal is going to hang from the floorlamp?

AT THE University of Texas, 16 students are living in dormitory halls. These cozy accommodations are the results of the University's having sent out more dormitory space contracts than there are available rooms.

University housing officials indicated the extra contracts were mailed because room cancellations were expected which so far have failed to materialize. If rooms do not become available, the hall-dwellers will not be held to their contracts.

THAT'S RIGHT DECENT of the University because although the students may be Texans, even halls are better than the wide open spaces.

Male students at Southwest Texas State college moved into a dormitory occupied last year by co-eds and found the following posted regulation:

"Report your overnight guest and have her sign the guest book."

This might be a little difficult to explain to the dean of women.

STUDENTS at Oklahoma A&M college are encouraged to walk on the grass, on one part of the campus that is. It's a long path containing plantings of several species of grass. The test path is part of a study to determine the best grass for golf courses.

But knowing how college students hate to comply with rules and regulations this is probably the least trodden strip on the Oklahoma A&M campus.

Let's Don't Run Dogs Down During National Dog Week

THIS IS THE TIME for all good men (and women) to come to the aid of their dogs.

This is Dog Week. Now many K-Staters have an excuse to go where they've been headed for some time—to the dogs. So, if your dog is leading a dog's life, I sit up and beg you to give him the warmth and companionship that such a true friend deserves.

I do not intend to make light of dogs. I think they are here to stay; and I observe that, not only are they smart, they're trying to better themselves. Take, for instance, the dog that attended a class with me last week.

THAT WAS ONE class that wasn't going to the dogs—the dogs were going to the class.

However, as an example of the rank discrimination against dogs, I am saddened to report that the poor dog was banished from the classroom.

Further proof of the inferior role assigned to dogs is found in some of the sayings connected with them.

If a person is in trouble, he is described as being in the "dog house." What, a dog might think, is wrong with that?

IF YOU ARE extremely sick, you are "sick as a dog." How many sick dogs have you seen?

If the pages of a book are a little frayed, the book is described as "dog eared." I must jump to the defense of dogs on that count, for I own a Basset with the prettiest set of ears you ever saw. In fact, if I were a dog I'd want ears just like my Basset.

If anyone is thinking that I'm a "dirty dog," I must point out that that dogged person again is maligning man's best friend.

THE SULTRY DAYS between early July and early September are called "dog days" because they are unpleasant. Some-

A FINANCIAL REPORT for the first six months of Student Union operation shows a loss of $13,809. Though serious, the financial picture is not as red as the figures indicate.

The Union has not had to borrow money from outside sources as reserve funds for depreciation, construction, and repair have been depleted to cover the loss, according to Loren Kottner, Union director.

HOWEVER, these reserve funds must be reimbursed at the rate of $1,500 a month to put the Union back on a profitable basis, he said.

As soon as the money from student fees is apportioned, probably in October, the Union will again begin showing a profit, he stated.

The breakdown on Union finances shows:

March .....	$ 615 profit
April .....	3,034 profit
May .....	758 loss
June .....	5,201 loss
July .....	7,031 loss
August .....	4,468 loss

THE LARGER losses during the summer months were due primarily to reduced volume in all areas of the Union, lack of air conditioning, and a smaller student body, Kottner said.

He expects that the new air conditioning system now being installed will reduce the summer loss to some extent. Another factor affecting the high losses was an increase of about $9,000 a year in civil service salaries which went into effect in July.

IN ORDER TO repay reserve funds the $13,809, the Union must average their $1,500 profit a month between September 1, 1956, and June 30, 1957, the end of the fiscal year. Since September, December, May, and June are not full operating months, the profit in other months must be higher than the average.

If there are surpluses, they will be held in reserve for additional construction, primarily the bowling alley ceiling and the third floor of the Union, and for additional equipment, Kottner said.

HE SAID that actually the losses were to be expected during the Union's first few months of operation. He was pleased that the losses were not as great as he expected.

Continued student patronization of the Student Union will go far in helping the Union pay off its debts and enable it to become the "living room of the campus," a goal Union personnel are striving hard to attain.

Only through continued student support can the Union expand physically and provide the better services demanded.

STUDENTS and other "litterbugs" are currently making heavier demands on food service personnel by "forgetting" to take their dirty dishes and paper cups to containers provided.

This "litterbugging" is especially noticeable in the stateroom and dive. Nothing discourages a customer more than to have to sit at a dirty table.

Hall Urged To Check Gas Kickback Charges

Topeka, (U.P.)—A stack of 27 telegrams greeted Gov. Fred Hall today at his office, all urging the administration to act in opening an investigation into charges of kickbacks to GOP coffers in state purchases of gasoline.

THE TELEGRAMS came from all parts of the state, but a good many from Western Kansas where Democrat nominee for governor George Docking has been carrying the theme of kickback charges and alleged GOP graft while making campaign speeches the last week.

At least three of the telegrams came from Meade, a spokesman for Hall's office said, indicating what he said might be a concerted Democrat "telegram avalanche."

Carrington, Meier Upped For Play Against A&M

BY KEITH KEMPER

Bill Carrington and Gene Meier moved up to the first string lineup Monday afternoon after Coach Bus Mertes termed their play as "outstanding" in K-State's 27-7 loss to Oklahoma A&M.

Carrington replaces Ralph Pfeifer at the fullback position with Meier moving into the right tackle spot for Jon Walker. Walker and Pfeifer were dropped to the second unit.

Two other replacements were noticeable in the Cat lineup Monday as Bill Lindsey worked for Ellis Rainsberger at the left tackle position and Jerry Hayes filled in for Tony Addeo at right half.

Rainsberger worked out in sweat clothes after suffering an ankle injury during the game Saturday. Addeo has a bruised hip and worked without pads. Ron Beshk, halfback, also missed the Monday practice due to a knee injury.

K-State worked on defense against Colorado play patterns during the session as Mertes put the Cats to the grind early in the week. Colorado lost its opening game to Oregon 35-0 Saturday at Boulder.

Mertes said there would be no letdown in the heavy work slated for the week and would waste no time crying over the loss to A&M last Saturday in the season's opener.

"We wanted to win that game in the worst way," Mertes said, "but we have to get set for the Buffaloes this week-end in Boulder."

K-State has three important league games on the road during the next three Saturday afternoons with Oklahoma and then Nebraska following the Colorado tilt.

Golf To Start Fall IM Action

Golf will open the fall semester intramural slate at the Stag Hill course this Saturday at 8 a.m. Swimming, touch football, horseshoes, handball, and tennis are scheduled to begin in the next few weeks.

Golf entries must be limited to four contestants from each organization. Entries are due today, and should be turned in to Frank Myers, intramurals director.

Swimming preliminaries will be held Monday and Tuesday of next week. Finals in all swimming events will be held Wednesday.

Swimming entry blanks must be turned in by tomorrow. The pool in Nichols gym will be open every day this week from 4-5:30 p.m. for practice.

Touch football will begin on Thursday, October 4th. Twenty-three fraternities and 20 independent teams are entered.

Five more independent football entries this year than last necessitate a longer season. One more independent group has been added, making a total of four 5-team groups.

Horseshoe, handball, and tennis tournaments will be held on Monday, October 8th. Entries are due on Thursday, October 4th.

Pressure's On

Pittsburgh Beats Bums; Braves Back Into Lead

Pressure continues to mount in the torrid National League race as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Brooklyn Dodgers last night 6-5.

The Pirate win followed the completion of the game that was suspended Sunday. The Dodgers won the suspended game 8 to 3, with ace Don Newcombe picking up his 26th win of the year.

Bob Friend picked up his 17th win of the season to drop the Dodgers a half game behind the Milwaukee Braves who were idle last night.

The Dodger loss left them and the Braves even in the loss column with 60 losses each. The Cincinnati Redlegs are a game and a half off the pace with two losses more than the leaders.

The Dodger-Pirate game was the only game scheduled in the National League.

Two games were played yesterday in the American League, with the Baltimore Orioles downing the New York Yankees 5 to 4, and the Chicago White Sox outlasting the Detroit Tigers 14 to 11.

The big inning featured the Chicago-Detroit game with the White Sox having a 5-run inning and a 6-run inning and the Tigers having a 6-run inning.

The White Sox hammered out

22 hits, including 3 home runs while the Tigers collected 14 hits including 4 homers.

Baltimore came from behind to score two runs in the bottom of the eighth inning in downing the Yankees.

Mike Fornieles gained credit for the Oriole win. Erv Palica started for Baltimore and was relieved by Fornieles in the eighth. Johnny Kucks went all the way for the Yankees.

Doctors Report Babe Is Losing Cancer Battle

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 25 (U.P.)—Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias is nearing the end of her long and losing battle against cancer, her physicians have disclosed.

Mrs. Zaharias' physicians issued their first "realistic" bulletin on the condition yesterday of the 42-year-old athlete who has been a champion at every sport she tried.

She is steadily weakening and sleeping more and more, they disclosed. She is comparatively free of pain since a cordotomy operation done earlier in the summer, however.

Asylum Sought by Pole

Roenne, Denmark, Sept. 25. (U.P.)—A Polish flier crash-landed a Communist Mig-15 jet fighter on an airstrip at Roenne today and asked for political asylum.

A military unit immediately cordoned off the field. Airfield sources confirmed that the pilot was a Pole and said he damaged a wingtip of his plane when he landed it on the grass.

Laryngitis Slows Nixon

En route with Nixon, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon carried his campaign to Oklahoma and Texas today, a little better in his fight with a mild case of influenza and a voice-crippling attack of laryngitis.

However, his plans for the day were altered to eliminate a formal speech planned for this afternoon at Oklahoma City, where he will merely appear at a party rally.

attempt to balance the number of men's and women's houses.

A student executive committee will design and supervise a matching or pairing system under the proposed revision. The IFC and Panhellenic will have to okay the final pairings.

Selecting finalists on the basis of tryouts rather than written scripts will eliminate wasted time, provide a continuous central organization to maintain records and files, and have a centralized combination of authority and responsibility.

According to the proposal, the Union Governing board and YMCA will have to accept the new tryout program. All net profits from the show will continue to go to the YMCA.

By establishing a general theme for the show, planners feel it will provide better continuity, reduce the expanse of subject matter, and permit ease of the show operation, music, programs, technical advice, and publicity.

The theme would be selected by the student executive committee and all acts would have a logical parallel to the general theme.

high summer loss," Kottner said.

The Union has purchased $7,000 worth of pipe to install air conditioning. It is hoped that the air conditioning plant will be capable of operating by January and certainly by no later than spring, he said.

The air conditioning will be set up in units so that areas not in use can be shut off.

Additional furniture for the Union will arrive in mid-November, he said. Carpets, drapes, and more chairs have been ordered for the lounge, reading library, music room, art lounge, and the main corridor.

Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr, was appointed chairman of the auxiliary enterprises committee by Ray Sis, board president.

A total of 234 applications have been received for 135 vacancies on Union committees, according to a report by Gary Rumsey, AEd Jr.

KS Might Begin in March On 264 Student Apartments

K-State might be able to start construction on 264 new married housing apartments by March 1957, President McCain, said yesterday.

The Board of Regents recently approved K-State's request to be allowed to seek a $2,100,000 loan from the Federal Housing and Home Finance agency for the new apartments.

The same building plans will be used for the new apartments as are currently in use at the building site.

"If everything goes well, we would like to start construction in March," the President said. "If we can do this, the apartments should be completed in approximately two years."

The 264 apartments are in addition to the 192 apartments currently under construction. Ninety-six of these are scheduled to be completed in November and another 96 in February. The 264 would be built on the same lot immediately north and east of the present apartments.

The President said that $600,000 had been proposed for the construction of a central shop building for the physical plant, but that plans now call for the dairy barn north of the campus, to be renovated and used as a shop.

The renovation is expected to be completed in about two years, McCain said.

A new highway laboratory building will be constructed south of the dairy barn and will extend east. Each land grant college is required to have a highway laboratory, the President said. The building will not contain classrooms.

Upon completion of the highway lab, the current lab in Seaton hall will move to the new quarters. Whereas the laboratory now employs 8 or 10 students, the number having jobs in the new lab will probably be between 24 and 32, McCain said.

The President was optimistic concerning the chances of having an air-conditioned Union by next spring. This is being made possible by taking $2.50 from the $7.50 building fee assessed each student enrolling at K-State.

Newest Frat House To Have Split-Level Floor Plan, Patio

New Phi Kappa fraternity house—The latest of K-State's new fraternity houses is now under construction at 1965 College Heights road. More than 60 men will move into the 49 by 98-foot structure second semester this year.

The building will feature a split-level floor plan, states Joe Haegline, chapter president. At the left will be a study hall and the housemother's quarters. The center section will be a dormitory with dressing rooms upstairs. The dining and living areas are downstairs.

The main section will open to outdoor patios by way of sliding glass panels. A parking lot will accommodate 33 cars.

Today Is Last For Free Shots

Free polio vaccine, for students under 20 will not be available after this week, B. W. Lafene, student health director has announced.

"Students who haven't received their free shots must get theirs as soon as possible," he said.

Neither free nor commercial vaccine will be available to wives or children of students after today. "Polio vaccine loses its strength and effectiveness after a certain length of time," Lafene explained.

Student Health still has plenty of commercial vaccine for students over 21, he said.

Almost 900 students have received polio vaccinations and it is hoped that the rest will follow their example," Lafene said.

Registered Staters May Vote Nov. 6

All K-State students over 21 years of age are eligible to vote on November 6 if they have registered, according to W. R. Ratliff, Riley county clerk.

"Students who have lived in Kansas six months or longer are residents of Kansas and can register at the office of the Manhattan city clerk, located in the city hall. Out-of-state students are those who have lived in Kansas less than six months. These students can register by writing to the city clerk in their home town," Ratliff said.

"Students who are residents of Kansas can register with the Manhattan city clerk up to 10 days before election day. The deadline for registering in other states may vary, so the wise thing for out-of-state students to do is register as soon as possible," he continued.

"Students who are residents of Kansas should know the candidates up for election in their own counties and congressional districts. These students will vote at the Manhattan polls," Ratliff explained, "but they will receive an 'absentee-within-state' ballot."

"These ballots differ from the ordinary ballot, because they have spaces left blank to write in the candidates' names from the student's own county and congressional district.

"Out-of-state students can write to their own county clerk for an absentee ballot. If an out-of-state student comes from a large town, he can address his request for an absentee ballot to the election commissioner," Ratliff explained.

"Absentee ballots are required to be in the office of the Riley county clerk by the day preceding the election day. This also may vary in other states, so I urge out-of-state students to send their absentee ballots in early," Ratliff concluded.

Milbourn Now Is an Assistant To President

Max W. Milbourn, director of public service, has been named assistant to the president, according to President McCain.

Dr. McCain, who made the announcement today, said the title change better identifies Milbourn's added responsibilities in working with off-campus groups throughout the state.

Milbourn joined the K-State staff in 1949.

Dutch Weather Instructor Finds Kansas a Puzzling Area

By BARRY RUPARD

"Puzzling but agreeable" says Mr. Willem Vanderbyl about Kansas weather. After leaving Holland's cool summers and cold winters, the new meteorology and climatology instructor finds our weather a challenge. "We like it here," he said. "I hope we're here to stay."

Meteorology and climatology, the science of the weather, is being offered at K-State for the first time. There are no prerequisite courses and it is open only to undergraduates. "Knowledge of physical principles is desirable but not necessary," said the new instructor.

No degree is offered, but Mr. Vanderbyl recommends it to agricultural students, teachers, men in military science, or as a general knowledge of the weather. "So few people have an understanding of the greatest force on earth," he said.

Educated in Holland, Mr. Vanderbyl received his bachelors degree in 1941 at the Free University of Amsterdam. In 1943 he received his masters degree in math, physics, and meteorology just three days before the German occupation of the university. "I was very fortunate. I got out just in time."

Mr. Vanderbyl was connected with the Royal Netherlands Meteorological Institute from 1946 to 1954 when he came to America to teach at the University of Chicago. He returned to Holland and, last March, accepted a position at K-State.

Drafted into the army in 1940, he survived a bombing only to be taken prisoner of war. "One night the German bombs shook us out of our beds," he said, "and then we were all prisoners." Some months later he was released by the Germans to resume his education.

The new instructor said he and his wife, Godefrieda, were most impressed by all the telephones in America. "In Holland we have so few and they all seem to be in the Meteorological Institute," he went on to say.

The efficient heating system in his home here posed a difficult situation for the family. Because of the central living room fireplaces in Holland, the other rooms get very cold during winter, and many blankets are required for sufficient warmth. Thinking the situation the same here, the Vanderbys brought eleven blankets with them. "If it does get cold," he said, "we'll be ready for it."

In addition to his native Dutch, Mr. Vanderbyl speaks English, German, and French, and studies languages as a hobby. Surprisingly enough, weather forecasting isn't one of his hobbies.

Mr. Vanderbyl lives at 641 Frey Drive with his wife and two children, Jo-Ann 9, and Baldwin 6.

Percentage of Ag Students Experiences Statistical Drop

BY BRUCE ELLIS

AMONG AMERICAN EDUCATORS concern with enrollments in schools of agriculture can be traced definitely to a failure in exploiting the expanded opportunities in agriculture, according to Arthur D. Weber, dean of agriculture.

Statistics indicate a one percent drop in ag students at K-State during the last five years. However, enrollment figures show that the number of ag students has remained fairly constant. With the raise in total student population, percentage-wise the agricultural school has in effect had a statistical drop in enrollment, according to E. M. Gerritz, registrar and director of admissions.

Year	Ag students	Total enrollment	Percentage
51-52	935	4947	19%
52-53	961	5030	19%
53-54	879	5052	17%
54-55	861	5385	16%
55-56	902	5977	15%
56-57 *	901	6520	14%

* These figures are estimates, since they do not include late registrants. Fall semester enrollment figures used in compiling this table.

THROUGHOUT THE WORLD there is an acute food shortage. As populations increase, food demands increase. With this increased demand for food have come serious problems in marketing, transportation and other allied industries. Industries directly concerned with distribution and food processing need young men and women with agricultural backgrounds.

The old stereotype that agricultural schools prepare only farmers is as outmoded as the horse and buggy. At K-State every Ph.D. degree offered is intimately associated with the ag school. Students in schools of agriculture undertake training that prepares them for widely varying occupations, Dean Weber pointed out.

AN ANALYSIS of this critical situation graphically points out two facts; (1) Although food demands are increasing with the rapid rise in population, mechanization of the farm drastically cuts the need for man-power (2) The mechanization of the farm has progressed so rapidly that allied industries find themselves in desperate need of men and women with this ag background.

Then too we are all well aware that the United States has been embarked on a program of surplus storage. Perhaps one of the largest fields to be explored is that of surplus distribution.

THE NET INCOME for industrial workers exceeded the net farm income last year for the first time in the history of the state. This alone is proof that our rural economy is rapidly changing its complexion.

Dwight A. Nesmith, assistant professor, Engineering Experiment station, is an earnest supporter of the change in emphasis in agriculture, from the how-to-do-it stage to the pure scientific stage.

EVERYBODY'S BUSY as physical plant workmen continue the task of taking sand off the parking lot south of the Union. It'll sure be swell to have the feet hit something solid instead of getting a shoe full of sand.

Risque or Prudish, They're Well-Read

Atlanta—(U.P.)—Which is more risque—the Sears Roebuck catalog or "Playboy" magazine?

NO ONE ever thought the famous old Sears catalog would achieve such notoriety, but finally it did yesterday in Georgia.

It happened at a session of the Georgia literature commission which is honor bound to look—with censoring eye—between the covers of supposed-to-be naughty magazines.

Attorney Osgood Williams wanted the commission to tell him why it objected to allegedly obscene pictures in "Playboy" but did not protest photographs in Sears Roebuck's catalog advertising ladies' undies.

WILLIAMS said the 1955 spring and summer edition of the catalog "makes an obvious effort to sell undergarments by showing the size of women's bust measurements."

Dr. James P. Wesberry, a dignified Baptist minister who is chairman of the commission, patiently explained to Williams the difference between the two publications.

THE LADIES OF SEARS, he said, "all had on a certain amount of clothing" but the girls of Playboy "were clad only in roses."

The commission has requested Georgia distributors to remove Playboy magazine and six others from their news stands. A decision by the commission to ban the popular man's magazine may lead to a legal test of the commission constitutionality.

Wesberry declined to say when a decision would be forthcoming.

Stevenson Talks in Missouri, Hopes to Regain Demo Votes

Kansas City, Mo., (U.P.)—Adlai Stevenson moved into border state Missouri today in an attempt to recapture 13 electoral votes for the Democrat party.

THE NOMINEE ran into competition from Vice-President Richard Nixon, however, who scheduled a speech at Springfield at noon, eight hours ahead of Stevenson's appearance here.

Nixon campaigned to bolster re-election of Rep. Dewey Short and keep Missouri in the Republican column.

STEVENSON, on the other hand, hoped normally Democrat Missouri would revert to his party. President Eisenhower carried Missouri by 29,000 votes in 1952.

Leaders on the state ticket, headed by Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., and Sen. Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., were expected to reassure Stevenson on that point.

DEMOCRATS turned the appearance into a general party rally—with all statewide office seekers slated to share the speakers platform.

Following his appearance here, Stevenson will invade briefly President Eisenhower's home state of Kansas for a 15-minute talk tomorrow. That speech will be made from the Wyandotte county courthouse steps.

Unseated Pogo Delegates Will Sit Down or Bolt

Pogo convention headquarters—Efforts were being made today by 456 unseated POGO delegates to find chairs. "We either want to sit down or we are going to bolt!" cried the head of the Dismal Swamp delegation. "The things we have to stand for in the Great Dismal are enough, we don't want to have to stand for the balance of this convention." An unauthorized source claimed that the gentleman was told he could stand for it or lump it.

"This is what happens when PEOPLE run a convention," declared Walt Kelly, a television actor, acting as party chairman, when nobody asked him for his opinion. "This is the way PEOPLE do it. My boys here are not people, they are animals. When we finally take this story to the animals, the ordinary animal in the street, there may be action."

TOM BROPHY, press secretary, has repeatedly pointed out that there is plenty of action here, and there promises to be plenty of action in November. "The television people alone are so active that there is not much room for anything else to happen," said Brophy.

Arkansas City—Everett Estel, a 40-year-old father, was fined $500 and sentenced to 90 days in the Cowley County jail recently for contributing to the delinquency of his 15-year-old son, Dennis. Recently arrested in a stolen automobile, the youth told officers his father had given him liquor before he stole the vehicle.

Washington—Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) on Adlai E. Stevenson's charge the administration led the nation into a farm depression:

"Adlai Stevenson has set out to create a farm depression. By his gloom and doom approach, he is trying to talk farm prices and income down for his own selfish political benefit."

Gals Invade Men's Room

A spacious room in a crowded house is quite a luxury, claim Alpha Xi Omegas Mary Lee Dierdorff, EE Sr, and Sandra Morissette, AE Jr. Last week the two girls moved into the men's room at their sorority house.

All the rooms in the Alpha Xi house were redecorated last summer. These rooms have formica-topped built-ins and modern style sofas. All the rooms are done in vivid colors with an oriental flavor.

Because of an overflow in the dorms, Mary Lee and Sandra took over the men's room in the basement. The room boasts of pine paneling, its own coffee table, couch, chairs, beds, desks, and bureaus. There is also a private bathroom. The girls have considered buying a portable television set and installing a telephone extension.

According to Mary Lee and Sandy, "it's only a matter of time until we install a dumb waiter so we won't have to climb the stairs for meals."

By the way, the room is referred to as the "Overflow," or the "Drain," and it lacks a fireplace. Any donations?

Houston—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon continued his campaign in Texas today despite a bout with flu. He challenged Adlai E. Stevenson last night to put on or take off the Fair Deal show after he meets with former President Harry S. Truman today.

Nixon declared that, unless Stevenson "repudiates the discredited philosophy of Americans for Democratic Action and Mr. Truman," he will "forfeit his right" to the support of millions of Democrats.

At the last minute, however, he withdrew the accusation that a "huge concession in Argentina was granted to an American company under circumstances which angered the Argentine public not only against Peron but against America and American business as well."

United Nations, N.Y.—France and Britain fought with evident bitterness Tuesday to beat down Egypt's counter-attack against them here in the Suez Canal controversy.

A procedural wrangle is expected when the UN Security Council meets at noon today for the first round on the new case, just two months after President Nasser seized the canal.

The result is in doubt. The United States has kept its stand secret; the Soviet Union is reported backing Egypt in the developing UN battle over the 103-mile waterway.

Portadown, Ireland — Police hoped Tuesday that 13-year-old Brendan Bailey won't develop a complex over his lack of mechani-

Two all-state wrestlers are among 14 freshman prospects competing for positions on the K-state freshman mat squad. Coach Fritz Knorr expects eight or ten more grapplers to tryout before he selects a team in November.

Freshmen will not be eligible for Big Seven wrestling but will be able to go to the Missouri Valley AAU meets this winter at Omaha, Neb., Kansas City, Mo., and Cedar Falls, Iowa.

The wrestlers are Russell Grant, Wichita West; Kent Fussell, Shawnee Mission; Bob Servanter, Tulsa (Okla.) Central; Darrell Huggins, Tulsa (Okla.) Central; Gary Criss, Manhattan; Bill Kastner, Salina; and Parry Brinlee, Tulsa (Okla.) Central.

Roby Barnes, Colby; Jim Clapp, Tulsa; Bob Rippe, Atwood; David Miller, Omaha, Neb.; Paul Sabin, Salina; Larry Fanning, Wichita West; and Gayle Milligan, El Dorado.

OU Eyes Win Mark, Opens Bid Saturday

By UNITED PRESS

Mighty Oklahoma opens its bid for another undefeated season and a new college winning record this week, while K-State and Colorado open Big Seven conference play in a game at Boulder.

Oklahoma opens at home against Jim Tatum's North Carolina crew and should be favored all the more since North Carolina State spoiled Tatum's first game at North Carolina, 26-6, Saturday.

The national champion Sooners have won 30 games in a row and could set a new national winning streak with victories over North Carolina this week and over K-State the next.

Only one team nudged into the win column Saturday as Nebraska, opened under new coach Pete Elliott, and edged South Dakota State, 34-6. Kansas, Missouri, and Colorado all went down to strong intersectional opponents.

Oregon breezed past Colorado, 35-6; Texas Christian blanked Kansas, 32-0, and Missouri failed before Oregon State, 19-13.

With the exception of the K-State-Colorado game, the other teams play strong intersectional foes this week end. Iowa State is at Northwestern, Missouri at Purdue, Nebraska at Ohio State and College of Pacific at Kansas.

The red-hot scramble for second place and the Orange Bowl berth will begin the next week end with three conference games on tap.

The standings:

Nebraska	.....1	0	0	1.000
Iowa State	.....1	0	0	1.000
Oklahoma	.....0	0	0	1.000
Kansas	.....0	1	0	.000

Intersectional Foes Test Valley Entries Saturday

By UNITED PRESS

Oklahoma A&M's sophomores and Detroit's pitching Steve Piskach led two Missouri Valley conference teams to victories Saturday. Wichita lost, leaving Tulsa and Houston to be tested in intersectional play.

Wichita's 37-9 defeat by Arizona State was the first entry in the loss column of the MVC, although two non-participating members, Bradley and Drake, have not won a game this season.

Four Valley teams meet top flight opponents next Saturday, and Detroit takes on Villanova on Sunday. The schedule pits Houston against Mississippi State in the Cougars' opener; Oklahoma A&M comes up against Arkansas at Little Rock; Tulsa travels to Cincinnati, and Wichita is host to Hardin-Simmons.

Piskach, Detroit's quarterback, passed for two touchdowns as Wally Fromhart's Titans pinned a 20-7 setback on Marquette. The 24-year-old ex-leatherneck, who formerly played with the Quantico Marines and the University of Toledo, also converted twice. Halfback Bill Dando passed for one touchdown and scored another.

Penalties riddled Wichita as the Wheatshockers were overwhelmed by Arizona State's free-wheeling touchdown twins, halfbacks Leon Burton and Glen Mitchem. Each scored on runs of around 50 yards.

Bradley, not participating in MVC football this season, fought to a 7-7 tie with Illinois Normal. Drake—in the same category as Bradley—was walloped 26-7 by San Jose State, which featured a wide open passing attack.

Cat Gridders Stress Defense In Tuesday's Practice Session

Accent was placed on defense Tuesday afternoon as the Wildcat football squad spent most of the two-hour practice session working against Colorado plays.

Coach Bus Mertes used freshmen footballers for the opposition yesterday as the Wildcats prepared for the single-wing formation used by the University of Colorado. The Cats travel to Boulder this Friday for a Saturday afternoon conference game with the Buffs.

Tony Addeo returned to full-time duty during the Tuesday practice and alternated at the right halfback position with Jerry Hayes. Addeo bruised his hip during the A&M game last Saturday.

Running with the first unit were ends, Don Zadnik and George Laddish; tackles, Bill Lindsey and Gene Meier; guards, Wally Carlson and Rudy Bletscher, center, Chuck Sprinkle; quarterback, Dick Corbin; halfbacks, Kenny Nesmith and Addeo or Hayes; and fullback Bill Carrington.

Lindsey ran on the number one unit in place of Ellis Rainsberger, Cat captain, who injured his ankle in the game Saturday. Porky Morgan, head trainer, expects Rainsberger to be ready for action by game-time Saturday.

Also listed on the injured list is Jon Walker who started at right tackle in the A&M game. Walker suffered a broken nose during the contest and worked without pads yesterday. Meier has replaced Walker in the Wildcat lineup and is expected to draw the starting assignment Saturday afternoon.

The Colorado game is the first of three conference tilts on the road before the Cats return home on October 20 to meet the University of Missouri. The Wildcats invade Oklahoma and then Nebraska before meeting the Tigers.

"It is a tough job getting ready for a team using the single-wing," Mertes explained.

Key Men. Back To Oklahoma, Buffalo Rosters

(U.P.)—Coach Dallas Ward's Colorado team was bolstered today by the return of sophomore Bob Salerno to contact work as the Buffs prepared for their Big Seven opener with K-State here Saturday.

Salerno, a promising tackle, injured a knee in Saturday's 35-0 loss to Oregon and had been a questionable player this week. Trainer Jack Rockwell said also, that fullback Leroy Clark, another injured player, would be ready for the K-State game.

Coach Ward continued yesterday to work on defensive line play, particularly down the middle where Oregon made great gains.

At Oklahoma halfback Tommy McDonald was back in action with the Sooners today and appeared in good shape for Saturday's opener against North Carolina.

McDonald scrimmaged with the team Tuesday for the first time. He injured his leg in practice nearly two weeks ago.

Brooklyn Barber Shaves Phils with 5-0 No-Hitter

Sal (the Barber) Maglie pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a no-hit and no-run 5-0 win over the Philadelphia Phillies last night to hold the Dodgers within half a game of first place.

The 39-year old righthander, who was junked by the New York Giants and Cleveland Indians, won his 12th victory of the season in a clutch job in which only three Phils got on base.

Millwaukee stayed atop the National League but only in the win column. The important loss column in the same for both the Brooks and the Braves.

Working with only three days rest, Maglie retired the first eight men to face him before giving up a walk to losing Philly hurler Jack Meyer.

Then Sal the Barber cut down 13 Phils in a row before Willie Jones worked him for a walk in the eighth.

Reader's Digest

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write

...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country... and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles—in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

Follow the directions given below. Fill in the entry blank, paste it on a post card, and get it into the mail before the deadline. Additional blanks are obtainable at your college bookstore.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Don't delay. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will win.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October
Reader's Digest will like the best.

READER'S DIGEST CONTEST, Box 4, Great Neck, L. I., New York

In the space opposite the word "FIRST" write the number of the article you think will be the most popular of all. Opposite the word "SECOND" write the number of the article you think will rank second in popularity. List in this way the numbers of the six top articles in the order of their popularity. (Note: Use only the numbers of articles you choose. Do not write the title of any article.) Clip and paste this coupon on a Government post card.

Hour Flights Open To AFROTC Frosh

One-hour flights in a C-47 will be available for AFROTC freshmen Thursday and Friday, Lt. Ralph D. Oakley, information service officer has announced.

The flights are the first of several during the semester in which all freshmen and sophomore AFROTC men may take part.

Although they are not required, they help the men become accustomed to flying, and are a motivation to do better work in ROTC, Lt. Oakley explained.

The flights are made whenever there is a plane available. The C-47 that will be used this week is from Forbes Air Force base, Topeka.

Names of air science courses in the Military Science department have been changed this semester, Capt. Carlton M. Smith, director of academic training and assistant professor of air science, has announced.

Formerly the courses were known as Air Science 1-A, 1-B, 2-A, 2-B, 3-A, 3-B, 4-A, and 4-B.

It can be seen from the names what are included in the courses. For example, Aerial Warfare is an introduction to targets and weapons, and National Defense is an introduction to aviation and fundamental global geography.

Air Operations includes aircraft, bases, and operations. Problem Solving, a more advanced course, deals with creative problem solving. Communications the Air Force teaches suitable writing, speaking, and reading.

What's Doing ... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Test Lab "Upstairs"

Even in aviation's earliest years, it was axiomatic that "proof must come in the air". Out of this, the flying test bed was born ... and slowly grew to its present-day stature as an indispensable engineering tool, implemented by an extensive variety of engineering skills.

The problems of observing and recording an engine's performance in the air are legion. Most recently, a Boeing B-50 and a North American B-45 were readied as test beds for Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's J-57 and J-75 turbojets. The experimental power plant, contained in a retractable pod in the bomb bay, can be flown to locations where atmospheric conditions permit most efficient testing. The prototype is then extended into the air stream for actual flight work with the regular engines idled, and the job of observing and recording in-flight performance begins.

From the first shakedown flight to the test engine's eventual acceptance, invaluable information is gathered. Perhaps the most vital contribution made by P & W A's flying test-bed program is the great reduction in time between initial development and quantity production of engines. Important, too, is the quality and diversity of engineering talent involved in such a program, for it spells out remarkable opportunity for today's engineering student.

After exhaustive testing in the highly advanced facilities of Willgoos Laboratory, the mighty P & W A J-75 is run in ground test prior to test-bed flight. The four-engine B-45 bomber (above) allowed test flight at high speeds and altitudes early in the J-75's development.

Donavon Hostetler Dies In Claflin Road Accident

Donavon F. Hostetler, '56, a member of the College planning staff, was killed last night when his sports car went off a curve on Claflin road and overturned in a ditch. He was 24 years old.

Miriam Glee McAuley, 21, Eng Jr, from Shawnee, riding with Hostetler, escaped with apparent minor injuries. She was reported in good condition at Riley County hospital, where her injuries were listed as a mild concussion and lacerations. She is being held for observation.

Westminster Group Plans New Center

Plans to build a split-level student center on a lot purchased this summer have been made by the Westminster Fellowship Presbyterian student group.

"We hope we will be able to build in two or three years, maybe sooner," said Emerson Abendroth, director. "Plans are being drawn, and a scale model will be ready in two weeks."

"We don't go in for recreation much in our program, but there will be a small rec room for things like ping pong," he said. "Westminster is mainly interested in study and the discussion of faith. We feel that recreation is available elsewhere."

Main rooms in the new house will include a lounge, a small library, meeting rooms, and an assembly room.

The old Westminster house at 315 N. 14th will be kept as a residence for Mr. Abendroth and his family, according to present plans.

Hostetler was driving west on Claflin Road and failed to negotiate the 90-degree turn about a quarter of a mile west of College avenue, where Claflin road turns south to Route 24.

The car apparently skidded broadside off the road, flipping over as it went into the 4-foot-deep ditch along the west side of the pavement.

Hostetler was thrown from the car and killed when it dropped on top of him. Witnesses said the left door of the car was resting on his body when they arrived at the accident scene.

Miss McAuley was trapped inside the car and was helped out by Dale Duncan, Route No. 5, first witness at the scene. Duncan was attracted by the noise of the horn, which Miss McAuley was sounding in an effort to summon help.

The accident first was reported to police by Mrs. Leo Wirtz, a neighbor of Duncan. Mrs. Wirtz heard the crash and called the police while her husband went to the accident scene. Wirtz is an electrical engineering instructor here.

Wirtz said that last night's accident was the "third or fourth" at the curve.

Hostetler, who lived at 1728 Laramie street, received his Bachelor of Architecture and a BS in landscape design last May. Following graduation, he was employed by the College as a member of the planning staff.

He had lived for the past three years at the Laramie street address, where his landlady, Mrs. Ben Wohlberg said, "He was just like one of the family."

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hostetler, Harper; five sisters, and a brother, Dr. Clarence Hostetler, Des Plaines, Ill.

The body was taken to the Burliew-Cowan Funeral home.

Fashion Conscious Pooches

Man's so called "best friend" is really "putting the bite on his owner." This enlightening fact popped onto the literary horizon from a recent article in The Wall Street Journal.

This article also mentioned the fact that this is National Dog Week. From September 23 to 29, rousing celebrations will be held throughout the nation's kennels.

But, back to the "bite" part of the article. It seems the estimated 22.5 million furry friends scampering around this country are demanding not only bones, but, of all things, clothes. Not just any clothes will do; you understand; these dog duds must be the best.

Gentleman dogs are demanding tuxedos and top hats, and lady canines are howling for the custom-made hats designed for them by one of the nation's famous creators of women's hats. Some of these bonnets retail for $35 to $100 each.

Any poodle having breakfast in bed will not be well-dressed this year unless he or she is wearing one of the new bed jackets, created especially for closely-clipped poodles. (It's for poodles with "poodle cuts.")

Other hounds will be able to doze off in flannel pajamas, which have handy button-up or zip-up backs. The only problem dog owners will have from now on is how to get the dogs to fasten up their own nighties.

"THESE CRAZY PEOPLE," barks Pepsi as she performs for a cookie. "What a poor doggie has to go through for a snack." Pepsi is the pooch of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Updike, 20 "B" Elliot courts.

Pogo Delegates Might Switch If They're Not Given Seats

Chicago—(By transAtlantic phone)—In a surprise move 456 POGO delegates today tried to switch to another candidate. "We'll take anybody who will give us a place to sit," said the leader of the revolt.

The Pogo delegation is unseated and has so far failed in its efforts to be recognized. Several were recognized by the police on the outskirts of Cicero, Ill., at a late hour last night and were sent back to the Convention Hall where once

"WE THOUGHT we had a deal cooking with one of the other groups," said spokesman Walt Kelly, "but when they started counting noses they ran headlong into our elephant delegate, who as you know, has quite a nose. By the time they were through counting HIS nose, it was dark and nobody could see the vote. Besides they claimed that the presence of the elephant in our group did nothing to inspire confidence. We admit that seating him, under prejudiced conditions, would constitute a problem.

"I WILL SAY THIS: we had a visit from one very important state head last night, at quite a late hour. I don't think he would have walked in boldly and fallen flat in the middle of the suite if it had not been a significant move. ## Kentucky-Touring Nixon To Talk on Civil Rights

Louisville, Ky., (U.P)—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon flew into Kentucky today with a bid to swing this politically-important border state into the GOP camp in November.

NIXON also was armed with plans for a full discussion of the civil rights issue, on which he first spoke out fully yesterday in Houston, Texas.

The vice-president, apparently almost recovered from his two-day bout with a virus infection and laryngitis, was scheduled for two full-fledged speeches here today after a midnight flight from Kansas City.

Nixon planned to devote a major part of one speech to civil rights in this city where school integration has successfully worked.

AT KANSAS CITY, Nixon vied for crowd honors with the Democrats' top two names—presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson and former president Truman. They spoke at a competing Democrat rally across the river in Kansas City, Mo.

A chanting, cheering overflow crowd greeted Nixon and his wife when they

Study Says You Can Quit The Nasty Smoking Habit

By UNITED PRESS

New York, (U.P)—Cigaret smokers may not believe this on first sight—23 out of 25 addicts were eased entirely off the habit within seven days, and with hardly a sign of the well-known (to cigaret addicts) "withdrawal symptoms."

Dr. G. W. Rapp, professor of biochemistry and physiology, Loyola University, Chicago, eased them off with three pills a day—pills made of the chemical, lobeline sulfate and certain anti-acids to make lobeline acceptable to and retainable in the stomach.

IN THREE YEARS, Rapp has now experimented with 40 cigaret addicts, including two and three-pack a day smokers. Of that number, 329 gave up smoking entirely without undue effort after taking the pills for from seven days to a few weeks.

Naturally, medical men have been interested in the experiments, since they find it extremely difficult if not impossible to persuade patients to give up smoking.

RAPP REPORTED a new blood test which demonstrated that lobeline when combined with antiacids is taken up into the blood stream from the gastronomical tract in measurable and accumulating amounts.

This would explain lobeline's ability to eliminate the intense craving for tobacco which comes over a habituated user when he stops using it. Lobeline is derived from a plant similar to the tobacco plant. It is an alkaloid related to the nicotine alkaloid.

RAPP'S WORK suggested the lobeline alkaloid replaces the nicotine alkaloid in the body's working chemistry. As more and more accumulates, it diminishes and finally eliminates the craving for tobacco without creating a craving of its own.

Lobeline is by no means a new chemical. In fairly large doses, it is dangerous because of its strong stimulating effect on the respirator system. Its use in amounts not large enough to be dangerous but large enough to evoke its anti-tobacco craving was severely limited by the ordinary stomach's revulsion to it.

RAPP and his associates reduced the dose to a mere two milligrams, combined with fast-acting and slow-acting antiacids. This made it both tolerable and safe—so safe that the compound is sold without prescription under the trade name, "Bactron."

His experiments since have been directed at showing that these tiny amounts of lobeline sulfate are enough to eliminate craving when based in antiacids. His newest test involved 25 cigaret addicts who were given the pills three times a day for seven days. His scientific "controls" involved 50 other addicts who took identical pills made of inert starches and lobeline sulfate in inert starches.

THE SMOKING habit of the "controls" were unchanged. But at the end of seven days, 23 of the 25 in the primary group no longer smoked.

Smoke Conditioner Could be Profitable

EVER HAVE the yearning to make a fast buck? Well, we have hit upon the ideal idea to make said fast buck. By now you're probably wondering (at least you're supposed to be) just what this novel scheme is.

It is a smoke conditioner. You're right, it is similar to an air-conditioner. The only difference is that in the Fagomatic (that's the trade name of the product) instead of pure, filtered air you get tarry, smoke-laden used air.

NOW THIS little device has it all over the old method of smoking. That is, putting a fag in your mouth every time you have the craving to fill your lungs with that satisfying, nicotine vapor.

Now, instead of having lips and cigarette meet, you will be able to sit in your smoke-filled room and merely breathe to obtain the desired amount of tobacco smoke.

THE NICE THING about this new device is that it's compact. It is designed to fit in any window more than 24 inches wide and has an automatic smoke ejector that takes all smoke out of the room every 15 minutes.

Of course, if you're not a real gone fag fiend, you can set the timing mechanism to change the air at longer intervals.

AND IF you are not a fag fiend at all, we have a product called the Zero machine in which merely the motor runs. This is guaranteed to satisfy the non-smoker because it puts out only a lot of nothing.

If you've read the other article on this page concerning smoking and you've decided you do want to quit, just forget this easy way to make money.

NATURALLY, we don't want you to invest in this potential gold mine if you're not going to be a nicotine addict yourself.—Two-pack-a-day-Marker

Trend Latest Male Fashion Leans Toward Ivy League

By JUDY TAPLIN

WHAT'S THE latest in the male collegiate fashion world? Why, it's the Ivy League look, of course!

Ivy League sport shirts can be spotted relatively easily by their small, subdued stripes. Olive and avocado on black with some brighter color added for accent, are the most characteristic colors.

THE SHIRTS have regular dress shirt type button-down collars with a button at the back of the neck, also. Long sleeves end in barrel-cuffs. A box pleat goes down the center back.

Ivy League sports trousers, called Ivy Chinos, come in silver tan, olive, white, and black. The demand for the silver tan (or sand colored) chinos in Manhattan stores indicates that they are tops with K-Staters. Black Ivy Leagues, strange as it may seem, are least popular.

strange as it may seem, are least popular.

THE SPORTS trousers, made of cotton denim, have no pleats in front and have a belted back. The legs, which are relatively tight, have a very rapid taper.

To make his outfit complete the Ivy Leaguer has a flat, pin-down-bill cap made out of the same material as his shirt.

Clothes for dress also convey the Ivy League look. Wool worsted slacks are made in the same style pattern as the chinos.

IVY LEAGUE sports jackets, which have no shoulder pads, are three-button single breasted with loose fitting waistlines.

Even ties have taken up the fever, as they have become narrow with small, subdued patterns.

THIS MAN IS GONE-IVY. Dennis Darner, Sp Sr, wins the approval of coeds Ann Cook, Bot Jr, and Judy Cain, EEd Sr. Darner wears silver tan buckle-in-the-back Ivy League trousers and a brown and white pin-striped Ivy shirt with matching cap.

Male or Female, Everyone Seems To Be Changing Their Hair Style as the 'World Returns to Normalcy'

By MARILYN McKNIGHT

"THE WORLD is returning to normal," one Manhattan barber has noted. "The ducktail, or hot-rod cuts, are on their way out."

A change in masculine hair styles has been noted throughout the city, along with a change for the fair sex, too. The new styles tend to be more conservative. Boys prefer flat tops while the girls are going back to short, casual styles which were popular a couple of years ago.

SOMETHING NEW for the girls is the bouffant look. The hair is worn down over the ears with more waves and soft curls on the forehead. Page boys are coming back into style.

Beauty operators said that many girls put rinses on their hair because a rinse adds highlights and helps to brighten the color of the hair.

WHEN GIRLS were asked why they chose their hairstyles, they generally agreed that they were easy to care for, popular at the present time, or suited their personality.

Cathy Blanford, Sp Soph, says that her extremely short haircut was entirely unplanned. A friend began experimenting with Cathy's hair, and by the time she was through, Cathy had very little hair left.

ANNE PEDERSON, BPM Soph, who wears an Italian haircut, said that she chose it because it is easily cared for; she can wash her hair during the noon hour and have it dry in time for a one o'clock class.

According to beauty operators, the girls are keeping their hair short but are wearing it in softer lines. Ducktails, pony tails, and Italian haircuts, which have been a favorite, are decreasing in popularity.

CREW CUTS RUN a close race with the flat tops for the boys' most popular hair cut. Ducktails, which are short on top and long on the back and sides, are decreasing among boys in popularity. They were adapted from the hot-rod driver along the West Coast.

The trend away from the masculine look for the girls was brought about by the boys' popular demand, one beauty operator commented.

One boy commented that girls with long hair were such a novelty that it was actually refreshing to see them.

Another boy said he likes the girls' Italian haircut because it looks neat besides being tomboyish.

The girls uphold their short, simple hairstyles. Not only do they save time, but the short haircut suits any outfit while the more elaborate hairstyle does not look good with sport clothes.

POPULAR HAIRSTYLES modeled by three K-Staters are the ducktail, crewcut, and flat top. From top to bottom, Bill Janney, ME Sr, Sheldon Williams, Ar 03, and Bill Schicktanz, Psy Jr.

Injured Wildcats Back; Team Preps For Buffs

Ellis Rainsberger and Chuck Norris returned to K-State grid practice Wednesday afternoon as the Cats held their final hard work session before meeting the University of Colorado at Boulder on Saturday.

Rainsberger, Cat captain, who injured his ankle in the Oklahoma A&M game last Saturday, worked at left guard position on the second unit during the Wednesday practice and will compete with Wally Carlson for his position at the starting left guard spot this Saturday. Rainsberger worked at tackle in pre-season drills before being shifted to guard. He opened the season at tackle in the season's opener. Norris, reserve halfback, has been on the sidelines for the past two weeks with a shoulder injury and is expected to see limited action in the Buff game.

The Wildcats worked on defense against Colorado plays during the first part of the two-hour practice session Wednesday with the last hour devoted to polishing their own offensive attack.

The Cats saw no real contact work but paid special attention to pass pattern plays. More of the same type of work is on tap for this afternoon's practice.

One personnel change was made by Coach Bus Mertes. He shifted Gene Keady from quarterback to halfback as the coaching staff searched for more speed and overall strength in the backfield.

Keady, who had been working as a reserve quarterback, alternated with Jerry Hayes in the first string right halfback position during the workout.

Terry Lee sat on the sidelines during the practice session after hurting his ankle in the Tuesday practice. He is expected to be ready for action by Saturday.

Mertes said that Thursday he will aim for more precision in the split-T offense used by the Wildcats. Colorado works from the single wing formation much of the time.

The team will leave for Colorado at 10:30 a.m. Friday and stay at the Shirley-Savoy hotel in Denver.

Brooks Lose; Braves Lead By Full Game

Brooklyn slipped a full game behind the Milwaukee Braves yesterday as Robin Roberts stopped Don Newcombe and the Bums 7-3. Roberts limited the Dodgers to five hits in winning his 19th game of the season.

In the other National League game, Chicago beat St. Louis 3-2, but they had to go 13 innings to do it.

Milwaukee has three games left, all with the Cardinals and Brooklyn also has three games yet to play, all with Pittsburgh. The Dodgers have the advantage of playing all three games at home.

In the American League Cleveland beat Kansas City 8-4 as Herb Score won his 20th game of the season.

Wilson Does Double Duty At Quarterback, Left Half

By ED KOCHER

Keith (Alabam) Wilson is giving Wildcat Coach Bus Mertes two for the price of one this season running at both the quarterback and halfback positions. Wilson started at quarter against Oklahoma A&M, then switched to left half when another signal caller entered the game.

"The change from halfback to quarterback has been quite a shift for me," Wilson said.

"There is a lot of thinking to do at the quarterback position, and being new at it I get nervous in the games because of the added responsibility," Wilson said.

Wilson was moved to quarterback during spring training and proved his ability in the Oklahoma A&M game by grinding out 34 yards in 8 carries. He attempted three passes, and completed two for 18 yards.

"Keith looked great in spring drills," Bus Mertes said. "He is one of the shiftiest, most elusive runners on the squad."

"He is a likeable fellow and I'm not afraid to run him at either half or quarter," Mertes added. "He is one of our best runners in the open, and will surprise people with his speed as he gets more at ease."

Hampered by a leg and hip injury last season, Keith scored 2 touchdowns and rolled up 66 yards rushing. He caught 4 passes for 21 yards, and returned one kickoff for 18 yards.

Wilson made all-state at West End high in Birmingham, Ala., and has one varsity letter at K-State.

Keith, 20, is one of the smaller men on the squad, weighing a shifty 165-pounds, and standing 5-8.

He is majoring in History and wants to coach after graduation. Alabam had his big day against KU last season when he scored two touchdowns.

When asked about the Colorado university game, Wilson said, "They have a good solid team and it should be a good game, but I think that we can beat them."

Keith was married August 18 to the former Dottie Parker of Birmingham. Mrs. Wilson is majoring in physical education at K-State.

THE SEARCH FOR BRIDEY SIGAFOOS

It was a dullish evening at the Theta house. Mary Ellen Krumbald was sticking pins in an effigy of the house mother; Evelyn Zinsmaster was welding a manhole cover to her charm bracelet; Algatica McKeesport was writing a letter to Elvis Presley in blood. Like I say, it was a dullish evening.

Suddenly Dolores Vladnay stood up and stamped her foot. "Chaps," she said to her sorors, "this is too yawn-making! Let's do something gay and mad and wild and different and gasp-making. Anybody got an idea?"

"No," said the sorors, shaking their little sausage curls.

"Think, chaps, think!" said Dolores and passed Philip Morris Cigarettes to everybody, and if there ever was a think-making smoke, it is today's fresh and zestful and yummy Philip Morris. Things come clear when you puff a good, clean, natural Philip Morris — knots untie, dilemmas dissolve, problems evaporate, cobwebs vanish, fog disperses, and the benevolent sun pours radiance on a new and dewy world. Oh, happy world! Oh, Philip Morris! Oh, regular! Oh, long-size! Oh, get some already!

"One, two, three."

Now Geraldine Quidnunc, her drooping brain-cells revived by a good Philip Morris, leapt up and cried, "Oh, I have a perfect gasser of an idea! Let's hypnotize somebody!"

"Oh, capital!" cried the sorors. "Oh, tingle-making!"

"Yes," said Dolores Vladnay, "it is a splendid idea, but hypnosis requires a pliant and malleable mind, and we are all so strong and well-adjusted."

At this point, in walked a young pledge named Alice Bluegown. "Excuse me, mistresses," said she, "I have finished making your beds, doing your homework, and ironing your pleats. Will there be anything else?"

"Yes," snapped Dolores Vladnay. "When I count to three, you will be hypnotized."

"Yes, excellency," said Alice, bobbing a curtsy.

"One, two, three," said Dolores.

Alice promptly went into a trance.

"Go back," said Dolores. "Go back to your fifth birthday, back to your birth, to before your birth, to your last incarnation. . . Now, who are you?"

"My name is Bridey Sigafos," said Alice. "The year is 1818, and I am in County Cork."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"How old are you?" asked Dolores.

"I am seven," said Alice.

"Where is your mother?" asked Dolores.

"She got sold at the fair last year."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Tell us about yourself," said Dolores.

"I am five feet tall," said Alice. "I have brown eyes, and weigh 3200 pounds."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Isn't that rather heavy for a girl?" said Dolores.

"Who's a girl?" said Alice. "I'm a black and white guernsey."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Moo!" said Bridey Sigafos.

Babe Didrikson Zaharias Dies After 3-Year Cancer Battle

Galveston, Texas—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete of modern times, died at 6:28 a.m. (8:28 a.m. EDT) today, ending a gallant three-year fight against cancer.

At the bedside of the 42-year old Olympic champion and first lady of golf was her husband, former wrestler George Zaharias, and members of the immediate family, a sister and two brothers.

'Flossy' Heading North

The stormy remains of hurricane Flossy moved slowly up the Atlantic coast today, flooding Norfolk, Va., and dumping rain as far north as New England.

Water as deep as six feet in some places blocked traffic from Norfolk's downtown section while winds as high as 50 miles per hour whipped through the city.

The death toll from the violent weather climbed to 16 with a plane crash and an auto accident in North Carolina killing two more persons.

Above normal high tides lashed the coast from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Provincetown, Mass.

Ike Expands Campaign But Won't Barnstorm

Washington—President Eisenhower said today that he has expanded his election campaign activities at the earnest request of republican associates. He said he still will not barnstorm or whistlestop, however.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that when he originally spoke of making five or six major campaign speeches his plans for the campaign were not complete.

Since he blocked out his campaign plans in the early summer he said a lot of pressure has been brought to bear on him to expand his speaking program and he probably will make two or three additional major addresses.

Registration Near For New Sorority

Gamma Phi Beta sorority, now in the process of colonizing at K-State, plans a registration period for rushing from 8 a.m. next Monday until noon on Saturday of next week.

All K-State women who wish to participate in the rush program have been asked to register in Anderson 111.

Senior Class Officer Petitions Are Available

Candidates for senior class offices now can pick up petitions of nomination at the dean of students office.

The signed petitions are due back at the dean of students office by Monday, October 8. The election will be October 18 and 19.

Petitions of candidates for senior class president must have 50 signatures, according to Nell Scott, chairman of the SGA Elections committee. Petitions for vice-president, secretary and treasurer must have 25 signatures.

YMCA Approves Union's Revised Y-Orpheum Plan

The YMCA Cabinet has approved revisions in Y-Orpheum rules that would, among other things, allow men and women to appear together in Y-Orpheum skits.

YMCA has agreed that the Union program council should begin planning for this year's presentation, according to President Harold Stauffer, AEd Sr. The program council earlier voted to accept responsibility for Y-Orpheum.

The final decision rests with the Union Governing board, which will meet Monday night, Union Activities Director Bob Alexander said.

If the governing board agrees to accept the decision, the board and YMCA would draw up a written agreement stating terms of the change.

Among proposals presented to Panhellenic council and Interfraternity council Monday night were:

- 1) That finalists be selected on the basis of stage tryouts;
- 2) that a general theme be established each year;
- 3) that the printed program be made larger and more attractive than in the past;
- 4) that a Y-Orpheum executive committee become a permanent Union committee and thus a member of the Union Program council.

In addition, 15 secondary revisions were proposed.

Although the new plan would call for the Union Program council to do most of the planning, the YMCA would appoint a Y-Orpheum manager and would have two representatives on the steering committee.

All profits from the show would continue to go to YMCA.

Rushing will begin Sunday, October 14, with a tea for all women who register, according to Karla Baur, Gamma Phi Beta student counselor from Iowa State College.

Interviews are planned for the following week. Pledging will be Sunday, October 21, and new members will be initiated in February.

Soon after the initiation, the chapter will be installed by national officers. It will be granted a charter as Beta Upsilon of Gamma Phi Beta.

Plans call for a chapter house to be available next September.

Colonization of the sorority at K-State was made possible when the Faculty Council on Student Affairs recently approved the move.

"I am delighted to welcome Gamma Phi Beta to the K-State campus," Dean of Women Helen Moore said. "I feel that it will have much to contribute to student life on campus."

Gamma Phi Beta will be the first sorority to come to K-State since Alpha Chi Omega started a chapter here in 1947.

Gamma Phi Beta was founded in Syracuse, N.Y., in 1874. When the K-State chapter is installed, there will be 62 chapters in the U.S. Total membership is more than 31,000.

Miss Baur of Iowa State and Pat McDermott of Washington State college are student counselors. Several Manhattan alumnae of the sorority are assisting with the colonization.

PLANNING TO PITCH into Ag Week activities next week are Pat Vopat, Karen Hampton and Connie Morgan (seated, left to right) and Lee Lutz and Carol Miller (standing). The five Ag School queen candidates will test their farming skill at a chore day next Friday.

Three Are Freshmen

Five Finalists Chosen For Ag Queen Contest

Three of the five finalists in the School of Agriculture queen contest are freshmen. The five were chosen by popular vote yesterday at Ag Seminar.

They are Connie Morgan, HEc Fr, Southeast hall; Lee Lutz, EEd Fr, and Pat Vopat, HE Fr, both of Northwest hall; Carol Miller, EEd Sr, Pi Beta Phi; and Karen Hampton, Sp Soph, Waltheim hall.

The Ag School queen will be presented at the Barnwarmer dance Saturday, October 6, in the main ballroom of the Union. She will be chosen at the dance. Each person buying a ticket to the dance will write his choice for queen on the back of his ticket before he hands it in at the dance.

The five finalists were chosen on personality, personal appearance and character. They were asked to give their hometown, major in College, and interests. The chairman of the queen committee, Gary Rumsey, then asked the candidates questions about farm subjects and problems.

The five girls will further display their farming talents at a chore day next Friday at 7 p.m. in the north campus parking lot. The chore session will end with a watermelon feed for all those attending.

Party, Dance on Union Menu Memorial Fund Is Established For Hostetler

SIGN OF 'GOOD TIMES' in the Union Dive is inspected by Fran Frantz, EEd Soph. It tells of the Cat's Paw Premiere, first Dive night-club show of the school year, which is set for 9 tomorrow night.

A listening party, movie, and dance will highlight the activities in the Union this weekend.

"The Cat's Paw Premier" is the theme of the dance in the Dive. The Don Nelson combo will play at the dance. A 30-minute floor show will be presented by student talent with Larry McDonald, ME Jr, as master of ceremonies.

"The Little Fugitive" is being shown in the Little Theatre at 7 p.m. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

A listening party for the football game with Colorado will be held in the main lounge of the Union at 3:00 p.m. tomorrow. The latest scores of the Big Seven games will be posted. Coffee will be served. The dress for the party is casual—blue-jeans or Bermuda shorts.

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, will hold a banquet in ballroom B at 7 p.m.

A banquet sponsored by the extension division will be held to climax a range management conference on campus this week.

A library memorial fund is being established by two K-State departments to honor Don Hostetler, who died in an auto accident on Claflin road Wednesday night.

Contributions are being received by the department of architecture and allied arts in co-operation with the department of horticulture. The contributions will be used to buy volumes for a Don Hostetler Memorial Library.

Funeral services for Hostetler, who had been a member of the College planning staff, will be tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. in the Mennonite church three miles east of Harper.

Miriam McAuley, Eng Jr, who suffered mild concussion and lacerations in the accident, was released from the hospital yesterday afternoon. She had been hospitalized for observation.

Oklahoma Figures New Way To Stop Ticket Scalping

By Mary Beckmeyer

OKLAHOMA UNIVERSITY has devised a system to foil scalpers. Last year, University officials thought their ID cards were the last word in preventing the age-old custom of scalping tickets.

However, they were foiled when sharpies merely photostated an original ID card and presented the cards at different times for stamping. Thus one ended up with two tickets.

THIS METHOD of friendly fraud has been eliminated by a small machine which is 12 inches square and weighs 80 pounds. It is the only one of its kind and its cost is $840. This makes indiscreet operations not only costly but pretty high impossible.

Impossible because no other perforating machine in the U.S. or adjoining territories can make holes of that exact same size. Holes made with the machine also leave no rough edges on either side of the ticket.

If some wise-one comes up with a way to receive more than his share of seatage, he will still find a limited market for his product since said machine is being used by the athletic department to identify all tickets sold to students.

NOW TICKET PUNCHERS can strain their eyeballs looking for holes. Gotta make sure they're the right size.

This machine sounds quite ingenious. Wonder if Mather will purchase one for the machine-minded athletic department of KU.

VIOLENCE FAILED to materialize at the University of California last Saturday when there was an "integrated" rooting section at the Baylor-California game.

The "Daily Californian" reported that there was a mixed "rooting" section at the Baylor game.

Three girls sat directly in back of the University band and two girls sat in the upper right hand corner of the former men's section.

ANY OTHER "MIXING" that took place in the center section was quickly put down one way or another by about 3,000 determined men.

The few women who tried to enter the area were quickly told by the men already in the section where to go—either to the right or left of the center rooting section.

Several times when the men stood up and started to boo the women, members of the rally committee asked the girls to leave.

THE POLICE, who had the section completely surrounded, stepped in only once. Early in the game officers entered the upper right hand part of the section and asked male rooters to quiet. Surprisingly, they did.

However, there was still more action in the rooting section than on the field—for Baylor defeated California 7-6.

VIVID TESTIMONY as to what can happen if you don't follow the rules of safety and courtesy on the road.

Did You Learn a Lesson From Hostetler's Death?

WE HOPE that the photograph on the front page of yesterday's Collegian about the accident that killed Donavon Hostetler shocked students and staff enough to make them think twice before driving recklessly.

Though the Collegian doesn't thrive on brutality and morbid accident scenes, we feel that the accident picture more than adequately expressed our feelings on reckless driving.

IN THE CASE at issue, Hostetler had been previously warned twice by the campus patrol for his reckless driving. Case Bonebrake, physical plant engineer, cited two occasions where Hostetler was stopped within the last two weeks. One was for running a stop sign and the other for speeding.

AS THE old saying goes, "the third time is the charm." This happened to be a rather deadly charm.

Don't get the idea that Hostetler was the only one on the campus who throws caution to the winds and tromps on the gas pedal. To you students and staff who do the same thing, I ask:

"Which corner are you going to miss?"

TO YOU DRIVERS who feel that you're too smart and too experienced a driver for an accident to happen to you, remember, every driver who has an accident probably felt the same way before he became a victim. Those who are still alive, drive carefully.

Hostetler needlessly lost his life. It is indeed fortunate that the innocent victim of the crash is recovering. Hostetler, according to his superiors on the staff, evidently had a bright future ahead of him. It took only one split second to cancel that future.

THERE IS a lesson to be learned here. And that is fate plays no favorites. Anyone who drives recklessly, whether burning around a corner, racing a friend, or just being foolish, is asking to be injured or killed.

A memorial fund is being established for Donavon Hostetler to serve as "a living memorial to this outstanding graduate and friend of Kansas State college."

LET US HOPE that this will also be a "living" reminder to drive safely.

Reckless driving is "dead" reckoning.—George Vohs.

Winterhalter's Sunset Tops Local Tune List

By NANCY MOLTER

"CANADIAN SUNSET" by Hugo Winterhalter has replaced "Hound Dog" in first place, according to a survey of best selling records in Manhattan record shops. "Don't Be Cruel" by Elvis Presley is still high in record sales with number two position.

The ten top tunes in Manhattan this week are:

1. "Canadian Sunset," Hugo Winterhalter and his Orchestra.
2. "Don't Be Cruel," Elvis Presley.
3. "Tonight You Belong to Me," Patience and Prudence.
4. "Honky Tonk," Bill Doggett.
5. "Soft Summer Breeze," Eddie Haywood
6. "Ka-Ding-Dong," The Diamonds.
7. "Allegheny Moon," Patti Page.
8. "Chains of Love," Pat Boone.
9. "Just Walking in the Rain," Johnnie Ray.
10. "Rip It Up," Fats Domino.

"BE-BOP-A-LULA" by Gene Vinson, "Happiness Street" by Georgia Gibbs, and "On the Street Where You Live" by Vic Damone are in top spots of the second top ten.

In the way of albums, Harry Belafonte's "Calypso" album is growing in popularity. The Chico Hamilton Quintet has a jazz album release that is selling good among the college crowd. All of the Lawrence Welk albums have been more in demand in the last week.

COLUMBIA RECORDS have a new album out with Percy Faith and his orchestra playing the tunes from the Broadway production, "My Fair Lady." Such popular hits as "I Could Have Danced All Night," "On the Street Where You Live," and "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face" are included in the album.

College students are also interested in the more serious music according to the survey. The Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra of New York has a new version of the "Emperor Concerto No. 5 in E Flat Major" that is selling good. Also "Lalo," a violin concerto in G minor played by the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra with Isaac Stern on the violin and RCA's new release of Beethoven's Violin Solo in D with Heifetz on the violin have proved themselves in popularity.

Pi Kappa Alpha's proposed $155,000 home.

Phi Delts Plan House Addition

Phi Delta Theta fraternity will begin construction of a three-story $80,000 addition to its house at 508 Sunset within a month or two, according to Reporter Larry Wise.

The new limestone wing will be added to the southeast side of the house and will accommodate about 30 more men, Wise said. It should be ready for use next fall, he said.

The new portion will include a dining room seating 125 persons, a kitchen, and two dormitories.

Each room will be occupied by three men. The rooms will have built-in desks and a closet for each person.

The Phi Delts completed a parking lot recently. It has parking stalls for 35 cars, and has its own entrance onto Sunset avenue.

PiKA's Hope To Finish New House Within Year

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity will let a contract for its new $155,000 home within the next two months, according to Al Kaine, PiKA president.

Work on the house is to start about the first of next year. Occupancy is scheduled for the fall semester of 1957.

The 75-man home will be done in modified colonial style with some modernistic touches. "Our feeling is that the colonial style will outlast the modern," Kaine said.

The house, to be located at 2021 College View Road, will face north. Twenty-five 3-man study rooms will be located in the building's two-level east wing.

A one-level west wing will house kitchen and dining room. Recreation room, library, and patio will be included in the house. Tennis courts and a parking lot also are planned.

"We're expecting to occupy the house by the first of September," Kaine said, "but it'll take good weather all winter to get us in."

ATO's Will Paint Church As Project for 'Help Week'

The Methodist church at Emmett, north of St. Marys, will receive a new coat of paint tomorrow. Painters will be the entire chapter of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. They are undertaking this as their fall-semester "help week" project, and will help the Emmett church celebrate its 50th anniversary.

Milling Students Are Increasing

A substantial increase in the number of students enrolled in the department of flour and feed milling industries has been reported by John A. Shellenberger, department head.

Twenty freshmen are enrolled in feed technology and 13 are enrolled in milling technology.

India Is Seen as Key To Suez Compromise

Cairo, (U.P.)—Semi-official Egyptian sources said today a Suez compromise lies almost exclusively in the hands of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

Nehru sent his roving ambassador, V. K. Krishna Menon, to Cairo last week for conferences with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Krishna Menon since has flown to London to confer with British officials.

wounded Vice-President John M. Chang in a bold assassination attempt against the bitter political opponent of President Syngman Rhee.

Police rescued the would-be assassin from an enraged crowd of about 1,000 persons who fell upon him with fists and sticks.

Church Tour Aided Refugees

Twenty-eight cents an hour is good pay by Austrian standards, according to Darrell Lowe, ME Jr. That was the wage Darrell was paid the past summer for helping construct an apartment building for Iron Curtain refugees in Linz, Austria.

The housing project for refugees is being sponsored by the Methodist church. Darrell was one of a group of 35 American college students who toured Europe and attended the Methodist work camp. Another K-Stater in the group was Sandy Arnold, HEN Soph.

Linz is on the Danube river about 25 miles from the Iron Curtain. Consequently, the city has many refugees who have nowhere to live. Many live in bomb shelters or other inadequate housing, Darrell said.

The American students spent seven weeks in Europe, half of the time at the work camp and half in touring the continent. While at the work camp, Darrell lived with an Austrian family whose five members occupied three rooms.

Darrell estimated that the trip cost about $1,200. He received a $500 scholarship from the Methodist church to pay part of the cost. The wages he received at the work camp were turned back to the church to help pay his expenses.

"The cost of the trip included 450 colored pictures that I took," Darrell said. "I've shown my pictures and given talks 11 times since I returned in August."

Monday Is Deadline For IFYE Applicants

Applications from persons interested in being International Farm Youth Exchange delegates are due in the state 4-H Club office, Umberger 211, by next Monday.

The IFYE program was started in 1948 when a group of rural youth decided that the Care packages were not enough to secure understanding between American people and people of foreign countries.

In order to secure this understanding, some rural youth delegates from America go to other countries to live with rural families, and are treated as a member of the family.

In return, the foreign countries send some of their youths to the United States.

Rules for selecting candidates are:

1. They must be between the ages of 20 and 30, and must have a high-school education.
2. They must have a physician's certificate of excellent physical and mental health.
3. They must not be married or have dependents at home who would cause separation problems.

4. Candidates who have a language facility will be given preferential consideration.

5. They must be alert and have a sincere and friendly attitude. They should realize that there will be hardships and privations involved.

6. They must have a background of farm life and work.

7. They should have a sincere interest in understanding other people rather than in enforcing their own point of view.

Cat Gridders After First Boulder Win

By ROGER MYERS
 Collegian Sports Editor

K-State will be out to beat the Colorado Golden Buffaloes for the first time on their home gridiron tomorrow when the Cats and the Buffs open their Big Seven season at Boulder.

In five meetings there, Colorado has won them all.

Both teams were beaten severely in their season openers. The Wildcats lost a 27-7 game to Oklahoma A&M, and the Buffaloes were shut-out by Oregon U., 35-0.

Wildcat coach Bus Mertes takes little heart from the beating Colorado took last week, marking it off to errors that aren't likely to crop up two weeks in a row.

"We'll be better against Colorado because we're facing a better ball club," Mertes said. "Every week you get better and the more you play the less mistakes you make."

Mertes made four changes in his first unit lineup on Monday as a result of the A&M loss. Tackle Bill Lindsey, quarterback Dick Corbin, right half Tony Addeo, and fullback Bill Carrington were moved up to the first string.

Gene Keady, third string quarterback, was moved to right half Wednesday to give the position more depth when Tony Addeo and Jerry Hayes suffered minor injuries.

Mertes said Keady would do double duty alternating between the two spots, but would be used mostly at quarterback because of his running and throwing abilities.

"Keady is more of a threat at quarter," Mertes said.

Team captain Ellis Rainsberger will make the trip to Colorado but his badly sprained ankle will slow him down considerably and cause him to see only limited action.

Coach Dal Ward's Buffaloes, the only team left in the Big Seven using the single wing formation, was expected to take to the air, according to pre-season predictions.

Colorado's only line strength is at end and they have two fine passers in Dick Hyson and Boyd Dowler, who were spectacular in spring training.

However, against Oregon, the Buffaloes attempted only nine passes and completed but two of them for 38 yards through the air.

"We feel Colorado will run mostly single wing," Mertes said, "and run it on the ground. This game could be the hardest of the season for both of us. Add the fact that we've never beaten Colorado at Boulder, and one can see it will be tough."

"Psychologically this is a big game for us," the Cat mentor said. "A win would make our job a lot easier. A lot will depend on this game as to how much success we'll have this season."

The game starts at 2 p.m., MST.

Probable starting lineups:

K-State	Colorado
Zadnik (190) LE	(206) Leahy
Lindsey (222) LT	(207) Stapp
Carlson (220) LG	(224) Woote
Sprinkle (199) C	(200) Uhlir

Colorado Buffs To Play Cats At Full Strength

Boulder, (U.P.)—The Colorado Buffaloes, going into their contest at full strength, will start a backfield of three sophomores and a junior against K-State Saturday.

The Buffs went through a light workout yesterday designed to keep them in top physical condition.

Coach Dallas Ward named sophomore Boyd Dowler to run the modified split-T and single wing offense. Junior Gene Worden will be at left half and sophomore Eddie Dove at right half. The offensive fullback will be Leroy Clark, a sophomore, and the defensive fullback will be Junior Mel Warner.

Ward hopes that against the Big Seven foe, the Buffs can do better than the 35-0 pasting absorbed from Oregon of the Pacific Coast conference last week.

IM Referees Needed

Any student wishing to officiate intramural football games may apply to Frank Myers, director of intramurals, in R 114 of Ahearn gym. The first games will be October 4.

Mostly Sophomores

Newcomers Lead Big 7 In Football Stats Report

A crop of new names popped into view in the first Big Seven conference football statistical report compiled following opening non-conference games.

For instance, the leading ground gainer is Homer Floyd, Kansas sophomore, with 96 yards in 15 carries. Dick Hyson of Colorado, last year's fourth ranking passer, leads now with 1 out of 6 for 36 yards. Bob Harden, Iowa State sophomore, is the top pass receiver, catching 2 for 42 yards. Punting honors are shared by John Holdefer of Iowa State and Homer Preston of Kansas, each with 1 kick for 53 yards. And Bill Hawkins, Nebraska junior, has 2 touchdowns to set the scoring pace.

This week will see a shifting as Oklahoma, defending conference and national champion, swings into action against North Carolina at Norman. It's Bud Wilkinson vs. Jim Tatum in a re-play of the Orange Bowl.

Other top rushers are Hawkins of Nebraska with 94 yards on 6 carries, Jimmy Hunter of Missouri with 17 for 75, and Larry Naviaux of Nebraska with 3 for 67.

For those throwing more than one pass Hunter has 3 of 11 for 29 yards.

Ag Week Begins Today; Ends With Barnwarmer

Minus the usual emphasis on horse tank horseplay, K-State's annual Ag Week opened today. It will close with the Barnwarmer ball Saturday, when the 1956-57 Ag School queen will be crowned.

As usual, this is "costume week" for School of Agriculture students, but the penalty for being out of costume—a dunking in the horse tank—will not be invoked with the frequency of past Ag Weeks.

"All students enrolled in the School of Agriculture will be required to wear blue jeans, plaid shirt, and red bananas", Ray Zimmerman, Ag Week manager, said. All non-conforming aggies will be dunked in the agge horse tank.

The traditional aggie horse tank will not hold its usual prominence this year, as it will only be used one or two days in an effort to make Ag Week more educational, and constructive.

The queen finalists were chosen last Thursday in Ag Seminar by popular vote of the Ag Students. They were judged on their personality, personal appearance, and character. They are; Lee Lutz, EEEd Fr.; Connie Morgain, HEc Fr.; Pat Vopat, HE Fr.; Carol Miller EEEd Sr.; Karen Hampton, Sp Soph.

The queen candidates will participate in the annual chore day October 5 at 7 p.m. in the faculty parking lot East of Waters hall. They will be asked to milk a cow, pitch hay, drive a tractor, and build a hog trough. A free watermelon feed will follow.

The climax of Ag Week will be Saturday, October 6 when the Ag School queen is elected and crowned at the barnwarmer. The barnwarmer will be held in the main ballroom of the Student Union and all college students are invited, Paul Faidley, Barnwarmer manager, said.

Tickets for the dance are on sale at the Student Union, Anderson hall, and Waters hall.

"The purposes of the Ag Week is for the aggies to get together and have fun," said Ray Zimmerman, Ag Week manager. "The purpose of the booths is to get the aggies acquainted with the different departments in the Ag School," Zimmerman added.

Off-Limits Rumors Definitely Untrue Dean Moore Says

Rumors that K-State women would be subject to new off-limits rules were killed yesterday by Dean of Women Helen Moore.

When asked if new rules would be passed to prevent women students from attending local entertainment places now on the approved list, Dean Moore said:

"I have heard no discussion on this question. The girls may continue to do as they have in the past, and the same rules apply."

New off-limits rules were considered in the Panhellenic meeting Monday night but were dropped after discussion.

McCain To Visit Four Ag Stations

President McCain and three other K-State administrators will visit four K-State agricultural experiment stations. A 3-day tour will begin today and will include stops at Hays, Colby, and Garden City.

Arthur D. Weber, dean of agriculture, Glenn H. Beck, director of the agricultural experiment station, and Daniel H. Beatty, KSC business manager, will accompany McCain on the trip.

Planning and co-ordinating a more effective agricultural research program for this state is the chief aim of the tour.

McCain will address the Hays Rotary club, then tour the Fort Hays branch station, largest dryland agricultural experiment state in the world today.

The group will tour the Colby station Tuesday. President McCain will speak to the Colby Rotary club at noon.

Manfax Backing

Student Council May Study Plans for Off-Campus Jobs

A motion to establish a committee to study the possibilities of a privately owned, off-campus industry for student employment will be placed before Student Council tonight.

The industry, if established, would permit students to work part-time for about $1.25 to $1.50 an hour. This is considerably more than the present average campus student wage of $.75 to $1.50 an hour.

Jerry Holliday, ArE Jr. who originated the proposal, said the majority of the industry's employees would be college students on a part-time basis.

Holliday's motion if passed by the Council, would establish a campus industry investigating committee composed of five members.

The committee would work closely with Manfax, a $100,000 Manhattan Industrial Development corporation, which has agreed to back the project if students approve, Holliday said.

Manfax would own the industry, however, a working agreement for the student employment would be set up, he said.

Holliday said that several Manhattan sites are available for such an industry. The product that would be produced hasn't been decided upon, but it would probably be limited to something that could be produced by unskilled labor because of a normally large student turnover.

Chet Peters, placement director, thinks it would be an ideal thing for the college students and the project would receive backing and help from his office.

The Council is also expected to take action on a committee recommendation that the Skyline and the Rainbow club be placed on a list of approved places for holding social events.

This same committee has also recommended that a $5 fine be assessed organizations who leave posters on the campus more than 48 hours after a scheduled event.

Recommendations for a leadership training program, tentatively set to be held February 2 in the Student Union, will be discussed by the Council.

Auction Tomorrow In Student Union

"Going, going, gone" will be the oft repeated cry of the auctioneer, Chuck Goetzinger, debate coach, at K-State's first coffee hour of the school year.

The auction will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday, in the Student Union main lounge, according to Sandra Mueller, chairman of the coffee hours committee. Free coffee and cookies will be served. Students and faculty are invited.

Articles to be sold to the highest bidder, will come from the Union's lost and found department. All unclaimed items are saleable.

Earrings (both pairs and singles), leotards, suede jackets, gloves, headscarves, and fountain pens are among the items. Books of all kinds including "Elements of Aerial Warfare," "Documents of American History," and "English Masterpieces — Modern Poetry" are going to the highest bidder. An ice pack is included in the inventory.

Some articles, such as a class roll book, may be bid on only by faculty members. Other special events will be for seniors only, men only, and women only.

Gals To Crown FMOC During Snowball Party

The only all-college girl-ask-boy affair of the year, the Snowball dance, will be held October 27, from 9 to 12 p.m. in the main ballroom of the Student Union. Matt Betton will provide the music.

Favorite Man on Campus will be crowned at the dance, after campaigns by organized men's houses to support their candidates. The campaigns will include pictures, posters, and skits presented at women's dorms and organized houses.

New Industry Could Bring Raise in Student Wages

TONIGHT the Student Council meets in a session that will include discussion of the possibilities of establishing an industry to help students who must work to pay a part of their college expenses.

Purpose of the industry as far as the students are concerned would be to provide a higher student wage. Few will argue that the current student wage scale on campus is low. If such an industry would raise wages, students should back it 100 per cent.

HOWEVER, more proof is needed to show that the industry would be beneficial to the student and school—not merely something that looks good on paper.

A college in the South has a similar plan that has proved successful, benefiting the college and students.

Southern Missionary college, 18 miles east of Chattanooga, Tenn., has developed its own businesses and industries which produce more than $2 million of student-manufactured goods each year. Student earnings from these projects approach $400,000 yearly.

THE COLLEGE has a furniture plant, broom factory, printing plant, laundry, dairy and creamery, cabinet shop, department store, automobile service center, and many smaller businesses.

This small college can afford to pay student help up to $2.50 an hour and still show a profit.

THE INDUSTRY under consideration by the Student Council would differ from the one cited above because it would be privately owned instead of under college control.

At any rate, the Collegian is 100 per cent behind the investigation of industry possibilities and will gladly support the campus industry investigating committee if the Student Council sees fit to establish it.

Full Agenda

The possibility of a student industry is just one of many items on the Student Council agenda tonight that is of interest to K-Staters.

THE COUNCIL will also discuss the possibility of recommending to the Activities Board that the Sky Line and the Rainbow clubs be placed on the list of approved places for holiday social events. A proposal for senior class elections is another matter on this evening's Council agenda.

President McCain pointed out earlier in an assembly speech that every student ought to exploit the opportunities afforded him to learn more about his school.

Ag Week Begins

Today is the beginning of Ag week on the campus. The aggies have proclaimed they are going to have a constructive change in the traditional festivities.

THE HORSE TANK is supposed to do a fade-out in favor of educational display booths in Waters hall after two days. The idea is to stress the School of Agriculture instead of the horse tank.

Heretofore, the Ag week festivities have produced a mess of nonsense. It will be truly wonderful if the aggies mean what they say this year and do produce the much-needed change they have been talking about.

We'll know in a couple of days.

Busy Speech Tour Set for Stevenson

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—Adlai E. Stevenson today announced a four-day campaign trip starting October 9 into Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the Democrat presidential candidate's new trip came shortly after President Eisenhower disclosed he was stepping up his campaign schedule. The President also has added a trip to the Northwest to his itinerary this month, with visits to two states where Stevenson will appear—Washington and Oregon.

Today, Stevenson worked in Washington, conferring with top Democrat strategists, including his campaign manager, James A. Finnegan.

STEVENSON met with his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, late yesterday to compare notes on their recent campaign experiences. Kefauver, who was scheduled to leave today on a vote-bidding trip through the Southwest, said afterwards, "Things are looking fine; we're making good progress everywhere."

Earlier, Kefauver and Stevenson conferred with Roger Stevens, finance chairman of the Stevenson-Kefauver committee. While results of this meeting were not divulged, the Democrat presidential nominee received an optimistic report that voluntary contributions to his campaign are pouring in at more than 20 times the rate of his unsuccessful 1952 race.

STEVENSON and Kefauver had not had a chance to review their campaign strategy for about two weeks. Stevenson's press secretary, Clayton Fritchey, said in advance that they would "compare a few notes."

Fritchey also announced that Stevenson has named Mrs. Eugenie Anderson of Red Wing, Minn., as a member of his campaign advisory staff. She was the first U.S. woman ambassador. She was named to represent this country in Denmark in 1949 by former president Truman.

'Ike' Uses Strong Language, Says Demos Let Inflation Run

By UNITED PRESS

Cleveland—President Eisenhower, using the harshest words of his campaign, today accused the Democrats of condoning "paycheck robbery" by not doing enough to halt inflation.

HE ALSO accused them of filling the voters' heads with "wicked nonsense" about his administration and with "fancied ills" about the state of the nation.

And he said the last time they were in power "special favoritism, cronyism and laxity" reigned in Washington.

MR. EISENHOWER'S strong blasts at the opposition party were contained in a campaign address prepared for delivery today in Cleveland's broad public square. The speech marked the first time the chief executive has, in political parlance, fully "opened up" on the Democrats in this campaign.

He will follow it up with a second address tonight—a nationwide radio and television talk to be delivered at 9:30 from the University of Kentucky coliseum in Lexington. It will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

THE BARBS used in today's address, coupled with a White House announcement yesterday that more speeches are being added to the President's itinerary, plainly showed Mr. Eisenhower is toughening up his campaign. The new speeches, the White House said, will be part of a campaign swing into Minnesota, Washington and Oregon October 17-19.

In his attack today on the Democrats' handling of the inflation problem, Mr. Eisenhower said:

"THE MEN of the opposition know perfectly well that one of the main reasons they were thrown out of office four years ago was their tolerance of the thievery of inflation."

He said inflation cut the value of the average American's paycheck by one-third in a seven-year period, "yet the opposition did nothing to stop this economic thievery and they know it."

"The record shows we—not they (Democrats)—have made the most successful fight to stop inflation's robbery of every paycheck," he said.

IN THIS industrial area where there are thousands of union members, Mr. Eisenhower also paid particular attention to labor. He denounced as "more than political bunk" and "willful nonsense" what he called the Democratic idea that Democrats "alone truly care for the working men and women of America and that the Republican party is really a vague kind of conspiracy by big business to destroy organized labor and to bring hunger and torment to every worker in America."

This, the President said, is "wicked nonsense." To the contrary, he said, under the Republican administration, organized labor had grown in quantity and quality. He said the workers of America since early 1953 have enjoyed the greatest rise in "real wages" in 30 years.

FURTHERMORE, he said, the nation's economic health has been good.

"The cost of living has been remarkably stabilized," he said, with only about a 2½ per cent increase in 3½ years. But during the previous administration, he said, "the cost of living increase was 20 times as great."

"Today, we have a stable dollar," the President added, giving much of the credit to Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, a native of Cleveland who accompanied Mr. Eisenhower from Washington.

MR. EISENHOWER at the outset of his prepared remarks chided the Democrats—"some of them candidates for high office"—for spreading what he called a doctrine of alarm and fright concerning the future of the country.

Hostetler Ought To Be Remembered for Talent

Opinions expressed in letters are those of the writers and do not necessarily reflect the policy of the Collegian. The Editor reserves the right to edit the letters to conform to public law and to the standards of decency and good taste upheld by most newspapers, and to fit space limitations. No letter may exceed 250 words. Unsigned letter will not be published.

Dear Editor,

Don Hostetler is physically dead. In the minds of his friends, this unassuming young man lives through memories of his talents which are evident in his contributions to the music, art and architecture of Kansas State college. This young artist of extremely sensitive character lived in a world of beautiful seriousness. To know him was to realize this fact. For this, his friends loved him, and for this, we would have him remembered. We would not have his name remembered as the watchword of a safety slogan.

TO PRINT such a picture as appeared in the September 27 issue of the Collegian and to write the type of editorial which was found in the following issue denote not only journalism for sensation's sake alone, but what is worse, an ignorance of human dignity. We do not oppose safe driving. We do abhor the thought of a personality whose memory we hold dear being used as the subject for a cold, unfeeling editorial on safety.

May we remember and honor Don in a manner suitable to the occasion of his death. Let us hope that this death brings more to mind than simply cryptic safety reminders.

Margery and John Ricklefs, LDs Sr.

Brooklyn Wins Pennant; Vows To Cut Yank Jinx

New York, (U.P.)—The Brooklyn Dodgers who did it the hard way all season, vowed today to smash the National League's two longest world series jinxes by making it two in a row over the New York Yankees after winning the National League pennant yesterday by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-6.

Weary but determined after their spine-tingling, final-day triumph in the most nerve-wracking pennant races of all time, the battling Brooks found themselves in a familiar position. The odds-makers are saying they can't do it and have installed the Yankees as 7-5 "man-to-man" choices to win their sixth world championship in seven tries under Casey Stengel.

The odds-makers also listed the Yankees at 6-5 choices to win the opening game at Ebbets field Wednesday on the assumption that 19-game winner Whitey Ford will pitch for them against Sal Maglie, the Dodgers' 39-year-old no-hit comeback veteran.

But the Dodgers grew accustomed to laughing at the odds during their season-long, uphill battle with the Milwaukee Braves. They're certain they can break the senior circuit's long-standing jinxes. For, not since 1907-08-09 has the national league won three straight world series and not since 1921-22 have the Yankees dropped two straight classics.

Brooklyn waited a long time to find a series winning formula, doing it last year when they beat the Yankees in seven games to win their first series in eight tries.

It will mark the seventh series between the two clubs, their fourth in the last five years. The first two games are scheduled for little Ebbets field with its seating capacity of only 32,000 on Wednesday and Thursday with the next three games at the 68,000 seat Yankee stadium on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. If the sixth and seventh games in the best four out of seven series are necessary they will be played in Ebbets field on the following Monday and Tuesday.

Brooklyn manager Walt Alston took the pennant triumph calmly in contrast to a riotous club house celebration by his players. He said he hadn't "given any thought to world series pitching plans."

"Maglie would be the guy, but I don't know if he can work with three day rest," Alston added. "I want a guy who can keep the ball low in this park."

Stengel, when advised of those National League jinxes, said "I don't believe in 'em."

"I wouldn't be starting this here Ford at Brooklyn if I did," he grinned.

The Dodgers usually murder southpaw pitching in their own park, and Ford when asked whether he ever had pitched in Ebbets field, replied:

"Yes, but not for long."

Maglie worked Saturday, the first of the three straight victories the Dodgers scored over the pirates to take the pennant.

Bernie Schulz Wins Collegian Grid Contest

Bernard Schulz, GA Soph, is this week's Pigskin Prognostications winner. Schulz was named after a close race with Larry Odgers, DM Jr.

Forty-eight entrants vied for top honors in the Collegian's weekly football prediction contest. Of that total, 35 forecast a Colorado victory, while 13 liked K-State chances in the game.

Schulz and Odgers both pegged the core at 34-7, Colorado, guessing right on the CU total. The final score was 34-0.

According to the Collegian's judging system, Schulz rated closer to the final outcome on statistics than did Odgers.

The score is the first consideration, and in the event of a tie between two or more entries, one is selected that is nearest correct on statistics.

This week's total of 48 contestants tops last week's 30 contest entrants.

Send your Sticklers, with your name, address, college, and class, to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Don't do drawings! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we use in our advertising—and for hundreds that never see print. # Mertes To Work on Morale After 34-0 Loss to Colorado Coach Bus Mertes said he would concentrate on bolstering team morale after his Wildcats suffered a crushing 34-0 defeat at Boulder Saturday.

It was K-State's sixth straight loss to the Buffs on the Colorado gridiron and the first Big Seven game of the season for both teams.

In the fourth quarter, first string center Chuck Sprinkle suffered a neck injury which left "his whole body numb," according to Mertes.

He was taken to a hospital in Boulder, released last night, and will enter a hospital when he reaches Manhattan today, according to head trainer Porky Morgan.

"Sprinkle's right arm and his neck were numbed, but I wouldn't venture a guess as to the extent of his injuries until I get the X-rays from Boulder," Morgan said.

Kenny Nesmith was also injured and had to be carried off the field. He was only shaken up though and will be able to practice today.

"We must work toward eliminating some of the many mistakes we made against Colorado," Mertes said. K-State compiled a long list of fumbles and stray passes.

The Cats fumbled eight times and lost two of them. Against Oklahoma A&M they didn't fumble once.

The Buffaloes scored their first touchdown by intercepting a misguided Wildcat pass, and that first TD hurt the most, Mertes said.

"That punt' Bob Salerno blocked in the fourth quarter marked the first time that's happened to us in two seasons."

The first quarter was well-played and close with the ball trading hands five times. K-State got one first down to a pair for Colorado.

Colorado got its first touchdown with 9:02 left in the second quarter. Buff quarterback John Bayuk intercepted Dick Corbin's pass then lateraled to Jerry Leahy who carried the ball to the K-State 22.

Four plays and 14 yards later, left halfback Gene Worden took a pitchout and swept left end for 8 yards and the touchdown. Ellwin Indorf converted and Colorado went out in front 7-0.

Colorado—outrushed K-State 237 yards to 136 yards despite the fact that the Wildcats got in two more plays than the Buffs.

K-State attempted 12 passes and completed 2 for a total of 32 yards through the air. Colorado completed 4 of 9 attempts for 56 yards.

The roof caved in on the Cats in the third quarter as Colorado scored 20 points.

Colorado kicked the ball into the end zone to open the third quarter and the ball was brought out to the 20. Cat quarterback Dick Corbin threw two pitchouts wide and K-State was forced to kick.

The Buffaloes took the ball on the K-State 41 and with 10:09 left in the quarter, Eddie Dove reversed and went over left tackle for the touchdown. Indorf again converted and the score was 14-0.

Two minutes and five seconds later Howard Cook intercepted a K-State pass. After being penalized 5 yards for illegal motion, Cook shot a 20-yard pass to Boyd Dowler who rambled 37 yards for the touchdown, and put Colorado ahead 20-0.

K-State's only coring chance died when Keith Wilson fumbled as he spun toward a first down which would put the Wildcats on the Colorado 25-yard line.

Orange Bowl Push Comes This Week

By Lyle Schwilling
United Press Sports Writer

(U.P.)—The first big drive towards the Orange bowl comes this week in the Big Seven.

On the basis of the first two weeks' results, Iowa State and Kansas probably should be favored this weekend. However, results so far give little insight in relative conference strength.

The Buffaloes slaughtered K-State, 34-0, to take an early lead in the Big Seven and establish themselves as a contender for the Orange bowl. Kansas tied College of Pacific 27-27 and thus gave notice it wasn't to be counted out of the hopes for a Miami trip yet. Pre-season favorite Missouri lost its second straight, 16-7 to Purdue.

Oklahoma, as expected, came within one game of establishing a new national record of consecutive games won by downing North Carolina, 36-0. Coach Vince De Francesca's Iowa State Cyclones showed good strength against a Big Ten team, losing to Northwestern, 14-13, and a stronger Western conference club, Ohio State, gave Pete Elliott, his first loss at Nebraska, 34-7.

Purple To Be Trump Color In Paris Autumn Fashions

By NANCY MOLTER

PARIS designers say that a sure way to look "a la mode" this autumn is to wear something in deep, rich purple. Purple will be used as the trump color in the new Parisian collections.

Paris designers suggest a purple sweater or cardigan worn with a grey or purple striped plaid skirt. Fashionable and new looking is purple tweed. One of Lanvin-Castillo's princess style dresses this year is featured in purple tweed with a matching waist-long jacket and hood.

DRAPED DRESSES which set the style in 1957 are featured in dark violet chiffon among other colors. A draped white chiffon blouse worn with a full skirt of purple moire and belted in lemon colored silk is being shown by Lanvin-Castillo for evening wear.

In Manhattan, women's clothing stores are not carrying much in purple. Red seems to be selling more than any other color.

ONE MERCHANT explained that purple was not shown at the market but this might be due to the fact that the United States is usually two years behind Paris fashions. Another buyer stated that this was still early in the season and that purple might be featured later in holiday attire.

British RAF 'Atomic Bomber' Crashes at London Airport

Compiled from United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

London, Oct. 1, (U.P.)—A Royal air force delta-wing jet bomber crashed and exploded at London airport today, killing the chief of the RAF bomber command and four crewmen.

Air marshal Sir Harry Broadhurst, chief of the RAF bomber command, had flown to Australia with the plane, one of Britain's newest "atomic bombers." He acted as co-pilot on part of the trip.

Eye-witnesses said the plane was returning to rain-drenched London airport from the training flight to Australia and Singapore when it crashed and "dissolved in flames" in the center of the main runway.

Three Say No to West

London, Oct. 1, (U.P.)—Japan, Pakistan, and Ethiopia refused today to join the Suez canal users association being formed here in hopes of forcing Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to negotiate an end to the Suez crisis.

But they kept hopes of eventual Western unity alive by announcing their delegates would sit in on the remainder of the third London Suez conference.

Eighteen nations which backed the original Dulles plan for placing the canal under international operation met here today to try to complete the association before the United Nations Security Council can act later this week.

They were faced not only with a speed-up because of early UN action but the problem of maintaining unity of purpose.

Russian TV To Finland

Helsinki, Finland, Oct. 1, (U.P.)—The Soviet Union started regular television transmissions to Finland today.

It was an apparent effort to capture the Finnish TV audience before this country can get its own new American-made station into regular service.

The broadcast will be transmitted from the Soviet TV station at Tallin, 45 miles from Helsinki.

Russian-made TV sets have been placed on sale here to make reception possible. To make them more of a bargain they also include Western channels.

Stuck Dorm Door Brings Male Help To Rescue Girls

Desperate pleas for help unstilled the 7 a.m. solitudes of Southeast hall today when Jo Ann "Pinky" Collins, HE Fr, and Adrienne Rieck, BA Fr, discovered they were locked in their second story bedroom.

One houseboy and three men rushed to the scene only to find that the door was stuck from both directions. Working with tools passed under the door, the girls themselves could not alleviate the situation. It took one very long ladder for entry and two men pushing and pulling to remove the door two hours later.

Grief stricken at first about missing her 8 a.m. written composition class, Adrienne later remarked that "there is more than one way to cut a class."

Peace Pact Change

Automatic Dismissal Revision Approved by SC Last Night

Automatic dismissal from school will be recommended for any student caught in an act of vandalism during or before the KU-K-State games if both schools agree to a revision of the Peace Pact which was approved by Student Council last night.

The revision also proposes a recommendation that the guilty student would not be readmitted to any college or university.

The motion was presented by Bill Patton. The Peace-Pact committee had consulted with President McCain and a lawyer before making the proposed revision.

Two permanent SGA committees and part of a third were appointed last night.

Named to the student activities board were Midge Mulkey, BA Soph; Bob Blackwelder, AgE Fr; Pat McDermott, Bus Ad Jr; Lance Gilmore, TJ Fr; Joyce Graham, BA Jr; Peggy Daniels, Psy Soph; and Dwight Bennett, Ar 02.

Appointed to the campus development committee were Gil Helling, Ar 03; and Jim Mariner, Zoo Soph.

The Council appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of adding such places as the Rainbow and Skyline clubs to the "approved places" list. Student body President Pat Wilkerson said the action would probably require a Constitutional amendment, and the committee will draw up such an amendment if it proves necessary.

Jerry Holliday reported that the Council was given temporary College approval to remodel the SGA office in Anderson. "If the campus development committee gives us final approval, we will be able to carry out the remodeling project," Holliday said.

Plans for the annual SGA Assembly were changed by the Council. The group adopted a proposal by Neil Scott, to build the assembly around a mock Student Council meeting.

Holliday announced the appointment of Ed Noyce, Mth Sr, as publicity chairman for the artist series, and member of the steering committee for the series. The Council approved a plan for an artist series promotion committee, which would have representatives from all major campus living groups.

The Council approved a motion by Gilmore Dahl to determine the feasibility of putting up a KSC flag on campus. "The Council has such a flag in its possession," Dahl said, "and it seems rather illogical not to have it in use."

Holliday, originator of an idea to encourage off-campus industrial development which would employ largely students, was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate this proposal. The group will study plans to lure such an industry to Manhattan.

The Council approved a motion by Neil Scott that senior class elections be October 8. A president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer will be elected.

The Council passed a motion by Karen Milner which would penalize organizations $5 for not taking down posted material by deadline dates.

Plans to sponsor a leadership training program in February were approved by the Council. "Leaders from all campus organizations would be invited to the program," Dick Peterson said.

Candidate

CAROL HOLMQUIST, EEd Jr, is Alpha Delta Pi's choice for American Royal queen. Her picture was not included with pictures of the other candidates yesterday.

Southern Segregation To Be Assembly Topic

Hodding Carter, called the "South's fighting editor" by the Saturday Evening Post, will discuss southern segregation at tomorrow's all-College assembly at 9:30 a.m.

Carter has won every major prize offered in the newspaper field, including a Nieman Fellowship and a Pulitzer prize for his editorials on racial and religious tolerance.

The current Southern scene will be covered by Carter in his talk. He will discuss topics including the States' Rights movement, changing patterns in race relations, and the impact of Southern political leaders.

Carter is editor of the Delta Democrat-Times, Greenville, Miss. Since his acquisition of the Democrat-Times he has become editor of two other Southern papers.

The "South's fighting editor" has written short stories, articles, and verse which have been in national magazines including the Saturday Evening Post, Reader's Digest, Esquire, and Newsweek.

He is a member of the Pulitzer Advisory board and the board of the National Citizens Commission for Public Schools and several other national education organizations.

At 6:30 this evening, Carter will speak at a faculty dinner in the Student Union west ballroom.

Eight a.m. classes tomorrow will close at 8:35; 9 o'clock classes will run from 8:45 to 9:20. The assembly will convene at 9:30 and terminate at 10:20. Ten a.m. classes will begin at 10:30 and end at 11:05; 11 o'clock classes will run from 11:15 to 11:50.

THE FIRST SALE of Artist Series season tickets was made to Charlotte Lybarger, DIM Sr. Busy behind the counter at the Union is Edwin Noyce, SED Sr, publicity chairman for the series.

Orpheum Changes Rejected by IFC

The Interfraternity council last night defeated the proposed Y-Orpheum changes by a vote of 18-6.

Meanwhile the Panhellenic council voted 6-2 in favor of the changes.

Since a three-fourths vote of all Greek houses was required, the proposed changes will not go into effect.

All Panhellenic members voted in favor of try-outs. Two members objected to combined fraternity-sorority entries because they would take originality from the skits and also interfere with practice times.

Members of IFC objected to combining the houses because of restrictions of practice time. Some objected to stage try-outs because they would be too much work without an assurance of the skits being accepted.

"What's wrong with Y-Orpheum now?" was another question asked by IFC members. It was pointed out that the Y-Orpheum draws a crowd each year just as it is.

IFC also voted to change the Favorite-Man-on-the-Campus to an all-girl vote instead of restricting voting to those girls who buy tickets.

Will the Student Council Kill Students' Birthright?

Wise and Otherwise

The Student Council is proposing to rob future K-Staters of their most precious birthright.

The Council is studying the possibilities of off-campus industrial work that would pay K-Staters $1.25 to $2.50 an hour.

What of the student's right to scrimp his way through college at starvation wages? What will happen to the poor boy who now pulls himself up by his Ivy-League strap to become head of a great corporation?

What of those who live in the attics of the cow barns, living on bread crusts and remnants from the Dairy Bar in Waters Hall? Did the Council ever think of them? Did they think of the great success stories that would be ruined?

Why should any student be denied the glory of starving his way through college? Why, it's a right that was brought over from the Old Country long before the Constitution arrived.

These Council do-gooders, with one stroke of their capitalistic pens, would obliterate a fine old tradition that is bigger than all of us. A dollar and 50 cents an hour—it's downright sacrelegious.

Sign of the times—The Ag Barnwarmer will be in the Student Union's main ballroom this year.

That's a far cry from the barnwarming after which it was named. But the change fits right in with the overall sophistication of aggies these days. Even the horsing around at the horsetank is gone.

And an air of sadness hangs over the north end of the campus—scene of many a vet-aggie battle. Gone are the days when overzealous aggies "straightened out" overzealous journalists.

So the water sprinklers are the only dangerous things left in Aggeland, and

New Column To Start In Collegian Next Week

The Collegian will inaugurate next week a column called "Tip of the Hat."

Its success will depend on your interest in it. We want you—the reader—to write us and tell us of someone whom you think is deserving of recognition. Include in your letter why you think the person you are nominating is worthy of mention in this column.

Since this paper is a publication for the students of K-State, we feel the deeds honored in this column should be ones that are of benefit to the College. We will not limit recognition to students. If you feel that a faculty member has done something to benefit K-State, drop us a line telling us about it. Student and faculty have equal chances of obtaining recognition.

The person to be honored each week will be chosen at a meeting of George Vohs, editor, and Don Marker and Jane Moore, assistant editors.

This column—as we said—depends on the interest you take in it. Don't hesitate to let us know of someone worthy of recognition.—Don Marker.

World is Ready to Cease H-Bomb Tests—Stevenson

BY UNITED PRESS

Enroute with Stevenson, Oct. 2.—Adlai E. Stevenson said today he believes the world's major powers are ready to halt H-bomb tests "if there is leadership in this direction."

Setting off on a campaign trip through New Jersey, the democratic presidential candidate renewed his appeal for action by this country to bring about a "moratorium" on tests of nuclear weapons.

"The renunciation of H-bomb tests is a step which I think the great powers are now willing to take—if there is leadership in this direction," Stevenson said.

"It is a step that can be safely taken, for no one can explode a hydrogen bomb in secret and each would know whether the others were acting in good faith. It would be a step along a new path toward peace."

"I regret, he said, that the Eisenhower administration "has not pressed forward along this path to peace as so many have urged—Catholic and protestant religious leaders, distinguished scientists, prominent educators, yes, and serious politicians.

"I regret, also, that it seems to have ignored what happens to be an increasing desire to close the gap between east and west on such subjects as mutual inspection and limitation of armed forces.

"Surely we should carefully explore these proposals to see whether they were made in good faith and whether they will meet our security requirements.

"This administration has even withdrawn its own proposals when others indicated a willingness to accept these proposals."

Stevenson's remarks on disarmament were prepared for delivery at Fairleigh Dickinson university at Teaneck, during a motorcade through New Jersey.

Stevenson flew from Washington to Newark, N. J., and then entered an auto for a drive through Morristown, Patterson, Clifton, Passaic, Hackensack, Teaneck, Newark and Jersey City.

He planned a late afternoon rally at Newark and an evening meeting in Jersey City. Then he will board a train for his first 1956 whistlestop tour, a swing through Pennsylvania tomorrow.

Stevenson issued a call for a halt to nuclear tests in previous speeches at Los Angeles a month ago and again at Minneapolis last Saturday night. President Eisenhower has termed the move a "theatrical national gesture."

Quotes from the News

By UNITED PRESS

New York—New York Yankees Manager Casey Stengel whose team squares off against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the world series tomorrow:

"We sure wasted a lot of time scouting those there Milwaukee Braves."

Tucson—Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to the court of St. James and prominent Arizona Democrat, announcing his support of President Eisenhower:

"He has elevated the presidency above the clamor of petty partisan politics. He has brought to American politics a rare and wholesome integrity and intellectual honesty combined with an unusual personal modesty."

By Walt Kelly

they ARE dangerous. Not only that—they are downright sneaky. As if it weren't bad enough when the sprinklers slow down to wait for you, the darned things have been known to stop, come back and splash you a second time.

The worst hazard of all is a group of three sprinklers, all zeroed in on the same section of sidewalk. Not only do they all blast the sidewalk, they are synchronized so that each soaks it at a different time—making it impossible to walk down that sidewalk without being squirted.

Most ingenious.

Back to Ag Week. Many of we barbarians, who have only a thin shell of sophistication, secretly wish that the shenanigans of past years were back—up to a certain point (the point where we, ourselves, are dunked, to be specific). So we many mourn that the horsetank is dead.

Speaking of dead things, have you walked through the basement of Fairchild hall recently?

Panbellenic Council Rejects Blind Dates on O.U. Campus

By Mary Beckmeyer

THE Panbellenic council at O.U. has put the stopper on blind dates between fraternities and sororities on the Oklahoma campus. Last week end the council canceled all blind dates.

Two plans are now being kicked around on the campus to take the place of the blind date program. One is to completely abolish blind dates and have instead an all fraternity-sorority pledge class mixer.

THE OTHER PROPOSAL suggested by the counselor of women, reminds us of a lottery. The counselor would have each fraternity draw eight names of sorority women and have regular blind dates with them.

Doesn't seem quite fair to put eight girls up against a whole fraternity, does it? Ah, well, maybe the young lasses won't mind it a bit.

WE CAN'T LET a small news item last week pass without comment.

It came out of Lafayette, Indiana, which boasts of Purdue university.

The housekeeper of a sorority opened up the house for the new semester and was greeted by a 1,200 pound steer. Police said the steer was stolen from the university livestock barns.

THEN LAST TUESDAY, four engineering students were suspended from old P.U. for taking part in the steernaping. Two former students also admitted participating in the affair.

According to the P.U. publicity bureau, the boys were out serenading around campus . . . and one thing led to another.

The accused face a charge of creating a nuisance. Damage to the walls and carpet of the recently redecorated house was estimated at $2,000.

IT MAKES one wonder just who created the nuisance—the steer or the abductors?

The Daily Trojan, student newspaper at Southern California, has finally found an answer to the eternal parking problem—bicycles. The solution, it says, is both "practical and vital" and the Trojan even sponsored a successful Bicycle week when cars were taboo on campus.

BICYCLES are popular on other campuses also. The latest fad is racing from campus to campus. In the East, Yale and Vassar continue the constant battle between the sexes on wheels each spring in a 77-mile bike relay.

Another college has started offering a new course—"cycle-ology," devoted to bikes. This sounds like an excellent required course for freshmen. It would also solve the parking problem if all freshmen would be required to take such a course and ride bicycles to class. Besides, you can have only two flat tires at a time on a bicycle.

Another Week, Another Lineup Picked by Bus

K-State's first unit lineup went through its usual after-Saturday evolution yesterday with four new faces appearing on the first string.

Keith Wilson and Ralph Pfeiffer replaced Dick Corbin and Bill Carington respectively at the quarterback and fullback positions on the Cats first string. Kerry Clifford and Jack Keelan were the line changes as they replaced Bill Lindsey and Chuck Sprinkle at tackle and center.

Sprinkle remained in Student Health Monday as a result of injuries suffered in the Colorado game Saturday. He suffered a severe shoulder bruise and is in the hospital for observation. The Cat center will be sidelined indefinitely and is almost a sure bet to miss the game this Saturday at Norman.

One other injury resulting from Saturday's loss to Colorado, was tackle Bill Lindsey who bruised his arm. Lindsey worked during the Monday practice session without pads.

Commenting on Saturday's game, coach Bus Mertes said, "We never quit. Overall we looked very bad but our play during the first half was all right. The bright side was that we never quit."

The Cats worked the full two-hour practice session against Oklahoma formations as the preparations jumped into full swing. Coach Sol Kampf, who saw the Sooners swamp North Carolina Saturday, called the Oklahomans

"as great a football team as I have ever seen." Oklahoma topped North Carolina 36-0 in the season opener for the defending Big Seven and National champions.

The Sooners can set a new national winning record Saturday if they defeat K-State. The victory last Saturday was the 31st for the Sooners.

Crowd Chases Negroes From College Classes

Compiled From the Wires of the United Press by Lance Gilmore

Beaumont, Tex., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Two Negro students, who were chased last night from the campus of Lamar State College of Technology, appealed to police today for protection.

The students, whose identities were kept secret, were crossing the campus to enter night classes. A crowd of some 150 white men and women were gathered in front of the college shouting threats to pull some five or six Negroes in night classes from the school by force.

Chief of detectives Jim Stafford said he saw "a few" white men chasing the two Negroes across the campus. Stafford ordered the students into a police car and had them driven home.

Police also entered the school and told the five or six Negroes still in classes that "you had better go home for your own safety." The students left the college building by a back door.

Late last night, a delegation of six Negroes, headed by attorney T. R. Johns called on mayor Jimmy Cokimos and members of the city council asking for protection for the students.

A total of 26 Negroes have enrolled in the college since it opened for the fall term last Wednesday. Federal Judge Lamar Cecil issued an order a month ago opening the school to Negroes for the first time.

Dips Into Reserves

Board Adds $2,830 To Funds Given to KS Organizations

The apportionment board added $2,829.65 Tuesday afternoon to the funds tentatively allocated last spring in an effort to satisfy departmental and organizational budgets. To meet the additional needs, $520.74 was allotted from the board's $10,000 reserve fund. These apportion-ments are subject to the approval of President McCain.

Requests for additional funds were heard by the board from the K-State Players, the debate club, Chancery club, Royal Purple, athletics department, radio and television department, the rifle team, and the Associated Women Students.

The K-State Players received $250, one-half of their request for $500. They were allotted $4,000 last spring.

The debate club received $254 to cover mock political convention expense of last April. The radio and television department was granted $125 of their request for $550.

The Royal Purple was the recipient of a $1,500 addition over the tentative $36,000 allotment from last spring, and the Collegian received $23,595. This was a 10 per cent increase for both publications because of the approximate 10 per cent enrollment increase.

The rifle team, which received $530 last year, was allocated $500 for operational expense.

The AWS was granted $200 in addition to the $150 tentatively apportioned them in the spring.

The judging teams received a total of $4,950. Grants for individual teams were: livestock, $1,800; meats, $700; dairy, $1,275; poultry, $275; crops, $300; and wool, $600.

The student governing association received $8,272. The athletics department was granted $43,000, an increase of $1,000 from last year's apportionment. However, it was $17,000 less than requested.

The band department received $3,200; chorus, $3,837; band trip, $1,357.32; engineers' open house, $2,515; hospitality days, $1,100; and L&L Week, $561. The Political Science club was granted $121.28 to cover last year's mock political convention costs.

WAITING FOR FUNDS can be a drawn out affair, as these representatives of different departments found out yesterday when they applied for funds from the Apportionment board.

Nation's Top Challenge Is Race Tension—Carter

Racial tension is the top social, economic, and spiritual challenge in the nation today, according to Hodding Carter, smalltown Mississippi editor.

"The greatest factor for reducing these tensions is the continual redistribution of the Negro over the nation on a voluntary basis," he said, at assembly this morning.

Nine million of the nation's 16 million Negroes are concentrated in the South, Carter said. Since the end of the Civil War and, more recently, the mechanization of the South, the Negro population has begun to spread from the South to other parts of the nation.

"These migrants have concentrated in industrial areas, however, making the dispersal of the Negro, no longer a Southern problem, but a national problem," he said.

Carter traces the Southern problem back to Civil War and reconstruction days.

There has been a change, a spiritual miracle, since World War I.

"I can say that what happened in the South after the war was nothing but an endless change for the good—culturally, in race relations, spiritually, and socially."

"The Negro was being admitted to full suffrage in the South. Racial relationship changes did not necessarily come willingly.

Goetzinger Fast-Talks $160 Worth of SU Auction Sales

Everything but a bottle of mouthwash was going . . . going . . . gone, at the auction yesterday sponsored by the Student Union Coffee Hours committee.

The proceeds, amounting to a little over $160 will be turned over to the Korean fund, according to Sandra Mueller, chairman.

"Chuckles" Goetzinger, auctioneer, fast-talked sales of 4 pair of gloves for 80 cents, a "genuine Australian walrus skin packet" (found to be plastic) for $7.50, and an Eversharp pen and pencil set for $2, to a continuous crowd of about 150.

Fifteen more auctions are planned, two a month, with such entertainment as musical talent, discussions, and free coffee for all.

"SOLD TO THE MAN" in the back row," yells Ralph Waite, AH Sr, as he auctions off odds and ends yesterday in the Union.

K-State's American Royal Candidate Is Selected

Joyce Brower will be K-State's candidate for American Royal Queen. Joyce, RA Soph, Chi Omega, won over 11 other candidates last evening in the Union little theater.

The candidates were judged on beauty, poise, and culture, while modeling bathing suits, party dresses, and formals.

The runner-up was Carole Holmquist, EEd Soph, Alpha Delta Pi.

Upon learning she had been chosen as the finalist, Joyce Brower said, "I'm very surprised to have been picked from among all those very lovely girls, and it is quite a pleasant surprise."

The big test will come October 17, when Miss Brower will travel to the American Royal in Kansas City, where she will be interviewed by contest judges.

The other candidates were: Barbara Siemers, EEd Sr, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Carol Kellogg, HT Soph, Clovia; Edna Bourquin, EEd Jr, Kappa Delta; Mary Helen Eaton, EEd Soph, Van Zile Hall; Pat Smith, PEW Soph, Delta Delta Delta; Frances Langshaw, EEd Jr, Alpha Xi Delta.

Carole Holmquist, Soph, Alpha Delta Pi; Meredith Brink, MGS Jr, Alpha Chi Omega; Joan Smith, ChW Sr, Waltham hall.

Miss Brower first modeled a white swimming suit with a brocade pattern in blue. Her formal was blue taffeta and was worn with long white gloves. The party dress was of red taffeta with red velvet panels in the skirt, worn with short white gloves.

SC Puts Teeth in Peace Pact Change

CONGRATS to the Student Council!

They're starting the year off right by at long-last attempt- to put a stop to the vandalism that has up to now, been a symbol of the rivalry between K-State and KU.

The revision of the K-State-KU Peace Pact the Council recently approved includes an automatic dismissal clause that applies to any student caught damaging campus prop- erty—whether it be his own or another campus.

Though KU Chancellor Franklin Murphy and President McCain issued a joint statement last November 3 saying that a student committing vandalism would face dismissal, this is the first time a student governing body of either of the two schools has put its foot down and definitely come out in favor of the dismissal policy.

THE K-STATE Student Council goes even further than the administrator's action. Also included in the proposed revi- sion is a clause stating that the offending student should not be admitted to any other college or university.

These revisions are definitely a step in the right direction, but it remains to be seen if they will be enforced or are merely an addition to the now ridiculed Peace Pact. If they are enforced, it could mean the end of vandalism that caused considerable damage to both campuses last year.

OF COURSE, if they're not enforced, it will have been just a token gesture—good publicity for both schools and not meaning a thing as far as curbing vandalism to another school's campus is concerned.

KU still has to approve the revisions and by its action we'll be able to tell if they want to continue in the old ju- vvenile way of celebrating athletic contests between the two schools by defacing campus buildings and landmarks' or whether they'd prefer to adopt a more sane, less expensive (to the opposing school) way of making their presence known.

LET'S HOPE the KU governing body agrees with our Stu- dent Council and decides the Peace Pact needs a few new sharp teeth. Needless destruction of school property could then be stopped.

Besides, don't you get tired of seeing the statue in front of Fairchild hall of William Alexander Harris all smeared up with KU paint?—Don Marker

Shaw Hits Union Bosses

Colby, (U.P.)—Republican nominee for governor Warren Shaw charged today that union bosses are blocking efforts of the drouth stricken Kansas farmer to improve his financial position through his own initiative.

Shaw, in a campaign appearance along the route of the GOP caravan, said the AFL-CIO teamsters union was largely responsible for defeat of a recent measure in Congress which would have aided the Kansas farmer.

"Recently a bill was introduced in Congress to exempt the farmer from the interstate commerce act and permit him to obtain a pay load for his return trip from a market," Shaw said.

"This would enable the farmer to offset the expense of deadheading his truck on the return trip," Shaw said.

Shaw said union leaders opposed the measure and it was killed in committee.

The GOP candidate has come out strongly for a right to work law for Kansas, while his opponent, George Docking has said he would veto any right to work legislation.

Nixon To Meet Democrat Charges

BY UNITED PRESS
ELIZABETH, N.J., Vice-presi- dent Richard Nixon worked to- day on his answer to Adlai Stevenson's challenge to Presi- dent Eisenhower to lead a move to outlaw the hydrogen bomb.

Nixon announced at Syracuse last night that he will reply to Stevenson in a major foreign policy address at Philadelphia tonight, the last stop on his 16- day tour.

THE WHITE HOUSE has designated Nixon to answer Stevenson, it was learned.

Stevenson, in a speech at Farleigh-Dickinson college yes- terday, said that H-bomb tests could be banned by agreement because any explosion now can be detected easily. He said that he believed Russia wanted to enter such an agreement and added that if they did violate a pact and explode a nuclear bomb, the United States could then resume experiments.

NIXON SAID Stevenson's plan to ban H-bomb tests "is so fraught with terrible peril for America that I required a full considered reply."

"I am confident that the American people will learn that in Mr. Stevenson we have an aspirant to the presidency who is utterly ignorant of simple scientific truths, of the Soviet's history of broken promises and of the awful threat this presents to the safety of the free world," he said.

NIXON ARRIVING in Eliza- beth to deliver the first of three scheduled speeches, planned to campaign three states today. Be- sides his Elizabeth and Philadel- phia speeches, he scheduled a talk in Springfield, Mass., late this afternoon.

His 32-state tour has covered more than 15,000 miles. His aides claim this sets a record for campaigning by one candi- date over such a short time.

Nixon's address tonight at Independence hall, birthplace of the Constitution, was ex- pected to be a detailed defense of the administration foreign policy.

IT WAS EXPECTED to be as rough on Stevenson as the vice- president's day-long attack yes- terday, when he accused the Democratic candidate of "resort- ing to a film-flam game" in campaign tactics.

The vice-president, in speeches at Hartford, Conn., Manchester, N.H., and Syracuse, N.Y., said Stevenson "topped the world's record for demagogery when he attacked the Eisenhower ad- ministration on the cost of liv- ing issue."

"THIS MANUEVER will fall flat on its face because the mil- lions of American housewives who keep the family savings budget can't be fooled by fancy phrases and clever quips," Nixon said.

Pennsylvania Vote Sought by Stevenson

BY UNITED PRESS

Enroute with Stevenson— Adlai E. Stevenson campaigned by train and motorcade through Pennsylvania today trying to nail down the Keystone state's 32 electoral votes.

The democratic presidential nominee will go to Pittsburgh tonight when he will deliver his television "answer" to President Eisenhower's attack on the democrats two days ago.

STEVENSON BOARDED the campaign train at Hoboken, N.J., last night after disclosing his plans for tonight's TV speech in a school auditorium at Jersey City, N.J.

He said that in speeches at Cleveland and Lexington, Ky., Mr. Eisenhower said the elec- tion would turn on which party "has done more to help all citi- zens meet the problems of their daily lives."

"PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has defined the issue," Steven- son said, "and I speak for every Democrat in the country when I say that we accept the issue as he defines it."

"Run down the list of all the measures which have estab- lished the framework of econo- mic security and social welfare within which our competitive system now functions with such success — and ask yourself which one originated with the Republicans," he said.

AFTER A RALLY at Johns- town tonight, Stevenson will en- train for Pittsburgh to deliver his television speech.

Pennsylvania went republican four years ago, but it is one of the populous northern states the democrats are most confident of carrying in this year's election.

Six Organized Houses Have New 'Housemoms' This Fall

Six new faces are seen this fall among the housemothers on the K-State campus.

Mrs. J. I. Hollingsworth, Newton, is the new housemother at the Pi Beta Phi house. She has been housemother at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house at Kansas university for five years.

Mrs. Allen Burch is the new Sigma Nu housemother. This is her first job as a housemother. As she puts it, "I like it very much and think my boys are the best."

"Being a housemother tends to keep me younger," said Mrs. Marie Trego, the new housemother of Chi Omega. "It's a pleasant life, and a person finds a fulfillment in being with young people."

She has been a housemother five years. The last three years she was at the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Kansas university.

The new housemother of Phi Kappa Tau is Mrs. George Imming. Mrs. Imming lives in Marysville. For a time in 1954 she was housemother at the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity house.

The Kappa Delta housemother, Mrs. Hugh C. Kershner, is not likely to run into many new problems with her job since she has had five years experience as a sorority housemother at Missouri university.

"I like working with girls," commented Mrs. Kershner, "and the only problem I have run into at K-State is the hot weather."

Being a mother away from home to 34 boys is a completely different experience for Mrs. Ben

Barr, the new Theta Xi housemother; but she has already found that her job is both busy and interesting.

Beetles, Beetles, Beetles, Beetles, and More Beetles

BY NORMAN HOSTETLER

Beetles! Gold ones, green ones, black ones, red ones, beetles four inches long, beetles a half inch long; beetles of all imaginable colors, shapes, and sizes.

These fascinating little insects now are displayed on the second floor of Fairchild hall. All of the beetles, which are from tropical areas of the world, belong to William Gibson, a graduate student in entomology.

William has been building his collection during the past several years. During this time he has acquired trays of beetles from Africa, the Belgian Congo, Brazil, South America, Central America, North America, Australia, Formosa, and Southeast Asia.

His present collection was made by swapping Kansas insects with collectors in other countries. He also has purchased a few insects directly from dealers.

"One of the greatest advantages of collecting insects is the interesting people you can meet by correspondence," Gibson said. Most of his beetles are acquired through correspondence with persons in other countries.

Some collectors he meets personally, as at the Tenth International Congress of Entomology, which he attended in Montreal in August.

His collection includes elephant beetles, which live in the tropical portions of Central and South America. Some of these beetles, which have massive horns, are among the largest in the world.

Another interesting species is the goliath beetle of Africa. Its distinctive black and white markings resemble those made by African natives when they decorate themselves. The goliath beetle also is the original model airplane. Africans several centuries ago would take this beetle, tie a vine string around it, and fly it in a circle over their heads.

"One of my purposes in collecting an exhibiting these beetles is to point out to people the diversity of insect life as it occurs in the world," Gibson said.

BUSH LEAGUE, OKLA., Sept. 10—Top teams in both major leagues are angling for the services of young Hobbs, the sensational right-and-left-hand pitcher who finished a 12-0 season for his college team and struck out 26 batters in his last game for the Purple Sox, a local semipro outfit. Scouts are amazed at Hobbs' ability to get his slider over the plate occasionally with either hand. Post-game post mortem shows Mickey wearing his new T&K collared pull-over.

Big Ten Teams Dominate U.P. Pigskin Ratings

BY UNITED PRESS

New York—Oklahoma, Michigan State, and Georgia Tech retained the 1-2-3 spots today in the United Press college football ratings, which placed three Big Ten conference powers among the first five teams.

Michigan moved up four places to Number 4 and Ohio State clung to the Number 5 ranking, giving the Big Ten the strongest representation of any conference in the country.

The Southeastern conference also was well-represented, with Mississippi and Tennessee, two newcomers among this week's top 10, in addition to Georgia Tech. Mississippi advanced five notches to eighth, while Tennessee vaulted all the way to 10th from a tie for 23rd last week.

Texas Christian (6th), Pittsburgh (7th) and Southern California (9th) were the other teams in the top 10.

Oklahoma, which turned in its 31st consecutive victory by walloping North Carolina, 36-0, last weekend, was an overwhelming choice for the top spot by the 35 leading coaches who rate the teams weekly for the United Press.

Twenty-five coaches made the Sooners their first choice, giving Bud Wilkinson's men 333 out of a possible 350 points. Although Michigan State also was impressive with a 21-7 triumph over Stanford, Oklahoma's first-place margin over the Spartans widened from 39 to 79 points this week.

The Sooners, rated tops in the nation last year, should have little difficulty making K-State their 32nd straight victory next Saturday.

With points distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places, Michigan State attracted a total of 254 points, Georgia Tech had 228, Michigan 213, Ohio State 200, T.C.U. 142, Pitt 113, Mississippi 96, Southern California 83, and Tennessee 61.

RALPH PFEIFER, Cat fullback, skirts right end looking for a way to break through second string defenders in yesterday's scrimmage.

Grid Practice Slows, Cats Prep for OU

The K-State Wildcats ran through their last full-speed scrimmage work Tuesday night meeting the Oklahoma Sooners on Saturday.

The Cats taper off with running work this afternoon and Thursday before leaving for their second Big Seven game of the season.

Tuesday's practice saw the Cats working on both offense and defense, with the work centered on their passing game and setting a defense for Sooner plays.

This Saturday's journey to Oklahoma will be the second of three consecutive Big Seven conference games on the road for the Cats. K-State started off the conference season last Saturday with a 34-0 loss to Colorado. Nebraska will be the opponent a week from Saturday in Lincoln.

One change was made in the Cat lineup with the switch being made on the second unit. Ben Grosse, 177-pound sophomore, replaced Bill Carrington as fullback on the number two team for Coach Bus Mertes with Chuck Norris moving into the left halfback position to replace Grosse. Grosse had been running at the left halfback spot.

Carrington pulled a leg muscle during the Monday workout and was absent from drills Tuesday.

He is on the doubtful list for action against Oklahoma.

Two other Cats remained on the questionable list for action this week. Chuck Sprinkle, Wildcat center, bruised his shoulder in the game at Colorado Saturday and will probably miss the action on Saturday.

Still limping on the ankle injury that kept him out of the Colorado game is Cat captain and first team guard, Ellis Rainsberger. Rainsberger was injured in the Oklahoma A&M game, K-State's season opener.

Yanks Start Ford, Bums Pick Maglie For Series Opener

Brooklyn, (U.P.)—The favored New York Yankees, bent on revenge, sent out ace left hander Whitey Ford today to prove that the Brooklyn Dodgers' world series victory last year was a fluke.

But old Sal Maglie, baseball's "barber" who shaves them close with his pin-point curve ball, is out to show 'em it wasn't.

Rescued from the game's scrap heap at 39 last May, Maglie went on to become the key factor in Brooklyn's pennant triumph and won a chance to achieve the one ambition he has left—to win a world series game.

The Yankees were 6-5 favorites to win the opening game and a last-minute flood of betting money on them made the American League champion 8-5 favorites to take the series.

With fair weather forecast for the 11 a.m. (CST) starting time, 27-year-old Ford and old "old pro" Maglie were expected to work before a sellout crowd of about 35,000 with President Eisenhower taking time out from his re-election campaign to see these teams clash in a world series for the seventh time.

"This is the day they start separating the men from the boys," peppery Billy Martin, Yank second baseman, prophesied.

Russia Accepts U.S. Invitation To Send Election Observers

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Washington, Oct. 3—Russia has accepted a United States invitation to send Soviet observers to this country to watch the wind-up of the presidential campaign.

Moreover, the Russians said they would welcome similar American visitors to observe Soviet-type campaigning and balloting in their next big election.

Moscow's agreement to send "two or three" observers to the United States was communicated to the American embassy in the Soviet capital last Saturday, the United Press learned.

The State department sent similar invitations about two weeks ago to Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, and Romania. Russia and the satellites were asked to send observers "to view at first hand the free electoral processes in this country."

Arson In Chisox Fire?

Chicago, Oct. 3—Authorities today investigated the possibility of arson in a $100,000 fire at Comiskey Park that roared through a half-block section of the second deck stands and destroyed the press box.

Fire Lt. Walter Reilly, 47, collapsed on the roof of the stands while fighting the extra-alarm blaze late yesterday. Flames shot as high as 40 feet above the stands and were visible from the loop.

Deputy fire marshal Frank Thielman said the blaze started in the press box at the Park, home of the Chicago White Sox baseball team and the Chicago Cardinals professional football team. The Cardinals were working out on the field at the time.

Thielman requested the arson squad to investigate the fire. He said there were "a lot of kids" in the park watching the football team practice.

Ike To Series Opener

President Eisenhower put politics aside today in favor of baseball.

The President interrupted his campaign for re-election in order to see his first world series game and although his trip to New York was billed as non-political many voters will see him.

Mr. Eisenhower's route from LaGuardia airport to Ebbets field was a path through heavily populated Queens Borough that was expected to take 45 minutes to travel.

His plastic dome limousine was driven to New York in advance.

While President Eisenhower is throwing the first ball to Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella, Democratic Vice Presidential candidate Estes Kefauver will be watching the game on television at a ranch five miles from Santa Fe, where he is resting for 24 hours.

70 Seniors Participate In Forum, Field Trip

Thirty-four K-State senior mechanical engineers will be in Kansas City October 8 and 9 to participate in the second Student-Industry forum sponsored by the Kansas City section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The K-State engineers, in groups of seven, will spend a half day visiting each of four industries.

"The forum is organized so that students have an opportunity to talk with and observe the engineers of the various industries, to give them an engineer's view of the industry," according to R. G. Nevins, the group's faculty adviser.

The K-Staters will attend the Kansas City ASME section meeting Monday evening as guests of the members.

C. B. Hosford, chairman of the student branch committee of the Kansas City section, is arranging for the visits with Kansas City industries.

K-State engineering students who will be in Kansas City Monday and Tuesday include: Roger Alexander, Craig Birtell, Robert H. Blaikie, Billy Borland, Elbert Brown, Merrill Bumbaugh, Richard Circle.

Kerry Clifford, K. L. Cornelius, Thomas Crech, Norbert Deneke, Delwyn Dickey, Bruce Ficken, Wilbur Funston, Gene W. Geil, Dwane Goracke.

John McGehee, Paul Miller, Elmer Nelson, C. M. Sheldon, Roy Springer, Gary Trull, Stanley Uyeda, George Vetsch, and Ralph Webb.

Thirty-six K-State seniors in architecture and allied arts left Manhattan yesterday morning on an inspection trip that includes a three-day stay in Dallas.

The architectural students also will visit the University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma A & M campuses enroute to Dallas, according to Theodore A. Chadwick, who is in charge of tour arrangements.

At Dallas, the students will tour contemporary commissioned buildings, including the Statler Hilton hotel, Republic National Bank building, and new Civic auditorium, on Thursday; visit residential work of Frank Lloyd Wright and prominent southwest architects on Friday; and industrial plants, the state fair, aquarium, and museums on Saturday.

Students making the fall inspection trip include: Leon Armantrout, Leroy Bosko, Robert Caraveau, Keith Chrisman, Patrick Donnellan, Don Eberle, Wayne Engelhardt, Donald Gadberry.

Fish Takes Bait

Massena, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Charles McDonough hooked a Great Northern pike in the St. Lawrence River. It gave him quite a tussle. "I'll kiss this fish if I ever land it," he said to a companion. After landing the fish, McDonough kept his word.

The fish bit him in the face.

'Plum' Drunk Fish

Fountain Run, Ky.—(U.P.)—A fish in a pond on his farm had William Hagan worried until he remembered dumping several baskets of plums into the water.

The fruit had fermented and the fish were "plum" drunk, he said.

Distinguished Military Honor Given 8

Eight Army ROTC cadets have been designated distinguished military students by Col. William Harvey, professor of military science and tactics.

Included are: cadet regimental commander, Cadet Col. Ronald Bryant, ME Sr., and regimental executive officer, Cadet Lt. Col. Albert Steunenberg, Geo. Sr. Other cadets designated are: George Berg, TA Sr.; and Robert Cullins, Agr. Sr.

Robert Haymaker, BA Sr.; Jack Van Tilburg, DM Sr.; and Richard Wilson, EE Sr. All of the cadets were presented the distinguished military students badge by Col. Harvey.

Cadets designated as distinguished military students must have demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership and possess high moral standards. They must have attained an academic standing in the upper one-half of their class, and have shown leadership ability through their achievements while participating in recognized campus activities.

These cadets are eligible to apply for appointment as second lieutenant in the regular army.

Advanced AFROTC cadets who are qualified for pilot training may receive four hours of instruction in a link trainer, which will indoctrinate them in radio procedure and in simulated flight maneuvers.

This instruction, in addition to the flight training program to be instituted in March, will help prepare K-State AFROTC graduates for entry into pilot training in the air force.

The trainer is used to help the students become familiar with airplane controls before actually flying.

Here's How to Play TANGLE SCHOOLS

OLD GOLD'S GREAT NEW GAME

A total of 24 puzzles will appear before the Christmas holiday. Get started now in Old Gold's exciting new game for college students only.

Here are the Official Tangle Schools Rules! SAVE THEM!

1. PRIZES (a) P. Lorillard Company, the makers of OLD GOLD CIGARETTES, will award a total of 86 prizes, valued at more than $15,000—to college students in the United States in accordance with the following Official Rules. (See complete list of prizes.) (b) This game will consist of twenty-four (24) monogrammed puzzle drawings to be published in this and other college newspapers; three puzzles each week for eight weeks, and a series of tie-breaking puzzles, if needed, as outlined in rule 2. (c) Contestants must arrange the scrambled letters from each of the 24 monogrammed drawings so that they correctly spell the name of a certain American college or university. In the scrambled drawings there are no superfluous letters, no distortion of letters, and no letters are left out to confuse or mislead entrants. A clue will be furnished with each drawing to help identify the correct answer to the puzzle.

2. (a) The person complying with all the rules of the game and solving the highest number of puzzles correctly will be declared the winner of the first prize, a 40-day tour of the world for two persons—the winner and another person of his choosing or, at the option of the winner, the first prize shall consist of $5,000 to be paid to the winner. The person complying with all the rules of the game and solving the second highest number of puzzles correctly will be declared the winner of the second prize. In like manner, the winners of the remaining 84 prizes will be determined. (b) In case more than one person solves correctly the same number of puzzles, the prize tied for, and as many subsequent prizes as there are persons tied, will be reserved and those so tying will be required to solve a set of tie-breaking puzzles, to determine the order in which the reserved prizes will be awarded. Each of the tie-breaking puzzles will be comprised of scrambled letters forming the names of either one, two or three American colleges or universities. Clues with each puzzle drawing will indicate whether the puzzle contains one, two or three schools to be identified. If, after solutions have been submitted to this second set of puzzles, a tie or ties still remain, those tied will be required to solve another tie-breaking puzzle. Accompanying this tie-breaker will be an official list of American colleges and universities. From these, contestants will make up a list of schools and colleges in accordance with instructions to be given at that time. The contestant earning the highest score in so doing will be awarded the highest of the prizes tied for. The next highest prize will be awarded the contestant earning the second highest score and so on down through the reserved prizes that have been tied for. These tie-breaking puzzles, if necessary, will be mailed to each contestant.

P. Lorillard Company reserves the right (only in the event of further tie or ties) to require contestants to solve as many tie-breaking puzzles under supervision, and without assistance, as are necessary to determine a single winner for each prize.

3. NOTE (a) When entrants have completed solutions to the complete set of 24 initial puzzles, which are to be published three per week in this paper, the solutions are to be printed or typewritten by the entrant in the answer space provided on the puzzle (or a reasonable facsimile). The complete set of 24 puzzles must be answered, neatly trimmed and enclosed in an envelope, flat and not rolled and addressed to:—Tangle Schools, P. O. Box 26A, Mount Vernon 10, N. Y., and mailed bearing a postmark not later than December 19, 1956. Decorated, pasted or embellished puzzles are not permitted. Each set of 24 puzzles must be accompanied by a wrapper from any type OLD GOLD CIGARETTE package—(REGULAR, KING-SIZE OR FILTER KINGS) or a reasonable facsimile thereof. (b) More detailed instructions on the mailing of completed sets of puzzles will be published later. No solutions are to be sent in separately. Save the puzzles and your solutions so that they may be submitted as a complete set at the end of the game. Entrants are not limited as to the number of complete sets of Solutions. However, each set must be submitted individually, and only one prize will be awarded to any one entrant. (c) After the deadline for mailing solutions, the correct answers to all 24 puzzles will be published in a single issue of this paper. Each contestant must keep an accurate record of all solutions and check his answers with the published correct answers.

4. WHO MAY ENTER: (a) This game is open to all bona fide college students in the United States; that is, persons who, at the time of entering, are duly registered in an accredited college or university within the continental boundaries of the United States, except that the game is not open to students whose immediate families are employed by P. Lorillard Company or its advertising agencies. Contest is subject to all State and Federal regulations. (b) Contestants may, if they prefer, make copies of the puzzles by hand. Copies of the puzzles and of OLD GOLD cigarette wrappers reproduced by a multiple process such as carbon paper or mimeograph are not acceptable. Entrants who want back puzzles and copy of Official Rules may obtain them by addressing their request to Tangle Schools Back Puzzles, P. O. Box 9, Grand Central Annex, New York 17, N. Y., enclosing 5¢ in payment for each puzzle desired and/or rules, together with a STAMPED SELF-ADDRESSED envelope. (c) Prior to receiving a prize each winner may be required to sign an affidavit certifying that he or she is eligible to compete in accordance with rule 4-a; that he or she has not bought, sold or exchanged the puzzle solutions and is not acting for, either by proxy or in collaboration with, any person who is not qualified to participate under the rules.

5. METHOD OF JUDGING: Decision of the judges is final and contestants so agree upon entering the game. Solutions to the puzzles will be judged on correctness, including the spelling of the names. All entries become the property of P. Lorillard Company. None will be returned. P. Lorillard Company cannot be responsible for any solutions unduly delayed or lost in the mails; this also applies to mail from the P. Lorillard Company to any contestant. On entering the game, each contestant accepts the foregoing rules as binding. P. Lorillard Company reserves the right to disqualify any entrants not conforming. Evidence indicating collusion by or ineligibility of contestants will automatically disqualify such contestants. P. Lorillard Company reserves the right to correct any typographical errors or other errors which may appear in any published matter in connection with this game. P. Lorillard Co., insofar as publication of puzzles is concerned, is responsible only for submitting material for publication to newspapers involved.

The Lederle fellowship is awarded to stimulate graduate and undergraduate research in animal diseases. The fellowship is awarded on the basis of scholarship, need, and interest in animal research. This is the second year the award has been given at K-State.

The Borden award is given to the individual who has made the highest academic record during the entire first six semesters of the professional curriculum of veterinary medicine. Asmus made a 2.721 grade average during these six semesters. This is the 11th annual presentation of the award at K-State.

Runners-up in the Borden award were Brian C. Cummings, VM Sr, from Albany, N.Y., and Franklin J. Heim, VM Jr, from Manhattan.

The awards were made by E. E. Leasure, dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine.
